President's Corner

Don Fitzsimmons

Hello to All,

As I write this the annual meeting has been held and the election is now old news. Dennis Eby was elected for one of the three year terms. Tom Hopkins and Dan Spitzley tied for second and third so Dan graciously agreed to accept the 2-year term which then left Tom Hopkins being elected for the second 3-year term. The second 2-year term was won by Don Heaphy and the 1-year term was received by Bill Kent. Thank you to the other candidates for their interest in serving on the board and we would hope you will choose to try again. The officers elected were Don Fitzsimmons, Pres.; Dennis Eby, Vice President; Sharron DeVillers, Secretary; and Dan Spitzley, Treasurer. Congratulations to all. We had 101 as official count for balloting which is great participation and we thank you.

We are still awaiting the permit to begin the south ditch. Hopefully we can start the new year with getting the permit and starting the ditch.

Most are back from Christmas break and the social program is going strong.

That is, it for this month. When you think of a friend or family member, stop, send a card or e mail or better yet just call them. That contact may be the most important thing you will do that day.

Christmas and New Years are over. The decorations have all been taken down and now we are left with memories of another season passing. Our park was the prettiest I had ever seen it. So many people had decorated the outside of their places with wreaths, lights and even music. The hot item this year was laser lights that shown on the entire coach with different colors and different decorations. So pretty. The luminaries on Christmas Eve were especially The Club house is a little sparse right now as we gear up for our annual Garage Sale. Chairs are removed and tables are in place for all the various items that have been donated for the sale. Saturday will bring a flurry of activity as many people from the community come to buy our treasures. The profits from our sale are used to keep the costs for our various events to a minimum. It's a lot of work but many hands make it possible.

Most of the Snow Birds have returned and all our events are in full swing. It's great to have everyone back and being a part of our Boca Ciega Family. As we listen to weather reports from up North, we are all grateful to be in the South.

News and Notes

On December 13th our dear friend and neighbor Lyle Andrews went home to be with our Lord. Our sincere sympathies go out to June and their entire family. You are really missed Lyle.

Happy to report that Elda Fitzsimmons has moved from the hospital to a re-hab facility and is looking forward to returning home soon.

Dottie Lokanc has returned to the park and is very happy to be back. We hope the weather warms up so you can be outside Dotti.

Noel and Ida Maurice were involved in a car accident on their way down to Florida. Noel is fine but Ida sustained many injuries and will be getting care at her daughters while healing. Our prayers go out for you both.

Pat Cornelius is recovering from surgery in Ohio. We pray they will be able to return soon. Steve Powers has been having some health issues as does J.R. Morales. Our prayers are with both of them and we miss them in the park.

Roz Bogoslawski continues with her treatments and our thought and prayers are for both Brian and Roz.

There have been a lot of respiratory and allergy problems in the park. Please, everyone, take care and don't spread your illnesses.

As always stay healthy and travel safe

Greenport Volunteers Restore 82-year-old Fire Truck

For the past 2 1/2 years, four Greenport Fire Department members have led the effort to restore the company's 1933 fire truck. (From left) Bob Jester, John Grilli, George Capon and Charlie Hydell took it for its first test drive last month.

Bob Jester still remembers the delight he felt as a young boy when he'd see his father, Walter, turn the corner while driving the Greenport Fire Department's 1933 Mack truck.

Some youngsters might have felt the same last week when the beautiful red truck passed by in Southold Town's Memorial Day parade.

More than 60 years after the pumper was retired from service — and two decades since the last effort to refurbish it — Mr. Jester and three fellow fire department volunteers have spent the past 2 1/2 years restoring the truck to its current, nearly complete, state.

"Raccoons lived in it and holes had rusted through the seat," Mr. Jester said, recalling the pumper's condition when the project started in 2013.

"Some people looked at us like we were nuts," said John Grilli, who did most of the mechanical work. "Now they say, 'It's a beauty.'"

The driving force behind the restoration, the men will tell you, has been 86-year-old George Capon, a 67-year department member who can still recall when the truck saw regular action.

Mr. Capon admits that when they started the project, he told the other members a little fib, hoping it might speed things along.

"I said my doctor told me I only had five years to live," he joked.

They more than beat his deadline.

