EDITOR'S NOTES

APPY NEW YEAR!! Hello, Crystal Lake Family! This is Stephanie from 93 5th St., and the new editor for your courier.

Violet has been the backbone for the past 6 plus years and has passed the baton. I would like to thank Violet for all her time and dedication to Crystal Lake. She has her hand and creativity in the heart of this Community daily. Violet, we want to thank you for everything you have done, and continue to do, to make our neighborhood a happy and cozy place with your words of encouragement, ideas, and patience. We will see you around, but hopefully you will be relaxing and breathing in our beautiful views.

Speaking of views, the Christmas lights throughout the neighborhood were so beautiful! As I went for my walks in the evening, the sparkling lights, the smiling faces sitting on the porch and park benches, the ducks that join us in our journey around the lake, make it home. This is a home. It's our home.

We have had so many changes the past few months in our Community. Some positive some negative. I moved here a year and half ago, and the changes I have seen are very good. The landscaping around the homes look wonderful. We are all pitching in to bring curb appeal to our neighborhood. I love seeing people come together to help and support one another.

This is a new year, a time for resolutions and doing things differently. To make a positive where there once was a negative. My New Years resolution will be to help make Crystal Lake even better than it already is. I can't do it alone. If we all continue to stand together, we will have a home that everyone will want to be a part of.

I want to thank all the residents that take time out of their day to help others here and participate in the programs that are offered. If anyone has any ideas for upcoming events please come forward. I would love to see our calendar full of fun things to do. If you have anything you would like to add to the courier please let me know.

See you around the park

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH IS – YOU

Be Alert! Be Responsible! Be a good neighbor! Be safe!

emember that your neighbors are the people who you can hope will be watching out for you, too. Don't be afraid to make that call to the PPPD if you see something that looks suspicious to you.

Please make note of the NEW NON-EMERGENCY NUMBER – 727-369-7864.

Emergencies are always 911.

WELCOME ALL OUR NEWEST RESIDENTS

he Crystal Lake Home Owner's Association wishes to welcome you to your new home. We trust you will enjoy your living experiences here as much as we do.

MONTHLY HOA MEETING – January 2 @ 7:00 p.m.

Please join us the first Monday of every month when we hold our HOA meetings. This is a great time for you to find out what's being planned for your entertainment, discuss issues in the park, let us know about any concerns for the Board to take to Management or get answers from past concerns or just meet with your friends and neighbors. We have some new and exciting plans in the making. We'd love to see you there.

TEXAS HOLD 'EM

Very Saturday from 4pm – 9pm, guys & gals meet in the Clubhouse for Texas Hold'em. The group started out small but continues to grow with new players joining in all the time. They want you to know that anyone is welcome and invite you to check 'em out.

Be sure to be on time.

BINGO & SNACK BAR – SPONSORED BY YOUR HOA eople tell me all the time that this is one of the highlights of their week.

We want you to bring your appetite to the clubhouse on Friday nights and plan to have dinner at the snack bar starting at 6:30 p.m. There's always a good assortment of chips and sodas that are included with your burger or dog or buy them separately. It's a great way to have dinner for $3.00 or less on a Friday night.

Then Bingo starts at 7p.m. with lots of fun and a great way to bring home some extra cash. If you haven't played in a while, you're in for a surprise. It just gets better and better all the time. If you haven't played it before, don't worry... we love helping you along. For many of us, there's no better way to spend our Friday nights. We hope you'll be there to join in the fun next Friday night.

DO YOU LIKE TO BOWL?

Would you like to bowl on a team or just for fun? Bowling is fun, inexpensive and good exercise. You can socialize or compete with others. There's a sign-up sheet in the Clubhouse for anyone wanting to get a team started. Let's go bowling!

RECIPES

Rice and Pigeon Peas (Arroz con Gandules)

Preparation: 5 minutesCook: 45 minutesA Puerto Rican FavoriteTotal Time: 50 minutes

INGREDIENTS

2 cups White rice (short grain)

- 1 (15 ounces) can pigeon peas
- 1 packet sazón (Goya or Iberia)
- 4 ounces tomato sauce
- 1 teaspoon chicken bouillon
- 2 tablespoons sofrito sauce
- 2 cups wáter
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 tablespoon adobo seasoning

DIRECTIONS

- ~ Pour olive oil in a cast iron/aluminum pot until hot.
- ~ Bring the temp up to med-high and pour in water, bullion, tomato sauce, sofrito, adobo, and sazon until it comes to a boil.
 - ~ Pour in pigeon peas (gandules) and let boil for a minute.
 - ~Pour in rice.
 - \sim Stir ONCE and put the lid on it, sealing tightly.
 - \sim Let sit for 20 minutes on low-medium.
- \sim If the rice looks gummy DO NOT STIR IT, just put the lid back on and wait until the rice is firm (ready).

