A BIG THANK YOU

The Boca Ciega Family would like to extend a BIG THANK YOU to Betty Cerny and her daughter Noreen for taking pictures of the damage in the park and forwarding the pictures, and also to everyone, that also forwarded them to people on their email lists.

The power was restored Tuesday morning. It was off for a day and half. Most refrigerators should be ok.

Betty Cerny stated she felt perfectly safe staying at the Club House during the storm.

The furniture from the pool was taken to the clubhouse, to prevent them from blowing around and causing further damage. The chaise lounge chairs made good beds in the club house.

And also a BIG THANK YOU goes out to ALL, that were involved in pre-storm preparation.

President's Corner

We dodged a bullet, with the storm hitting land south of us and then turning northeast. All of our summer residents that stayed behind are safe and sound.

From what I have heard from the residents, some roofs were damaged, siding ripped off, and a few trees came down. All & all, not bad considering what the forecast had predicted.

After the storm, I went to Boca Ciega to personally assess the damage that was done to Our park.

I would like to thank the full-time residents that prepared the park before Irma arrived.

Bill Lawrence did a fabulous job in our absence of pre-storm organizing.

Social Committee Tidbits

Ingrid Eby

As I began writing my newsletter article for September I was going to talk about fall and the upcoming migration of Snow Birds. However, the events leading up to Hurricane Irma took over my thoughts.

At first Irma was a blip way out in the Atlantic Ocean. As days past and television coverage of the hurricane increased it became a major storm that needed to be watched. While out in the ocean Irma gained strength and speed. It was classified as a category five hurricane. One of the largest to ever hit land. Everyone began taking this storm very seriously.

When it hit the British Virgin Islands we all knew it really packed a punch. The videos of the devastation and destruction were overwhelming. There was nothing left of the islands. Houses, stores, cars -- everything was nothing but rubble. There was absolute destruction everywhere. People were left homeless with no food waster or shelter. Some of the cruise ships were rescuing residents, but the need for help was much greater than the resources.

When Irma left the islands, she made her way to Cuba and then onto the Florida Keys. Everyone was glued to the television all weekend wondering where Irma would land and how strong the gale force winds and water surges would be. As Irma made land fall we all held our breath. Most of Florida had been ordered to evacuate and there was a mass exodus. I-75 and I-95 were like a parking lot. Gas stations ran out of gas and many folks were stranded on the side of the road with empty gas tanks.

When Irma went through Naples and Fort Meyers many of us wondered if we would have a mobile park to return to. The year-round residents had submerged the pool chairs in the pool and moved the lounge chairs to the club house where they hunkered down to ride out the storm. Monday many of us tried to communicate with them to no avail. Luckily, we began getting bits and pieces of news that there wasn't any major damage. Irma had lost much of her punch and took a right turn going to the East of Tampa being reduced to a category one hurricane as it hit Pinellas County. It was a very eerie feeling seeing the water from Tampa Bay being taken out to sea and dry land appearing everywhere.

Once again prayers were answered and we all dodged a bullet. Damages can be repaired and debris can be cleared away. The most important aspect of this experience ... no one was hurt in Boca Ciega. The old Indian Legend still holds true. We are on old Indian burial grounds and that keeps us safe.

A huge thank you goes out to all the residents who were there and made sure everything was put away so it couldn't blow around and become a projectile during the storm. Thank you forgetting in contact with many of us for up dates on the units and the condition of the park. Everyone breathed a huge sigh of relief when the all clear came out.

Cruise!!!! Cruise!!!! Cruise!!!!

I waited to write this article until after we found out the effects of Hurricane Irma to make sure we would still be going on our trip. Now we know all is good and we can proceed full steam ahead. Yea!!!!!!

Many of you have your deposits all paid and have your state room number. The only thing you need to remember is to make your final payment by December 1st. Some of you in the park took registration forms to think about whether you could go or not. If you have decided to join us the sooner you make your reservations the better selection of rooms will be available to you. Contact Advantage Cruises and ask for Rachael. If you need more help contact me at 989-573-3987.

Next year sometime in February there will be another meeting of all the cruisers and Rachael will be there to give us all the last minuet instructions. Keep watch for the dates in the newsletter and the bulletin boards. Now that I am talking about it I am getting very excited. It should be a lot of fun.

BON VOYAGE !!!!!!!!!!!!!

Girls Floated North

Sharron DeVillers

Pat Brett and I cruised to Alaska from Seattle for 7 days in late August. We opened the bar called THE TAVERN within minutes of boarding the ship! We both thought that was the right thing to do, to get the trip started on the right foot. We visited Butchart Gardens in Victoria BC; and took the train ride in Skagway, both of which we really enjoyed. The whale watching in Juneau was exciting and the Fjords were truly remarkable. After the trip, I went to Wisconsin to visit my family. I spent an extra week there to avoid hurricane IRMA.

