THINGS TO DO IN JUNE

Philippe Park is a Pinellas County park located in Safety Harbor, Florida. The park is named after Count Odet Philippe who is credited with introducing grapefruit to the state of Florida in 1823. Tranquil harborside park with a historic Native American mound, a playground, fishing & more.

Address: 2525 Philippe Pkwy, Safety Harbor, FL 34695

Sand Key Park

1060 Gulf Blvd., Clearwater

This beautiful park has two distinct areas—a beach and a park. In the park proper are two picnic shelters with grills, a playground, restroom and a dog park. Grills, picnic tables, and water fountains are but a few amenities.

A salt marsh with viewing benches further enhances the park, where heron, roseate spoonbill, great horned owl, anhinga, and common moorhen nest and feed.

Sand Key Park houses the base of operations for the artificial reef program, an interdepartmental cooperation program to build a reef in the Gulf. Sand Key Park’s natural communities include a beach where sea turtles annually deposit eggs. The nearby Clearwater Aquarium takes responsibility for these nests and keeps statistics.

History/Orientation:

Sand Key Park was opened to the public August 1984. Ninety-five acres are located on Sand Key, a barrier island between the Gulf of Mexico and the Florida mainland. Clearwater Pass, leading from the Gulf to the Intracoastal waterway, separates the park from the popular resort area of Clearwater Beach. The park welcomes more than one million each year.

FREEDOM FROM ACHES AND PAINS

UPSET STOMACH?

Enjoy extra virgin olive oil

A 1 ½ tsp. serving of extra virgin olive oil soothes indigestion within 15 minutes, say researchers at Bastyr University in Kenmore, Washington. And adding 2 Tbs. of the oil to your daily diet can tame even chronic GI pain in 3 weeks. That's because the oil is packed with unique painkilling, anti-inflammatory compounds that also encourage the release of digestion-enhancing stomach acid, enzymes and bile.

ACHY FEET?

To ease foot pain fast: Set a chair in front of two basins, one filled with very cold water, the other with the hottest water you can tolerate. Immerse your feet in the cold water for 1 minute, then the hot water for 1 minute, repeat 3 times. Finish by drying your feet and giving them a relaxing 2-minute massage. Craig Thomajan, D.P.M., of Austin Foot and Ankle Specialists in Texas, says the temperature changes squeeze and relax blood vessels to create a pumping action that eases inflammation and eliminates trapped fluids.

MUSCLE SPASMS?

Try wintergreen oil

Massaging diluted wintergreen oil into tight spots boosts circulation and eases muscle spasms, cutting pain by 50 percent in 5 minutes, Stanford researchers report. The credit goes to methyl salicylate an anti-inflammatory compound that is absorbed readily into skin. To do: Mix 6 drops of wintergreen oil (like Simplers Botanicals Organic Wintergreen Essential Oil, $7 for 5 ml, EnergeticNutrition.com) into 2 oz of unscented lotion, then rub into sore spots.

RECIPE.....

Cheesecake Crescent Rolls

- 2 cans of Pillsbury Crescent rolls
- 2 (8oz each) package cream cheese softened
- 1 ½ tsp vanilla
- ¼ cup butter, melted
- Cinnamon
- Sugar

Unroll and spread 1 of the cans of crescent rolls on the bottom of a 9 x 13 baking dish (or 8 x 8 if you want to cut the recipe in half). Combine softened cream cheese, 1 cup sugar, and vanilla. Spread over crescent roll layer. Unroll and layer remaining crescent rolls over cream cheese layer. Melt your butter and spread over top of crescent rolls. Sprinkle generously with cinnamon and sugar.

Bake for 20-30 minutes in 350 degree oven until bubble and slightly browned. Drizzle with a little honey if you like. Let cool a bit, slice and eat. Enjoy!

THE GARDEN

Along the fence: A pink and purple combo
Pretty coneflowers and liatris are true butterfly magnets, says Mary-Kate Mackey, coauthor of Sunset's Secret Gardens "Purple coneflowers sturdy structure and up to 6" wide blooms create an ideal landing pad for butterflies." And liatris are known to attract monarch butterflies seeking nectar. These tall blooms, which grow up to 5 feet high, extend beautifully along a fence to hide a bland view. Both plants enjoy full sun and only need to be watered once or twice a week when soil is on the dry side.

In a flower bed: Cosmos

Butterflies love frilly-edged, daisy-like cosmos for their sweet nectar. The easy-care blooms grow best in full sun or partial shade, and they perform well in soil that has not been heavily amended. Cosmos (from the Greek word kosmos, meaning "beauty") provide an abundant, colorful and textured look in your flower bed. But proper care is crucial, cautions Mackey. Regular watering encourages more and larger blooms. "That's key because if cosmos dry and droop, they don't come back like other perennials do." Finally, to encourage more growth later, pinch off spent flowers.

