RECIPE OF THE MONTH

FARM-STYLE CASSEROLE

Ingredients:

- 1 Tablespoon canola oil
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 can (about 14 ounces) diced tomatoes
- 1 cup frozen corn
- 1 cup frozen baby lima beans
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon dried oregano
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 cups cooked macaroni or other pasta
- 1 cup crushed tortilla chips

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees
2. Heat oil in large nonstick skillet over medium heat. Add onion and garlic; cook and stir 5 to 6 minutes or until onion is tender. Add beef; brown 6 to 8 minutes, stirring to break up meat. Drain fat
3. Add tomatoes, corn, lima beans, salt, oregano, and pepper; cook and stir over high heat 5 minutes or until all liquid is evaporated. Stir in macaroni. Transfer to 9-inch square baking dish; sprinkle with tortilla chips
4. Bake 20 minutes or until heated through.

Makes 4 to 6 servings

FROM THE OFFICE

Some of this article repeats what I said last month, but I believe it is important information for everyone.

Yvette and I continue to monitor the email as well as the answering machine; Please do not fill the answering machine with useless messages; while I am trying to keep the Park safe, I am not doing any face to face visiting. If you feel you have an urgent matter that you need to discuss with me, I am at Lot 1721. Again, please use common sense on what is urgent.

Seeing as how it is not “business as usual”, I will not be posting 7 day notices; the Park rule violations that have not been remedied will be top priority when the office and Courts reopen. I will be sending out letters with a generous time frame to remedy whatever your situation may be.

Rent is still due on the 1st, late on the 5th, but, as always, I will work with anyone having a hard time paying the rent if this virus has effected you. As long as the Government stays up and running and checks are mailed, you have no excuse for not paying the rent if this is your main source of income. Should the Office remain closed, you can put your May rent check in the office door, in the slot that says “US MAIL”. If you normally pay in cash, get a money order (free at Amscot or available at Publix).

Being a Senior Park, all residents are in the high risk bracket; stay in the Park as much as possible; go for walks, sit by the Lake, ride your bike, take a daily golf cart ride, etc. Check on your neighbors; if you have extra supplies and you know of someone in need, please share. If you have been exposed and told to self-isolate, please do so.

I left the Laundromats open, as well as the Library. I felt that the Library has valuable resources to keep the residents occupied during this stress full time, and there is never 10 or more people there at a time.

Several residents have contacted me about other residents who continue to have “carport” parties. By now you know my motto, “You can’t fix stupid”. It’s sad to know that these residents have no regards for other residents.

I have asked the Realtors to not show mobile homes during this time; if they choose to show them anyway, I will not be accepting tenant applications. This decision is based on the fact that I have no way of knowing if these prospective tenants have been taking any Covid-19 precautions; my concern is the health and welfare of the residents.

We are approaching hurricane season, please review the guidelines you need to follow in the case of a hurricane.

As you may have noticed, new stop signs have been installed-they are larger and the posts are taller. Unfortunately some residents still can’t see them!

I am also receiving complaints that people that walk their dogs on the grass between the Park and Publix are not using doggie bags; if this continues, you may find that this area will be closed to dog walking by the owners and/or city. Again, a few bad apples may spoil this for everyone.

There will be no May meeting, I will schedule a Manager’s Meeting for June 10th, 9:00 A.M. for coffee and cake, meeting at 9:30 a.m. Signs will be posted to confirm (or cancel) this meeting based on what the current “safe at home” order is.

BOOK REPORT

Heather Dixon is a writer, illustrator, animator, and the author of “Entwined”. Currently she is working as a freelance storyboard artist for animated films. Heather lives in West Jordan.

Entwined is the story of a family dealing with life and death and sorrow and joy. Azalea is the eldest of twelve girls whose father just happens to be the King. She loves to dance. Azalea is very happy until her mom dies giving birth to Lily. Her father puts the household into mourning making the girls wear black dresses and banning dancing. Like any other child will do she sneaks dancing with the help of the Keeper. The Keeper has his own agenda and it isn't good. Read the book, it is very good!

Don't forget the Library is open daily 10 – 6. Forgive our mess because we are making room for more books and things. We are going to add a toy section for when the Grandkids visit.