Three activities to ward off Alzheimer's

Alzheimer's disease may not have a cure, but experts believe some practices can help delay memory loss. Here's what you can do:

- Cognitive training. Crossword puzzles and other games can help, but try some different techniques. Do simple arithmetic in your head instead of relying on a calculator. Develop a new method for remembering what's on your shopping list. Train your brain to remember things in new ways and you'll keep it sharper.
- Control your blood pressure. Reducing high blood pressure with medication and weight loss not only cuts your risk of heart disease, but it can also ease stress on the delicate blood vessels in your brain— stress that can exacerbate memory loss and dementia.
- Exercise. Moderate aerobic exercise has many health benefits, including heading off symptoms associated with Alzheimer's. Try exercising for 30 minutes five days a week, or 50 minutes three times a week. You'll feel better and extend your cognitive health.

Scientists search for life on the toughest planets

We think of life as viable only on planets orbiting stars like our sun, but scientists now speculate that it could evolve on worlds circling very different types of stars.

Stars called M dwarfs are the most common stars in our galaxy. Their harsh flares and gravitational grip on their innermost planets could interfere with the formation of liquid water, which is necessary for life. However, astronomers have spotted approximately 200 planets circling M dwarfs, and dozens are in the so-called habitable zone where liquid water could exist and temperatures aren't too extreme for the development of life.

Scientists are studying these strange new worlds in hopes of detecting conditions that might lead to life—although it will probably be very different from any life found on Earth.

Lost and found: Seeking owner of ancient sword

Scientists are trying to determine the identity of the owner of a 14th-century sword found in a bog in Poland. The four-foot-long sword, which according to the Fox News website is remarkably well preserved, was discovered by a worker using an excavator to drain a peat bog. The worker donated his find to a local museum.

Museum officials speculate that the sword was lost by a medieval knight, or that perhaps the knight perished in the bog. Researchers are examining an engraving on the sword's hilt that may identify the knight or his family. Meanwhile, archeologists are searching the bog for other artifacts.

Find your creative style

Whatever you want to achieve on the job or in your life, you need creativity to do it. That doesn't mean you have to have the scientific genius of Einstein or the artistic vision of Georgia O'Keeffe. You can unleash your creative mind by finding your own creative style. Here's how entrepreneurial expert Esther de Charon de Saint Germain describes styles on The Huffington Post website:

- Watchmakers. Some people are highly structured and detail oriented. They like to polish their ideas until they're as close to perfect as possible.
- Wave makers. These folks are more intuitive. They don't dive into details, but think in big-picture concepts. They're apt to lose interest, though, once the hard work of hammering down their ideas starts.
- Acrobats. These thinkers can go both ways. They think outside of the box, but they're also able to hone their ideas into something practical. Try to be this kind of creator.

Improve your brain with these tips

Do you want to think more clearly, experience more insight, and have more creative breakthroughs? Take a look at a few tasks (from the Inc. website) that you can put into practice today for a more productive and imaginative brain:

- Seek out new environments. Don't stay in your rut. Go to a concert by a band you've never heard of. Visit a museum you've never been to. Travel somewhere completely new. You'll shake up your mind and nudge it in new directions.
- Let your mind wander. Don't focus all the time. Give your mind permission to soar from time to time, just exploring anything that pops in. A relaxed mind is more open to new ideas and different ways of thinking.
- Have more fun. All work and no play makes ... well, you know the rest. Take time for fun. Play a new game, take up a fresh hobby, meet new people who share your interests and can introduce you to new ones. Playfulness can lead to great ideas.
- Stop multi-tasking. When you're working on a problem or an idea, put away all distractions and focus. If you're constantly shifting from one task to another, your brain will get tired, and you won't have the perspective you need to zero in on what you're looking for.

Did you know that October is also...

Adopt a Dog Month. Each year an estimated 3 million to 4 million animals waiting in shelters never find someone to give them a safe, loving home and are euthanized. If you're thinking about getting a dog, be a hero and consider adopting from your local shelter.

Down Syndrome Awareness Month. Approximately one in every 700 babies in the United States is born with Down syndrome, making it the most common chromosomal condition. During October you can celebrate people with Down syndrome and make others aware of their abilities and accomplishments.

National Cyber Security Awareness Month. The internet touches almost all aspects of our daily life. National Cyber Security Awareness Month is designed to engage and educate public and private sector partners through events and initiatives to raise awareness about the importance of cyber security, provide them with tools and resources needed to stay safe online, and increase the resiliency of the nation in the event of a cyber incident.

National Protect Your Hearing Month. Hearing loss is a growing health issue among young adults and older Americans alike. Forty-eight million people nationwide suffer from hearing loss. National Protect Your Hearing Month is an important reminder to take steps to preserve your hearing health.

Mental Illness Awareness Week, Oct. 1-7. During Mental Illness Awareness Week, join the National Alliance on Mental Illness in shining a light on mental illness and replacing stigma with hope.

World Space Week, Oct. 4-10. More than 2,700 events in 86 countries celebrated the benefits of space and excitement about space exploration in 2016. This year's theme, "Exploring New Worlds In Space," aims to inspire even more events around the world.

National Business Women's Week, Oct. 15-21. The purpose of this observance is "to recognize women who have been the cornerstone of working in business in the United States in the past and to examine how far women in business have come."

International Music Day, Oct. 1. Initiated in 1975 to encourage the promotion of musical art among all sections of society.

World Teacher's Day, Oct. 5. Celebrate the hardworking teachers who educate our children.