 \sim If you desire the crunchiness on the bottom, once the rice is done cooking, put the temp on very low temp and let it sit for about 5 minutes. The bottom will loosen up from the moisture (since it's done cooking)

Brain drain: Control your appetite after a long day at the office

E ver notice that you can feel starving after a long day at work even though you've spent it mainly at your desk? Scientists, as reported by The New York Times, say it happens because your brain, feeling tired, starts to want more fuel to keep going—even though you haven't exactly been digging ditches for eight or nine hours. The problem is that you're consuming calories your body doesn't actually need because your brain is telling you to.

One way around this dilemma is exercise. In an experiment at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, 38 college students met to discuss what their favorite pizza was. After the discussion, they were allowed at eat as much pizza as they wanted. On another day, they were brought back and given a series of tests from college entrance and graduate-level exams. Afterward, half the students worked out on treadmills while the rest sat quietly. The entire group was again served all the pizza they wanted, but the treadmill group ate less—about 25 fewer calories than at their previous session. On the other hand, the rest of the group actually ate 100 calories more.

The study suggests that a light workout after a mentally strenuous day may curb one's appetite—good to know before you sit down to eat.

Eat lots of these foods to prevent prostate cancer

Prostate cancer is one of the most common forms of cancer in men—more than 180,000 cases are diagnosed each year. Diet can be a factor, doctors say, especially one of foods high in saturated fats found in meat and dairy products. Men may be able to reduce their risk of developing prostate cancer by eating more of these healthy foods:

- Broccoli. Benefits: Low in carbohydrates and rich in antioxidants and phytochemicals that may prevent cell changes contributing to cancer.
- Salmon. Benefits: Lots of omega-3 fatty acids that can inhibit prostate cancer.
- Brazil nuts. Benefits: Selenium; six to eight nuts contain 700 percent of a daily serving.
- Tomatoes. Benefits: Lycopene. Men who eat 10 portions of tomatoes a week may reduce their risk of prostate cancer by 18 percent.
- Walnuts. Benefits: Walnuts and walnut oil have been shown to reduce levels of the hormone IGF-1, which has been linked to prostate cancer.
- Coffee. Benefits: Antioxidants, as well as stimulating the body to metabolize sugars more efficiently. Green tea shares similar qualities.

The five-second rule may not be so safe after all e've all heard of the five-second rule: If a piece of food drops on the floor, it's safe to eat if you grab it in five seconds or less. That may not be true, though, according to an article on the Medical News Today website.

Researchers at Rutgers University decided to test the rule. They used four types of surfaces: stainless steel, ceramic tile, wood, and carpet. They also choose four kinds of food: watermelon, bread, bread with butter, and gummy candy. Finally, they tested four different contact times: less than a second, five seconds, 30 seconds, and 300 seconds.

They cultivated bacteria similar to salmonella and spread it on the different surfaces, allowed it to dry, then dropped each food on each surface for each designated time period. The results: The bacteria was able to contaminate the food almost instantly in every case, although with different degrees of contamination. Watermelon soaked up the most bacteria because of its moisture; the gummy treats were affected the least due to their hard surface. Nonetheless, the scientists are confident that their findings disprove the five-second rule. So you're probably safer throwing out any food on the floor.

A fit, healthy body—that is the best fashion statement. —Jess C. Scott

Plutonian moon's red spot explained

Jupiter is famous for its great red spot, but it's not the only red patch in the solar system. Charon, a moon of Pluto, also sports a reddish blotch near its north polar region, and scientists now know what causes it, according to the Sci-News website.

The spot, nicknamed Mordor Macula, covers an area the size of New Mexico, and is made of methane that comes from Pluto. Once the methane escapes Pluto's atmosphere, it falls to the surface of Charon's north pole and then freezes (winter temperatures in Charon's polar region can drop as low as negative 430 Fahrenheit). UV light from the sun turns the methane into heavier hydrocarbons that eventually become reddish organic materials known as tholins.