While the most recent restoration effort officially began two years ago, it's been a labor of love for Mr. Jester since 1965. That was the year Mr. Jester, then 18, approached the Greenport Village Board, $618 in his bank account, and asked to purchase the abandoned pumper. Then-mayor Arthur Levine told him the village hoped to instead display the truck at a park along Main Street.

"I just about cried," Mr. Jester said as he remembered the truck being towed from the firehouse to the park.

Still, he never lost sight of the pumper. Fifteen years later, as a young man with a wife and five children, he once again approached the village. This time around, they sold him the truck for just $10.

Mr. Jester said his restoration efforts moved slowly over the next decade. He eventually gifted it to another fire department member, Jamie Mills, who vowed to keep it in Greenport.

Mr. Mills completed the truck's restoration and, in 1990, the pumper was selected to represent 1933 in the FDNY's 125th anniversary parade in New York City.

After several years, though, the old truck was mostly forgotten again. Eventually, the barn where it was stored collapsed and it fell rapidly into disrepair.

Mr. Jester, who can recite the truck's history off the top of his head, didn't want that to be the end of its story.

The first fire the truck ever responded to was at St. Agnes R.C. Church on Front Street. By 1950, it had responded to more than 350 calls. Mr. Capon recalled finding the truck completely covered in ice after responding to a winter fire at Brigham's Shipyard that occurred soon after he joined the department.

Mr. Grilli said the fire department still has old photos of the pumper and even a 16mm film of it in action.

When the latest restoration effort began, the team convinced fellow Greenport Fire Department volunteers to take ownership of the truck and store it in the garage at the Third Street Firehouse. Another option would have been to let the Village of Greenport take possession of it. "But I feared that one day down the line someone in the village might decide to sell it," Mr. Jester said. "I know that with the fire department there is no way to ever get more than half the members to agree to do any one thing, so it would be safe with us."

About two dozen department members volunteered to help with the rebuild in 2013, but that number slowly dwindled to four: Mr. Capon, Mr. Jester, Mr. Grilli and Charlie Hydell, who did the woodwork.

They had help from friends and family along the way and many businesses also stepped up, though they declined to name any for this article to avoid leaving anyone out. (Soon, they plan to compile a list of all who helped so they can be publicly thanked at a later date.)

"We kept [the project] very quiet," Mr. Jester said. "With something like this, there's always a great chance of failure."

To ensure the restoration's success, they worked deep into the night and on weekends after this year's cold winter passed — and once Mr. Capon returned from Florida to crack the whip.

The final piece of the puzzle for getting the truck back on the road was rebuilding the transmission and freeing the clutch. About a week before it made its public debut at the Memorial Day parade, where Mr. Grilli could be spotted driving it down Main Road in Southold with Mr. Capon on board, they took it for its first test drive around Front Street.

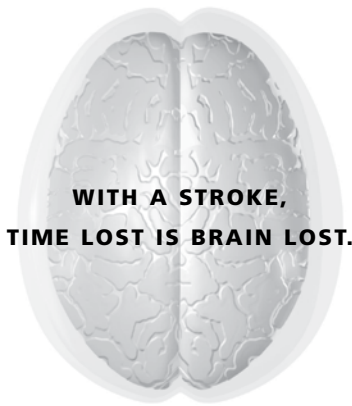

"Everyone was giving us the thumbs up," Mr. Capon said.

Virtually all the truck's parts, and certainly its look, are authentic to 1933. Mr. Jester and Mr. Capon said the cost of the restoration has been about $25,000, and they estimate similar projects have been outsourced in other departments for upward of $250,000.

The project has been a big hit with community members who have seen the truck restored to its former glory.

Ken Korsh of East Marion said he first learned about it through Mr. Capon and was impressed by what he saw.

“It’s really a nice-looking truck and a terrific story,” he said.

The group’s work isn’t quite finished, however. The fire department is attempting to raise $3,000 through a bike raffle to pay for the new tires they’ve ordered. And this summer, the men hope to get the truck’s water pump and fuel gauge working again.

They also plan to work with a local funeral home to retrofit the bed of the truck to carry caskets for fire department funerals. They say the emotions they have about the truck now are nothing compared to what they’ll feel when that happens.

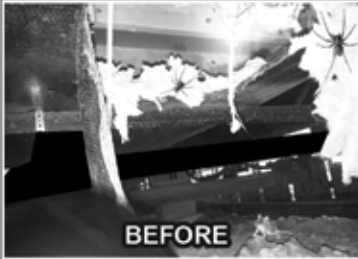

“That will definitely be rough,” said Mr. Grilli, the truck’s driver.

