President's Corner

Don Fitzsimmons

Hello to All,

A beautiful fall day here in Ohio as I write this.

All things reported to me have the park in good shape. Escaped the recent storm Hermine with only damage to south fence and some landscaping.

A dead tree blew over from Deerwood doing the damage. We are working on getting that cleared and damage repaired.

I believe an awning was torn at unit 58 also.

Have talked to several in park and find they are ready for snowbirds to return soon. With about 20 units occupied in park they are scattered and have had enough of the quiet and tranquility of the summer life.

Really nothing else to report at this time so you all take care, get you planning done for your return to your second home soon and take time to smell the roses.

Editor's Corner

Roz and Brian Bogoslawski

We are always looking for pictures from the different park activities and events. They can be sent to me as a TIFF. or JPG. file, also include the event or function along with the names of the people in the picture.

Please forward all newsletter material to: editor.bocaciega@gmail.com

All reports and any articles of interest for the newsletter must be emailed or mailed and received by the 14th of the month.

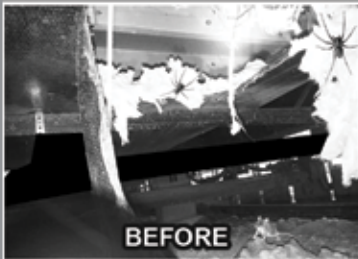

Thank You.

It's a sure sign that summer is over when Labor Day passes and the kids are back in school. All the fall decorations are put out and the Cider Mills are all open for business. The days are a little cooler and the nights cool down so its great sleeping weather. Now, the days are getting longer and the leaves are beginning to display their beautiful array of colors. There is definitely the feel of Autumn in the air.

Once again Boca Ciega was spared and there was no serious damage from Hurricane Hermine. The streets were flooded up to the grass which is normal for any good rain in Florida. Mary and Bill Lawrence's other awning was torn and a tree had fallen in Ron and Kim Arsenault's yard but that was the extent of Hermine's wrath. There must be something to that legend that our Park is located on ancient Indian burial grounds. Whatever the reason Boca Ciega is very fortunate to escape serious damage. After the storm there was quite a bit of palm fronds and debris scattered around. Thanks to everyone who picked up and worked to keep the park looking great. The park is nice and green after all the rain.

Because of Hermine and all the rain there was no celebration in the park for Labor Day. Everyone rested and no one took responsibility for putting on a arty. Times change and traditions don't always have to continue. With Hermine flexing her muscles that weekend it was probably best for everyone to stay in and be safe.

News and Notes

- Tom Logan has finished his chemo sessions and is feeling very well. He has to wait to see when the doctor will release him to come down to Florida. He wishes to thank everyone for the calls and cards he received while he was ill.
- Ralph Crudo is home from the hospital and Mary and Bill Lawrence are helping him while he gets stronger. We wish him well and need to keep him in prayer.
- Sam and Lucy Ciresi both took a tumble and are feeling the effects of not being as young as they use to be. We pray they will both bounce back and be able to return to Florida.
- Terry Maegdlin had cataract surgery and prayers go out for her recovery.
- As of this letter I do not have a date yet for my cataract surgery. There was a hic up with some additional problems so the surgery is delayed. Hopefully, by the next newsletter it will be all set.

As always be healthy and stay safe.

COFFEE KLATCH

Mary Finke

The coffee klatch at the clubhouse will resume on Saturday November 5, 2016. The coffee will be ready at 8:30 am (bring your favorite mug). After socializing with your neighbors for a bit, the bell will ring at 9:00 signaling that it is time to partake of the goodies.

A basket is on the table for donations ($1).

After dining you can learn about the following:

- Activities
- Birthdays and anniversaries (be prepared for singing)
- New residents in the park
- Updates on our ailing neighbors

You may even hear a joke or two. Bring some extra cash as we will close with the 50/50 raffle.

Pick your favorite date(s) to host coffee klatch as the list is posted for all the available dates. If you have never hosted and would like to, there is a briefcase with all the information you need. The best way to learn is to offer to assist someone who has signed up to host. Remember Coffee Klatch can be as simple or as creative as you wish to make it.

SEE YOU THERE FOR A WELCOME BACK CELEBRATION!!!!!!!!!!!!

