Bringing people to the center

Shortly after being forced out of Apple Computer, Steve Jobs bought a small computer manufacturer named Pixar. In 2000, he relocated the company to an abandoned factory. The original plan called for three buildings, with separate offices for computer scientists, animators, and the Pixar executives.

Jobs immediately scrapped it. Instead of three buildings, he wanted a single vast space with an atrium at its center.

As Pixar's Ed Catmull explains, "The philosophy behind this design is that it's good to put the most important function at the heart of the building. Well, what's our most important function? It's the interaction of our employees. That's why Steve put a big empty space there. He wanted to create an open area for people to always be talking to each other."

Jobs saw separated offices as a design problem. He shifted the mailboxes to the atrium, then moved the meeting rooms, cafeteria, coffee bar, and gift shop to the center of the building. "The atrium initially might seem like a waste of space," says director Brad Bird. "But Steve realized that when people run into each other, when they make eye contact, things happen."

Jobs insisted that the best creations occurred when people from disparate fields were connected, especially in an age of intellectual fragmentation.

When you plant a tree every day

What used to be a landscape devastated by erosion is now 1,360 acres of forest, and it's all thanks to one Indian man named Jadav Payeng. Jadav planted a tree every single day for 40 years, and now this man-made forest is bigger than Central Park. This incredible forest is also home to hundreds of elephants, rhinos, boars, reptiles, and birds.

This botanical enthusiast says he is planning to plant trees until his "last breath." "Nature is God. It gives me inspiration. It gives me power ... As long as it survives, I survive."

If you want to learn more about this hero, check a short documentary at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HkZDSqyE1do>.

Earth Science Week, Oct. 11–17. Since October 1998, the American Geosciences Institute has organized this international event to help the public gain a better understanding and appreciation for the Earth sciences and to encourage stewardship of the Earth. This year's Earth Science Week will celebrate the theme, "Earth Materials in Our Lives."

Medical Assistants Recognition Week, Oct. 19–23. Medical assistants are at the heart of health care. They play a crucial and versatile part of the health care delivery team. Celebrate these dedicated and compassionate individuals this week during the third full week in October and throughout the year.

Free Speech Week, Oct. 19–25. A yearly event to raise public awareness of the importance of freedom of speech and of the press in our democracy, and to celebrate that freedom. Individuals, schools, and all types of organizations are encouraged to recognize and celebrate Free Speech Week.

October Monthly

American Pharmacists Month. American Pharmacists Month promotes awareness of the many services pharmacists offer beyond the safe distribution of medications. These services include seasonal and lifespan immunizations; medication reviews to assess safety, effectiveness, interactions, and adherence; care management and counseling for disease states such as diabetes, high blood pressure, and high cholesterol; and smoking cessation counseling.

Blindness Awareness Month. Blindness Awareness Month is dedicated to taking the discussion of all things sight-related to the forefront of the public. It is about having good eye health as well as discussing blindness and visual impairment as a whole.

National Animal Safety and Protection Month. Our pets can't tell us what hurts, so it's crucial to understand what behavior and signs suggest that your pet may not be feeling 100% and what is normal. Breathing rate, dehydration, and temperature are all things to keep an eye out for.

National Substance Abuse Prevention Month. An observance that highlights the vital role of substance abuse prevention in both individual and community health—and to remember those who have lost their lives to substance abuse. The Office of National Drug Control Policy encourages prevention efforts this month and all year long to ensure the health of teens and young adults.

The one permanent emotion of the inferior man is fear—fear of the unknown, the complex, the inexplicable. What he wants above everything else is safety.

— H.L. Mencken

In search of the right job recruit

A recruiter asked a job candidate, “Can you handle a variety of work?”
The applicant replied, “I should be able to. I’ve had ten different jobs in four months.”

A recruiter asked a job candidate, “Why did you leave your last job?”
The job applicant replied, “It was something my boss said.”
“What did he say?”
“You’re fired.”

A recruiter asked a job candidate, “What’s your biggest weakness?”
The job applicant replied, “I don’t know when to quit.”
“You’re hired.”
“I quit.”

Hardest worker

A n old ranch owner named John had a small ranch in Montana. The state government claimed he was not paying proper wages to his workers, so it sent an agent out. “I need a list of your employees here, along with how much you pay them,” said the agent.

“Well,” replied old John, “There’s my ranch hand Silas, who’s been with me for three years. I pay him $600 a week plus free room and board. The cook, Ben, has been here for 18 months, and I pay him $500 a week plus free room and board. Then there’s the half-wit who works about 18 hours every day and does about 90 percent of all the work around here. He makes about $10 per week, pays his own room and board, and I buy him a bottle of bourbon every Saturday night.”

“That’s the guy I want to talk to, the half-wit,” said the agent.

“That would be me,” replied John.

I enjoy life when things are happening. I don't care if it's good things or bad things. That means you're alive.

— Joan Rivers

Hurts all over

A retired man went to the doctor and said, “Doc, I ache all over. Everywhere I touch it hurts.”

The doctor replied, “OK. Touch your elbow.” The guy touched his elbow and winced in genuine pain.

The doctor, surprised, then said, “Touch your head.”

The guy touched his head and jumps in agony. The doctor asked him to touch his knee and the same thing happened. Everywhere the guy touched hurt a lot.

The doctor was stumped and ordered a complete examination with full-body X-rays. He told the man to come back in two days.

Two days later the man came back and the doctor declared, “We’ve found your problem.”

“Oh, yeah? What is it?” asked the retiree.

“You’ve broken your finger.”

Laughing gas

Hate going to the dentist? These jokes may ease the pain:

A little boy went to the dentist, who found a cavity that had to be filled. “Now, young man,” asked the dentist, “what kind of filling would you like for that tooth?”

“Chocolate, please,” replied the youngster.

Young man: “My dentist said bacon and soda are just as good as toothpaste.”

Parent: “That’s ‘baking soda.’”

If I brushed my teeth with half the energy I do 15 minutes before going to the dentist, I’d never have a cavity.

The person who can bring the spirit of laughter into a room is indeed blessed.