Teach children or grandchildren this important skill

Problem solving is a skill that's valuable throughout your children's lives, from school to their adult careers. You can teach your children how to tackle any problem they're facing by sharing these steps:

- Identify the problem. This is the most important step, and often the most overlooked. Your child can't solve a problem until he or she can state what it is.
- Come up with a list of solutions. Brainstorm possible solutions, even ones that initially seem farfetched. Just keep the ideas flowing.
- Assess each idea. Now is the time to evaluate the merits of each idea, weighing the pros and cons thoroughly.
- Pick one or two ideas. Have your child pick the top two solutions and give his or her specific reasons for choosing those possible solutions.
- Put the decision into action. Before going forward, talk about possible outcomes. What are the potential obstacles? What help can you expect? How can you avoid traps?
- Evaluate and learn. How did the solution work? What changes need to be made to make it work better? What would your child try the next time?

The hungry thief

Joe and Sam went into a bakery. When the cashier wasn't looking, Joe quickly slipped three doughnuts into the pocket of his jacket.

"What are you doing?" Sam whispered. "You just stole those!"

"So what?" Joe asked. "Nobody saw a thing."

Sam waved the cashier over. "Give me a doughnut, and I'll show you a magic trick."

Intrigued, the cashier handed over a doughnut. Sam ate it, then asked for a second one, and then a third.

"So what's the trick?" the cashier asked, skeptically.

"You know where those doughnuts are now?"

The cashier frowned. "Where?"

"Look in my friend's pocket."

Get more from your to-do list

A to-do list can help you organize your time and energy effectively, but successful people know that it's just a start, not an end in itself. Get the greatest impact from your list by following this advice:

- Start the night before. Instead of making your list in the morning, finish your day by planning tomorrow's work. You'll arrive fresh and ready to tackle your most important tasks right away.
- Keep it short. A list of 100 items is intimidating. Limit your to-do lists to tasks that add maximum value to your organization, not routine busywork.
- Prioritize your tasks. Don't list items at random. Decide which job to tackle first, second, and third so you don't waste time on less important tasks.
- Categorize your tasks. After you've identified your two or three most important jobs for the day, go through your list and group similar tasks together—answering phone calls and emails, meeting with co-workers, organizing various projects. You'll get more done by not switching between different kinds of tasks all day.
- Get specific. Include the results you want, not just the name of the task. "Work on Johnson report" doesn't give you a goal; "Finish Johnson report by 3:30" will help you focus on what you want to achieve.
- Expect the unexpected. No matter how organized you are, interruptions will occur. Build in enough time to deal with them so you're not thrown off by the day-to-day demands of the workplace.

Quick Thinking

A stockboy in the produce section of the supermarket one day had a customer who asked to buy half a head of lettuce. The stockboy told him that they sold only whole heads of lettuce.

The man insisted that he didn't need the whole head and wouldn't pay for a whole head if he wanted half of it. Finally the stockboy said he had to ask his manager about the situation. As he walked into the back room, the stockboy blurted out: "Some jerk out there wants to buy only a half a head of lettuce."

The manager's eyes grew wide in shock. The stockboy turned around to find the customer standing right behind him

He quickly said, "And this gentleman here wants to buy the other half."

Coffee may keep you healthy

Is drinking coffee good for you? A recent article on The New York Times website linked to a number of different studies touting the positive effects of caffeine on several different health problems. They include:

- Liver damage. A review of data collected by studies of more than 430,000 people found that coffee may lower the risk of cirrhosis of the liver, a disease associated with overindulgence in alcohol (among other causes).
- Tinnitus. Researchers kept track of more than 65,000 women and found that those who drank more than one 8-ounce cup of coffee a day were less likely to suffer from tinnitus, that persistent ringing or buzzing in your ears.
- Auto crashes. A study of truck drivers who routinely work on long hauls found that coffee drinkers (or consumers of other caffeinated drinks) seem 63 percent less likely to be involved in crashes while driving.
- Melanoma. An analysis of health and dietary data involving more than 400,000 people ages 50-71 found that those who drank four or more cups of coffee a day were 20 percent less likely to develop skin cancer. (The researchers cautioned that avoiding exposure to the sun's ultraviolet rays is still the most important way to avoid melanoma.)

State of health: What's the best place for you to live?

Where you live may affect your health, at least according to the Gallup/Healthways Well-Being Index. Their most recent report (using data from 2014) ranked all 50 states in order of health. The top 10 healthiest states?

- Alaska
- Hawaii
- South Dakota
- Wyoming
- Montana
- Colorado
- Nebraska
- Utah
- New Mexico
- Texas

The least healthy state, according to the Index, was West Virginia. The Index looks at a variety of factors, including purpose, social relationships, financial stability, community, and physical health.
