FROM THE EDITORS

By: Marge Kristall/Lot #1523....727-474-5737

& Terry Lapierre-McGuire/Lot #671....727-510-2022 or email - Mkvoice@tampabay.rr.com

Over the last month we have been approached in -person and via e-mail by several members of the Community to write an article about Courtesy. We address this as more of a definition of Common Courtesy and some of the common Courtesies we have all come to perform and expect in life. Our objective is not to “preach” but to inform.

The Cambridge Dictionary defines Common Courtesy as “the basic level of politeness that you expect from someone.”

Why does Common Courtesy matter? – as of late people have focused a lot of attention on elevating culture and identifying the old traditions we can leave behind. While some people might lump common courtesy in that bunch, it’s actually just as important today as it was hundreds of years ago.

Common Courtesy

- It Sets a Positive Tone – at the end of the day, everyone wants to treat others with respect and kindness, and knowing common courtesy shorthand lets you do that in a language other people understand. Being courteous to strangers from the start can set a positive tone for any future interactions you have.
- It Keeps Social Order – Sure, we all walk through life abiding by bigger laws of the land, but for the everyday stuff, we can only rely on common courtesy to get us through. Without some kind of established behavior profile, every public interaction would end in chaos. Just imagine trying to get on the train without everyone knowing not to crowd the entrance, not to shove, and to make room for people getting off.
- It’s a Quick Way to Show Respect – Practicing common courtesy is just another way that we can show respect for other people. Being polite makes sharing a common space comfortable. You can’t avoid dealing with others, so you might as well make them feel welcome.
- Put positive energy into the world – Do you remember the last time someone entered a room and lifted the energy of everyone present? You can be that person, too. Sharing positive energy is a great sign of courtesy.
- Don’t judge a book by its cover – start judging people on their qualities and not their external appearance.

Here are 10 easy ways to Practice Common Courtesy in your Everyday Life.

1. Help people pick up things they dropped.
2. Ask someone struggling if they need help - helping that “short” person get something off the top shelf.
3. Be kind on the phone, even when you’re angry – having to deal with call centers to solve a problem can raise anyone’s blood pressure, but the disrespectful thing to do is start screaming at the worker on the line. They’re just doing a job, and it’s important to treat them with care and kindness. Just a tip. Before you get on that call make sure you have all the information, they may need to ask you for at your fingertips. Saves you a lot of frustration.

4. Open or hold the door for someone.
5. Let Someone merge when you're driving – there is literally nowhere you need to be that's worth playing chicken on the road just to keep yourself one car length ahead of someone trying to merge into your lane. If they've got their turn signal on, let them go ahead. Common courtesy doesn't stop when you click in your seatbelt.
6. Apologize when you bump into someone.
7. Say Thank you – it goes without saying, but the common courtesy you can use almost every day is saying "Thank you". It takes seconds to acknowledge someone's hard work and effort, but the impact it has is huge.
8. Don't Stand right in front of the Elevator doors – remember there are people needing to get off the elevator.
9. Acknowledge everyone in the Group – if you run into a friend and they've got someone with them, make sure you give them a nod and say hi. You might feel uncomfortable greeting a stranger, but it's way more uncomfortable acting like they don't exist when they're right in front of you.
10. Stay to help clean up – the polite thing to do when you're invited to someone else's event is to stay after it's over and help clean up. They might shoo, you on your way but it's your gesture that makes all the difference.

Here we are ready to say goodbye to all our northern friends. We hope you have a good summer and stay safe. It has been a remarkably busy year and I want to say thank you for supporting all the events we had this year.

We have the Big Red Bus (Blood mobile) coming on the 23rd of April from 10AM to 2PM. They will supply us with a form you can fill out in advance prior to donating blood. There is a shortage of all blood types. Hope we get as great a turn out for blood donors as we had for our February 2024 drive. Availability of forms and bus location will be posted in the mailroom and on FYI Lincolnshire as soon as it is available.