A little boy was playing one day with a very valuable vase. When he put his hand inside it and couldn't draw it back out, he called for his mother. His mother tried gently to slide his hand free, but it remained stuck.

She was ready to break the vase when she said, "OK, let's try one more time, Open your hand and hold your fingers out straight, and then pull."

"Oh, no, mommy!" the boy cried. "If I do that, I'll drop my penny!"

Did you know that October is also...

Italian-American Heritage Month. The goal of Italian-American Heritage Month is to inform the public about the contributions made by Italians and Italian-Americans, especially in the arts, the humanities, and the sciences, and to celebrate the impact that Italian culture and language have had on the United States.

National Bullying Prevention Month. A campaign held during October, uniting communities nationwide to educate about and raise awareness of bullying prevention, National Bullying Prevention Month is recognized in communities across the United States, with hundreds of schools and organizations signing on as partners.

National Cybersecurity Awareness Month. The internet touches almost all aspects of everyone's daily life, whether we realize it or not. National Cybersecurity Awareness Month is intended to engage and educate public and private sector partners through events and initiatives with the goal of raising awareness about cybersecurity and increasing the resiliency of the nation in the event of a cyber incident.

National Walk Your Dog Week, Oct. 1-7. According to the American Veterinary Medical Association, more than 40 percent of dogs—a total of about 17 million—in the United States are overweight. Walking your dog just 30 minutes a day helps both of you maintain a healthy weight and a good heart.

Earth Science Week, Oct. 9-16. This year's Earth Science Week celebrates the theme, "Our Shared Geoheritage"—the collection of natural wonders, landforms, and resources that have formed over eons and come to this generation to manage, use, and conserve effectively.

Free Speech Week, Oct. 16-22. A yearly event to raise public awareness of the importance of free speech in our democracy and to celebrate that freedom. Express your right to free speech by posting a message online, composing a poem, writing a letter to the editor, or whatever works best for you.

National Massage Therapy Awareness Week, Oct. 23-29. Research suggests that symptoms of stress, anxiety and depression may be ameliorated with massage therapy. Athletes at all stages have also benefited from massage therapy. By combining your exercise routine with a massage therapy treatment, you will be able to train longer and harder and make the most of your workout.

World Animal Day, Oct. 4. An international day of action for animal rights and welfare, celebrated annually on the feast day of Francis of Assisi, the patron saint of animals.

National Chess Day, Oct. 8. Play a game that sharpens your mind, challenges your intellect, and brings you closer together with other people.

Columbus Day, Oct. 10. Observed on the second Monday of October to commemorate Christopher Columbus's arrival on the North American continent on Oct. 12, 1492.

Ada Lovelace Day, Oct. 18. Considered one of the world's first female computer programmers, Ada Lovelace helped develop an early predecessor of the modern computer in the 19th century.

Halloween, Oct. 31. Trick or treat!

Skin cancer risk—your feet

You probably know to check the areas of your skin that get the most exposure to sunlight for symptoms of melanoma, but don't neglect the rest of your body. The WebMD website reports that skin cancer can develop on the soles of people's feet, particularly the spots that get the most stress from walking or running. Those areas include the ball of the foot, the side of the arch, and particularly the heel.

Melanoma on the sole of the foot is rare, accounting for just 2.4 cases per million for Caucasian Americans and 2.2 per million among African-Americans. However, because most of us don't think to check our feet for signs of cancer, it's often very advanced when discovered. So don't forget your feet when examining your skin.

Sea sponge could hold key to fighting deadly infections

MRSA (methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus) is a bacterial infection that kills an average of 11,000 patients every year in the United States. But scientists now believe they've discovered an Antarctic sea sponge that produces a chemical compound capable of stopping it.

According to the UPI website, researchers studying the defense mechanisms of sea sponges—as well as algae and underwater invertebrate organisms—found the compound, named darwinolide, in Dendrilla membranosa. It works by penetrating MRSA's protective biofilm, a coating of proteins, carbohydrates, and DNA that current antibiotics can't get through.

Harvesting the sponges from the sea floor is neither practical nor environmentally sound, so the scientists are looking for a way to produce the compound synthetically. Fortunately, UPI states, most chemical compounds found in nature can be reproduced in the lab by chemists.