Data came from the New Horizons space probe. One of the project's scientists characterized the discovery as the realization that Pluto is a cosmic graffiti artist, spray-painting its nearest neighbor red.

Marriage in trouble? Watch for these signs

Just because you're not having fights with your spouse doesn't mean everything is fine in your marriage. It could be in trouble without you and your partner realizing it. Watch for these signs that you need to get back on track:

- Your partner isn't first on your list. When you've got big news, whom do you tell first? If it's not your spouse, you may be disconnecting from him or her. Communicating about what's important to both of you is vital in an honest, healthy relationship.
- You're focused on yourself. Strong marriages rest on mutual goals. If you forget your partner's needs while making your own plans, he or she may begin to do the same. Although you each may want some personal time, carve out time to spend with each other—talking, taking a walk, watching a movie, or something else you both enjoy.
- You compare your spouse to others. Try to avoid thoughts like, "I wish Lynda was more like Diane," or "Why doesn't he bring me flowers like Paula's husband?" Comparisons lead to dissatisfaction and resentment. Be open about what you want so your partner has a chance to fulfill your needs.
- You lead separate lives. You may not be fighting, but you're also not doing much together. Do you watch separate TV shows, go to bed at different times, eat meals without the other person? Make more of an effort to get in sync so you don't find yourself living alone without actually moving out.

Quick hits

ant to liven up the conversation at your next party? Try some of these one-liners:

- "I've been diagnosed with a certain type of brain disorder where I deny the existence of certain 1980s rock bands. There is no Cure."
- "My wife probably tells me I never listen to her."

- "And the award for best neckwear goes to ... well, look at that. It was a tie."
- "No matter how nice your son or daughter is, German children are kinder."
- "Thank you for my student loans. I don't think I can ever repay you."

Monthly

National Bath Safety Awareness Month. In the United States, an average of 370 people across all age groups suffer bathtub or shower-related injuries every day. Slips, falls, and hotwater burns are the prime causes of accidents in the bath and the second leading cause of accidental death and disability. Remember: Bath safety is an integral part of general home safety.

National Blood Donor Month. Some give blood because they've been asked to. Some know a family member or a friend who might need blood someday. Some simply believe it's the right thing to do. Whatever your reason, the need is constant and your donation is important to maintaining a healthy and reliable blood supply.

National Stalking Awareness Month. The National Center for Victims of Crime launched National Stalking Awareness Month (NSAM) in January 2004 to increase the public's understanding of the crime of stalking. The National Stalking Awareness Month website (www.stalkingawrenessmonth.org), launched in January 2009, provides a wealth of information about this crime and about the nationwide observance.

National Train Your Dog Month. The Association of Professional Dog Trainers began the National Train Your Dog Month campaign in 2010 to raise awareness of the importance of socialization and training, to inform the public that training your dog can be easy and fun, and to help new pet parents start off the year right with their newest family member.

Weekly

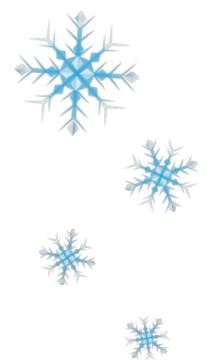

Diet Resolution Week, Jan. 1-7. This week is about focusing and altering the types of food you consume rather than just reducing the amount. Try eating at least one piece of produce every day (fruit or vegetable), eating fish at least once a month (once a week would be better), and drinking at least two glasses of water a day.

National Sugar Awareness Week, Jan. 16-20. Can you go five days without sugar? Take the challenge to find out how difficult finding foods that do not contain some form of sugar can be, as well as how this substance can affect your body, mind, emotions, and life.

No Name-Calling Week, Jan 16-20. No Name-Calling Week was inspired by the popular young adult novel The Misfits, by James Howe. The No Name-Calling Week Coalition was created by GLSEN and Simon & Schuster Children's publishing and has been adopted by schools around the U.S., growing into one of the largest bullying-prevention initiatives in the country.