Officer Keith Bowling from Largo Police Department spoke at our March 5th, Coffee Hour. He updated us on recent police calls to our Community from February of this year, also updated us on the "current" scams that we need to be aware of and spoke about resident security assessments and lock box program that can be provided by the Largo PD. Check our "Living at Largo" section of the April Voice for more information about the lockbox program.

Officer Bowling will be coming back to Lincolnshire. He has asked if he could attend our Coffee Hour once a month to bring us up to date on any information that can be beneficial to our community. As of this writing Officer Bowling is scheduled to attend our Coffee Hour on April 24th.

I would like to say thank you to Teri Thara for all the great laughs she provides for us at our coffee hours. Teri does many kind and thoughtful things for the people in and outside of our community. She has a heart of gold and I think she would help anyone, so please when you see her just smile and wave. We have many people in this community that perform many acts of kindness for their neighbors. Please, if you see something say something.

With residents leaving this month and in May we might be able to go back to help yourself to coffee like we do every summer. The Resident’s Club is ready to start our new fiscal year, April 1st. We hope we have a successful and fun year through March 31st, 2025. Please remember to check on your neighbors and stay safe.

There's No Place Like Home

Lincolnshire Community is the place that I call home.
So, I thought that I would Brag a little and put it in a poem.
We have monthly Dances, and you are welcome to kick up your Heels.
Or maybe you would rather take part in our Delicious Potluck Meals.
If Shuffleboard is to your liking pushing a waxed puck down the lane.
Just give Kathy Burk a call and the rules she will gladly explain.
Can't forget the Nit Wits because they Truly Care.
Making Baby Hats and Blankets to which they gladly share.
Midweek Morning Coffee, we always Laugh and Chat.
Or maybe win some money or pull your ticket from a Hat.
There's also cards and Yoga and we have Bowling too, or
Men's and Women's golfing if that's a better fit for you.
The people here are Friendly if there's a need, just make a call.
It's just another reason why I think, Lincolnshire has it All.

ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

By: Teri Jones..... (#210.....269-207-0466)

Well, after much thought and discussion with my husband, I have decided not to do any more functions at Lincolnshire. APRIL FOOLS!!

We had Karaoke on March 2nd and not many people showed up. Not to say we did not have fun because we did. Are people getting tired of having karaoke as regularly as we do? Let me know (teri.jones1956@live.com) and we can always make an adjustment.

March 8th, we had the Outdoor Cornhole Tournament. What a blast!! We played from 2 pm until shortly after 5 pm and had a nail-biting finish. First place on the regulation boards went to Irv Bottom & Joe Arena; second place went to Duane Burger and Joe Thompson. A great last game. On the Novice board, Doris Bottom and Rhonda Arena won. Did you notice that two husband and wife teams won? I think they have been practicing. Second place on the Novice board went to Sharry Svoboda and Sandy Girard. We had five raffle winners at $21 each won by Marina, Linda, Samantha, Bob, and Dennis.

There is still a dance and comedy show yet to go in March, as well as I Got It, Monster Bingo, cards, aerobics, and so much more to do here in Lincolnshire. If you cannot find something to do, you are not looking extremely hard.

Our last dance of the season is April 6th with Brittney Moni'. You do not want to miss her. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at Wednesday coffee hour, from Linda Casey, or at the door.

I know some of our northern friends are trickling out of the park and heading home. We will miss you. Stay safe and make sure you come home to your Lincolnshire friends!

CAUGHT YA' DOIN' SOMETHIN'GOOD

By: Lulu Roemer Lot# 359 (814) 504-8552

A huge thank you to Pete & Marge Kristall for their work on the Dial Directories. As a Block Captain, I truly appreciate the organization of it all, I am sure we all did! Also, thanks to Marge Kristall and Terry LaPierre-McGuire, for their Editorship of the Voice. As a contributor to the newsletter, the transition was seamless and it too has been very organized. Thank you so much for all you do.