Poison found on ancient arrowheads

Primitive humans may have hunted prey with poison-tipped arrows at least 13,000 years ago, according to an article on the Sci-News website. Archeologists in eastern Africa uncovered several artifacts made from bone in the Kuumbi Cave—implements that included five slender projectile points. The cave also held traces of ancient charcoal from the Mkunazi plant, which has poisonous fruit.

Ancient humans probably used poison-tipped arrows of bone because stone-tipped arrows and spears didn't have the stopping power to take down large prey like zebras or buffalo.

Go for the quick laugh

Jokes don't have to be longwinded. Try these one-liners out on your friends:

- I sold my vacuum cleaner—all it was doing was gathering dust.
- I give all my dead batteries away—free of charge.
- I hate elevators, so I take steps to avoid them.
- I know a man who drinks brake fluid. But he says he can stop any time.
- When will all the rhetorical questions end?
- Women really should not have children after 35. After all, 35 children are enough.
- It's hard to explain puns to kleptomaniacs because they always take things literally.
- A hard-boiled egg in the morning is hard to beat.
- There are only 10 types of people in the world—those who understand binary and those who don't.

Hot tip

A man was watching TV one night when his wife walked up behind him and smacked him on the back of the head with a newspaper.

“What was that for?” he demanded.

“I was doing the laundry and I found a piece of paper folded up in your back pocket with the name ‘Carol Anne’ written on it,” she said.

“Oh, honey,” the man said. “I was at the track the other day and a guy gave me a hot tip on a horse named ‘Carol Anne.’ I won $50.”

Unconvinced, the wife said, “All right, then,” and went back to the laundry.

Two nights later the husband was watching TV again when the phone rang. A minute later, his wife walked up behind him and once again hit him with the newspaper. “What are you doing?”

“The phone call? That was your horse.”

Get your imagination going when you paint

You don't have to be a Picasso to find satisfaction and enjoyment in creating art. When you're searching for ideas or subjects to paint, consider these approaches:

- Seek inspiration. Spend some looking at art—paintings, sculpture, drawings. Listen to music to stimulate your creative juices.
- Start small. If you're hesitant, or blocked, don't tackle a big art project. Start with something small and easy. Work on one section of a painting you're planning, and don't think of the rest of the project. You'll accomplish something concrete, and your success may give you the momentum you need to continue.
- Switch things around. If you usually paint or draw horizontally, switch to vertical. Instead of painting what you see, paint what you feel. If you draw with your right hand, try switching to your left. A small change can make a big difference.
- Try an exercise. Pick a common saying: "Once in a blue moon," for instance. Draw or paint what the saying means to you. What kind of rare occurrence springs to your mind? How would the world look under blue moonlight? Choose other clichés and catchphrases to illustrate, and you'll keep your perceptions sharper.

Fear criticism? Do it anyway

The cliché that you can't please everyone is a simple lesson on dealing with criticism. You'll always have detractors, so you may as well follow your heart and do what's right.

That's what Julia Butterfly Hill learned. Hill made headlines a couple of years ago when she climbed into a California redwood and lived there for two years to protest logging in the ancient woods. After she came down, she wrote a book about her experience, The Legacy of Luna (Luna is the name she gave to her tree home).

Then came publicity—and criticism from loggers whose livelihood she was curtailing and environmentalists who accused her of selling out.

"For every action, there's an equal and opposite criticism," Hill said. So do it anyway.

Check medical bills with care

Dealing with health insurance claims can be frustrating and time-consuming. Multiple bills from different departments for what seems like one medical procedure can baffle even the most organized consumer. The key is to keep track of insurance claims and keep detailed records. Follow this advice:

- Review records. Verify that the medical provider has the correct billing information. Also, check the identification or group number of your insurance plan on claim forms.
- Follow up to be sure the claim is being processed. Contact the provider or insurer after receiving a bill to confirm receipt. Write down the names of everyone you speak to, noting the date of the call and any available confirmation numbers.
- Verify all the expenses. Check to see if you are being billed twice. Similarly, verify that the contracted rate between the insurer and the provider is actually what you are being billed for.