Oldest fossils may have evolved during hellish times

The world's oldest fossils have been discovered in Greenland, according to The New York Times. The fossils, known as stromalites (mounds that have built up over time around single-celled microbes called cyanobacteria) were found in an outcrop of rock called the Isua supracrustal belt on the southwest coast of Greenland.

The stromalites are 220 million years older than stromalites found in western Australia, previously thought to be the world's oldest fossils at 3.48 billion years old. If they're confirmed as evidence of ancient microbial life, the fossils will push back the estimated date of the formation of life on Earth to about four billion years ago, during a period when the planet was bombarded by meteors that turned oceans into steam and the surface into lava—a time dubbed the Hadean stage of Earth's history.

Genes may control your coffee intake

The amount of coffee you drink may be based on your genetic makeup. A study by an international team of researchers, written up in the journal Scientific Reports, identified a gene that regulates the expression of other genes connected to caffeine metabolism.

The gene, PDSS2, hampers cells' ability to break caffeine down, which causes it to remain in the body longer. Thus, people with the gene will feel the effects of caffeine longer, reducing their desire for more.

The scientists examined genetic data from two groups of people in Italy, and they asked participants to record how many cups of coffee they drank each day. People with a variation in their PDSS2 gene tended to drink less coffee than those without the variant. The study was replicated in a similar study carried out in the Netherlands.

So if someone ever tells you that you're drinking too much coffee, you can blame it on your genes.

Pew-pew-pew! Gaming racks up high scores—and sales

Mericans love their games, especially the electronic variety. The Entertainment Software Association surveyed more than 4,000 U.S. households on their gaming habits. If you've ever spent 12 hours slaughtering virtual zombies, these findings might be of interest:

Sixty-three percent of U.S. households in the survey have at least one frequent gamer. Forty-seven percent of gamers are between 18 and 49 years old. The average male gamer? He's 35 years old; the average female gamer is 44. The typical frequent game purchaser is 38; 60 percent of them are men.

They're spending a lot, too. Gamers spent $23.5 billion on gaming in 2015, $16.5 billion on gaming content alone.

We're living longer (at least some of us are) ife expectancy has increased by five years since the year 2000, according to the World Health Organization, but like many things, it's not evenly distributed. Here's a look at the average life expectancy at birth in the top and bottom five nations:

Highest		Lowest
• Japan	83.7	Cote d'Ivoire	53.3
 Switzerland 	83.4	• Chad	53.1
 Singapore 	83.1	Cent. African Republic	52.5
Australia	82.8	• Angola	52.4
 Spain 	82.8	Sierra Leone	50.1

Women in Japan can expect to live the longest—86.8 years. For men, the highest life expectancy is in Switzerland, where the average male lives to 81.3 years.

Punctuation is powerful aria Feodorovna, the wife of Tsar Alexander III of Russia, was known for her charitable works. According to one story, she once saved a condemned man from exile in Siberia by moving a single comma in the warrant signed by her husband.

The original document read: "Pardon impossible, to be sent to Siberia." The Empress moved the comma so the warrant read: "Pardon, impossible to be sent to Siberia." The man was saved and released.

Entice children and grandchildren to go on walks

Taking a walk is one of the simplest forms of exercise you can imagine. It's also a fun way to spend time with your family, especially your children. Try these tips for getting them out of the house and on the trail:

- Make it an adventure. Don't just say, "Let's go for a walk." Spark your child's interest with something like, "Let's look for leaves to collect," or "Let's find some animal footprints." This makes the walk sound like more of an activity and less like a chore.
- Think ahead. Before setting off, think about where you want to go. Will it be safe for your child? You don't want to wear children out, let them get too muddy, or force them to dodge cars and other obstacles. Plan a short walk at first. If children are still enthusiastic, you can always lengthen it.
- Walk at your child's pace. Don't make it a race (unless your child actually wants to run one). Match your speed to your child's. Encourage kids to stop and look at things—bugs, rocks, trees, etc. Be willing to go off and explore in a different direction if your child wants.
- Take your pet. Most children love animals. If you don't have a dog of your own, ask your neighbors if they'd like you to take their dog for a walk. Children will get a chance to run and play, making the walk more energetic and enjoyable.
- Dress appropriately. Make sure you and your children have the right shoes and other clothes. Sunscreen and hats are a must for bright days. Dress in layers so you can add or remove clothing depending on the temperature. If the weather is wet, wear boots.