Of course, they hope that drive to the cemetery won’t occur for some time.

Right now, they’re just happy to have saved the 82-year-old truck from heading to another funeral — its own.

Christmas Dinner 2015

Carol Persons

Christmas Day felt like it was mid-August but we managed to get into the Christmas spirit anyway. 75 residents and guests enjoyed a special Christmas dinner this year at the Clubhouse. The turkeys and hams were furnished by the social club and everyone brought a dish to pass which made for a wonderful feast.

After dinner Tom Hopkins hooked up his karaoke machine and we had a Christmas carol sing along. Tom mingled through the crowd with his microphone so many voices could be heard.

Many thanks to everyone who helped make this year's Christmas dinner a success. It takes many hands to put on an event like this and everyone who took out time from their Christmas Day to help make this day special for all of us deserves our recognition.

Thank you again. Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night!

New Year's Eve

Hope and Bill Jongmans

With the help of Tom and Karen Hopkins Bill and Hope Jongmans, Rich and Betty Manis, Shirley Mann and Tom and Susan Logan Boca Ciega brought in 2016 with a Karaoke and Dance. Thanks to Tom Logan and Tom Hopkins we were honored by Sonny and Cher singing I got you Babe. They were a riot; we don't think there was more laughter in our club house ever.

Also Elvis was in the building to everybody's delight thanks to Jack McDonald. A good time was had by all.

2016 Rummage and Bake Sale

Butch and Carol Persons

This year we had beautiful weather for Boca Ciega's Annual Rummage and Bake Sale. But we did have a heavy downpour on Friday so as we unloaded the sheds on Thursday we had to move the furniture to covered carports and then move it back out to the parking lot after the rain. Lots of extra work for our guys.

Many thanks to all of the volunteers who helped make the sale such a success by working, baking, donating time and money, etc. This year we netted approximately $3,200 which is about $800 less than last year's sales but everyone agreed that we did not have as much to sell as we normally did, so GOOD JOB EVERYONE!

This year we did not have anyone to pick up our leftovers. None of the charities were willing to pick up our leftovers as they found it was not cost effective for them. Thanks to the ladies of Kathleen Kohler's church who picked up most our indoor leftovers for their church sale. Leftover outdoor items were pitched in the dumpster.

As always, a special thanks to all of you bakers out there and to Yogi, Roxanne and Paula for setting up such an appealing bake table. It's amazing how many of you are so willing to contribute. We know a lot of you worked hard Thursday morning getting everything set up in the clubhouse only to go home to start your baking and you all deserve a special thanks.

Also, a special thanks to Rob and Lore Bocchinfuso and their crew for the breakfast sandwiches and for the wonderful lunch, and providing the workers with donuts and hot coffee before starting the day Saturday. Everything was delicious. Great job everyone.

Terry Maegdlin and Ginny Tracy put together seven beautiful large Gourmet Baskets this year which were raffled off and won by: Arlene Downs, Scott Beckwith, Kathy Spitzley and Bob Ayers. The other three baskets were won by people outside of the park, including Elaine Eckert from Caribbean Isles. The beautiful knitted afghan was won by Carol Maloney (outside of the park). We also had a bag of 4 bottles of wine which was won by someone outside the park. However, there was another bag of 4 bottles of wine which was raffled off Friday night for the park residents who bought their tickets early. Keith Brogan was the winner on Friday.

The sheds are now empty and ready to be filled again for next year. We will leave some empty tubs and boxes in both sheds and would appreciate it if you would put your small items in them so it's easier to pack and stack and easier for the men when they are unloading the sheds. Glass items should be wrapped in some way so they don't get broken. And, please, make sure everything is clean and in good repair. No mattresses please. They're almost impossible to sell and no charities will take used mattresses. Also, NO TVs. They take up way too much room in our sheds and they just do not sell and we can't put them in the dumpster. We then have to deliver them to the landfill for recycling. So, PLEASE, NO TV's in the sheds.

Thanks again to everyone for all of your hard work and cooperation. We certainly had plenty of workers this year. We hope you had some fun, not just a lot of work, and you'll be willing to work with us again next year on yet another great sale.