Revamp your finances to save more money

If you can figure out how to save just $125 per month, then set up an automatic savings to a mutual fund that yields an average of 7 percent, in five years you will have almost $9,000. In 20 years, that amount will have grown to $65,000! Here are four suggestions for coming up with that $125 per month:

- Look at your cable TV bill. Do you need all those channels? You can roll your bill back by getting rid of premium channels or subscribing to a smaller, cheaper package.
- Stop picking up magazines from the supermarket or newsstand. Save yourself some money by reading online or subscribing to your favorite magazine instead. And if you're subscribing to anything you don't read, cancel it.
- Change your cell service. Shopping around can get you a better deal that will save you bucks. Just make sure you won't be penalized for breaking a contract early.
- Call your credit card company. You may be able to get a lower interest rate just by asking.

Gas giant found orbiting two stars could host life

A Jupiter-size planet in the habitable zone of two suns may have moons capable of supporting life, scientists say. Kepler-1647b is 3,700 light-years from Earth, and its two parent stars are about the size and age of our sun. It's a gas giant without a solid surface, the largest planet discovered in a two-star system, and it orbits the stars in 1,107 days.

As the MSN website reports, almost half of all sun-like stars discovered exist in binary systems. Most of their planets are closer to the size of Saturn and circle relatively closer to their parent stars, not in the zone where liquid water could exist. The discovery of Kepler-1647b by the Kepler space telescope suggests that other such Tatooine-like worlds (after Luke Skywalker's home in the Star Wars movies) could be waiting elsewhere in the universe.

Volcanoes on Mars? Maybe

The Curiosity rover has made an unexpected discovery on Mars that's making scientists re-examine what they know about the history of the red planet.

As reported on the ScienceDaily website, Curiosity drilled into a rock at a location on the Martian landscape known as "Buckskin," collecting powder that was analyzed by X-ray diffraction. Scientists identified the powder as tridymite, a silicate mineral.

What's surprising? Tridymite is associated with volcanism—which wasn't thought to be a feature of Mars. The discovery has scientists wondering whether active volcanoes were at one time present on Mars despite its lower temperature. Mars, it seems, is still full of surprises.

Science is not about control. It is about cultivating a perpetual condition of wonder in the face of something that forever grows one step richer and subtler than our latest theory about it. It is about reverence, not mastery.

Try these tips for better napping

Sleep is important to your health, and regular naps can make a positive difference. One Harvard study found that people who nap at least three times a week for a half hour or more have a much lower risk of heart disease. Other studies suggest that a 40-minute nap can improve performance on the job.

So what's the best way to nap? The Science of Us website summarized the findings of different studies. First, try to sleep for at least an hour to get a deeper sleep, even though shorter naps have positive benefits as well. Second, lie down for your nap; you'll wake up feeling more alert than if you sleep sitting up in a chair.

Finally, nap in the morning if possible. You're more likely to get REM sleep because your brain still craves it from the night before. Although, on the other hand, afternoon naps tend to be more restorative and improve memory.

Chest pain? Worry—but don't panic

You're having chest pains. Should you rush to the hospital? Although you shouldn't ignore the pains, don't panic. According to an article on the Medline Plus website, fewer than 6 percent of chest pains are symptoms of a heart attack. That's the good news. The bad news is that doctors usually can't determine the cause of chest pains, and they can be evidence of a serious illness.

Researchers studied a database containing records of emergency room visits, looking at 11,000 cases of chest pain unrelated to other trauma. They found that only 5.5 percent of patients suffered from life-threatening ailments. The most common diagnosis was simply "non-specific chest pain," accounting for more than five in 10 patients complaining of discomfort.

Chest pains cause more than 8 million trips to emergency rooms each year, second only to abdominal pains.

Heart health improving for Americans

Americans are taking better care of their hearts, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. According to a study published in the American Journal of Preventive Medicine, the rate of heart disease in Americans over 40 dropped to 8 percent in 2011-12, down from 10 percent in 2001-02. Among Americans 60 and older, the rate dropped from 19.5 percent to 15 percent in the same time frames. The researchers found no significant change either way in Americans 40-59 years old, however.

One factor influencing the improvement was having access to health insurance, according to the study. Better management of risk factors like high blood pressure, cholesterol, smoking, weight, and diabetes probably contributed to the decline, the report suggested.