Living in Largo

Thought we would tell you about some of the events available to you as residents of the City of Largo.

City of Largo Police Department Residential Security Assessment program. Free service provided by Largo PD officers that have been certified in Residential Home Security and Crime Prevention. The consultation takes approximately thirty (30) minutes, and the resident must be present at the time of the inspection.

This program was presented to Lincolnshire residents at Coffee Hour on March 6th, 2024 by Officer Keith Bowling. Part of this security assessment may find you eligible to receive the installation of a “free” lock box to assist in the event of a 911 emergency calls, when you are unable to open your house door for the emergency personnel. The lock box stores your house key and the code assigned is maintained by the emergency dispatch system to notify responders about the lockbox. Remember if you place a 911 call and the emergency responders cannot get into your home, they will break down the door. If you are interested in setting up a Residential Security Assessment, please e-mail Officer Keith Bowling at kbowling@largo.com. Don't forget to give him your name, our community name, phone# and your Lot#.

Welcome April. We do love the longer daylight hours. I do not know about you but my internal clock the week after the time change was really upside down. Waking up way before I should have, trying to gain back some of those hours by going to bed a little earlier about drove me crazy. Hopefully as I write this the internal clock is getting back to normal.

April is a month that typically symbolizes the renewal of growth and awakening of nature's vibrant energies. It is marked by the blossoming of flowers, and trees after winter's months. April, the month of spring and new beginnings, also offers a chance to find joy in life's simple pleasures. The importance of balance and harmony in life and encourages creativity and innovations. Enjoy April.

April 2024

Days to look for in April.

April 1st – All Fools Day. - A day I am sure we have all fallen prey to over the years by some of our family members and friends.

April 5th – National Walking Day – The American Heart Association sponsors this day to remind people about the health benefits of taking a walk.

April 7th – No Housework Day – Put down the laundry and toss out the to-do list. Give yourselves a break, meaning that for one day at least, you do not need to worry about the housework.

April 20th – Volunteer Recognition Day – There are so many folks that give of their time and energy in this world to help make it a better place to live. Great day to say thanks to all the wonderful volunteers we have here at Lincolnshire.

April 28th – Pay it Forward Day – encourages us to collectively perform random acts of kindness in a bid to pay forward some of the kindness we may have been shown in the past.

VETERAN'S CORNER

Bob Behm..Lot# 775...401-207-9317

Time To Contact the VA

Millions of U.S. veterans will be eligible beginning March 5 for health care with the Department of Veterans Affairs under an accelerated effort to provide benefits and services to those exposed to toxic substances while serving. The VA announced Monday that all veterans who have served in a combat zone since the Vietnam War, as well as those who participated in training or operations and came into contact with hazardous materials, will be able to enroll in VA health care.

The expansion of health care benefits was mandated by the PACT Act, signed into law by President Joe Biden in August 2022, which required the expansion to occur by 2032. VA officials said last month the acceleration is a result of a hiring blitz made possible by provisions in the law. "If you're a veteran who may have been exposed to toxins or hazards while serving our country, at home or abroad, we want you to come to us for the health care you deserve," VA Secretary Denis McDonough said Monday in a release.

Under the PACT Act, more than 100,000 veterans have enrolled in VA health care and roughly 760,000 disability claims have been approved. VA officials did not detail exactly how many veterans now will be eligible for care under the expansion but said the figure is in the "millions." "Beginning March 5, we're making millions of veterans eligible for VA health care years earlier than called for by the PACT Act," VA Under Secretary for Health Dr. Shereef Elnahal said. "We want to bring all of these veterans to VA for the care they've earned and deserve." The expansion allows all veterans who deployed to combat zones in support of the Vietnam, Persian Gulf, Iraq, and Afghanistan wars to enroll in VA health care.

In addition, veterans who never deployed but were exposed to pollutants while participating in a known "toxic exposure risk activity," or TERA, either in the U.S. or abroad, will be eligible. That would include exposure while on active duty, active-duty training or inactive-duty training to: air pollutants from burn pits, particulate matter, sulfur or oil well fires; chemicals such as pesticides, herbicides, contaminated water or depleted uranium from embedded shrapnel; occupational hazards such as lead, industrial solvents, toxic paint, asbestos and firefighting foam; radiation, including nuclear weapons handling, maintenance and detonation, X-rays and occupational exposure; and chemical or biological weapons or nerve agents.

According to the VA, the department will use service records and other resources to determine whether a veteran participated in a TERA. Veterans are not required to have a service-connected disability or file a compensation claim to be eligible for VA care. New enrollees will have access to a toxic exposure screening provided by their primary care physician and may be referred to specialty care depending on need, Elnahal said during a call with reporters last month.

They also will be assessed for placement in the VA's priority-based health system and referred to the Veterans Benefits Administration if they qualify for additional benefits. Priority group placement determines whether a veteran is required to make copayments for appointments or prescriptions, depending on treatment or the medications. During a press conference Monday, Elnahal said that, by law, veterans receiving treatment for exposure-related illnesses will not make copayments for appointments related to that care.

"This is a real economic benefit opportunity for veterans but also a clinical benefit," Elnahal said. The Veterans Health Administration has set a goal to hire 52,000 employees this fiscal year, which, when factoring in attrition, should grow its workforce by 3%. Elnahal said the increases could help to absorb new patients, meet demand, and standardize -- or even improve -- wait times.

"Challenges abound with hiring for every single health care system, so we are not complacent at all," Elnahal said. "We're continuing to make the changes we need to make the hiring process better and faster."

The VA is encouraging veterans to apply for care or benefits by visiting the VA.gov/PACT website or calling 1-800-MYVA411.

Last month the article centered on the use and merits of the newest obesity, weight loss and diabetic medications. This month let us look at the other side of the coin, necessary precautions. These meds are not for everybody.

None takes the place of proper meal planning, well placed exercise using the calories from eating which are readily available for use by all our cells. Not stored in fat cells.

The weight loss versions of semaglutide (Wegovy) and tirzepatide (Zepbound) are FDA approved to treat people with obesity, not those looking to shed a few pounds. Obesity is a chronic disease that is relapsing (and) that requires long-term treatment. When used for this purpose only results can be remarkable and observable. These prescribed medications are often expensive and the top co-pay tier in our pharmacy plans if covered at all.

This is how these prescribed medications work. These medications suppress appetite. Feeling full too quickly or feeling sick after only eating a little can disconnect a person from their innate hunger and fullness cues. Like having an early alarm system on eating.

We need to nourish throughout the day to have the energy to do with our body and minds what we want to do. The downside is not eating enough essential foods for energy and bodily requirements. Am I eating enough? Monitoring by our health/medical team is critical.

They have not been FDA approved for treating binge eating disorder which is a complex mix of behavioral pressures.

While these therapies seem close to magic bullets, they are not without gastrointestinal side effects like nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, and constipation. These symptoms are related to how the drugs work to slow down the gastrointestinal tract. Other more severe, but rare, side effects include pancreatitis and irreversible gastroparesis, or inflammation of the pancreas and stomach paralysis.

These drugs can also lead to a loss of healthy lean muscle mass in addition to fat, particularly in the absence of exercise. Significant weight gain after stopping the drugs unless there is a supportive nutrition and exercise plan. Along with an appearance issue: sagging skin. How do we then get back to using diet and exercise to maintain weight loss or maintain our weight goal?

The benefits of prescription weight-loss drugs for people with obesity often override the risks, but compounded formulations of the medications that have not gone through the thorough FDA certification can cause big problems. The alterations of the FDA approved medications are promoted in media advertisements as if they were truly legitimate.