Wi-Fi can be accessed from the screen room 24/7

We also have towels and Embassy mail boxes for fundraisers. Come and enjoy your Library.

INTERESTING TIMES

This is a note about the trip Marg and I had getting back to Nova Scotia.

Marg cancelled our original flight on Sunwing, scheduled April 8th, due to concern about flights being cancelled, borders being closed, etc. After some back and forth, she booked a flight on Air Canada for March 22. Sunwing says they won't refund, but we will follow up.

So Cathy took us to Tampa airport, and on the way over we were chatting and happened to mention that we couldn't find face masks. So Cathy said “No problem, I have a couple here in the car” and she gave them to us. Thanks Cathy we really made good use of those masks...

The route was Tampa-Montreal-Halifax. The flight to Montreal was uneventful, full flight, no problems. As we waited in Montreal Marg went to the food court for a snack and a guy came along and sat down next to where Marg had been, so I thought no problem, until he sneezed and began sniffing. I thought “Marg will not be impressed” so I grabbed my mask, and gathered up our stuff and got another seat.

So Marg came back and we took our new seats. Then the guy went out, and after a while came back, and sat down beside us again. Being friendly, I guess. But then he wandered off again. Then he got on our flight but was nowhere near us. But the lady across the aisle from us was sneezing for most of the flight, but she was wearing a mask, and as you might guess so were we.

Our daughter Julie and her husband, Gordie, took our car to the airport and left it for us and we have been under house arrest for the last 2 weeks.

Julie did our grocery shopping for us, and a neighbor got our mail. So now we are on probation, with attached conditions, you know the drill, isolate, sanitize, wipe, in other words, wipe, swipe, gripe and complain.

Today we had the repair guys in, one to fix our washing machine, which quit on the first rinse cycle 2 weeks ago, and the plumber to fix our leaky toilet tank, which began leaking when we got back. No one allowed in while we were under quarantine. We have another toilet, not a big deal. And lots of underwear, or if not rinse something out. And both items fixed first trip, that has to be some kind of record. God is kind to sinners. Yes, interesting times.

THE SEQUELS: AVRO-ARROW/MOON LANDING

So Betty Bratschun read my story about Dr. Lloyd Thompson who had connections to both the Avro Arrow and moon landing, and she remembered meeting Mr. Thompson when he visited with Betty Pickles at Embassy. So Betty says she and Mr. Thompson just hit it off right away, which most people do anyway when they meet Betty.

Betty talked Dr. Thompson into doing a skit with her for Fun Night. Betty was the surgeon and Lloyd the patient, so Betty operated with mallet (anesthetic). And knife (scalpel) and evidently did wonders. Apparently Dr. Lloyd had swallowed some balloons which Betty was able to extract. Anyway, Lloyd survived and was still on speaking terms with Betty afterwards.

Thanks for the memories Betty.

The other sequel concerns the Avro Arrow fighter plane. I was talking with Bill Burt who had read the story about the Arrow. It twiggged a memory way back in Bill's minds, and Bill does go way back, not quite to the dinosaurs, but close friend, and etc. who had worked at the plant. Bill gave me a copy of that photo.

Thanks very much Bill, I really appreciate having that photo. I plan to frame it, but first I want to make a copy and do a little photo shopping on the copy. The background and the plane are so close in color that the plane doesn't stand out that well. It is a real pretty plane, with the swept-back wings and square engines. Then I can frame both pictures. And then I have to find a place to hang them. That could start some conversations. Thanks again Bill.

The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. ## Limit your spending to stay on budget

When you're saving, you have to pay attention to the small stuff. Here are three simple strategies to help curb your spending and cut down on unnecessary expenses.

- Be your own barista. Skip the lines, the strain on your budget, and the extra calories by brewing your own coffee at home. In fact, bring your own soda, juice, and any other beverages you like to drink throughout the day.
- Organize a lunch swap. One day you make and bring lunch for yourself and a co-worker. The next day, she does the same for you. Don't have a lunch buddy? No problem, brown bag last night's leftovers instead of grabbing takeout.
- Shop smart. Use coupons and hit up the sales. Stock up on your favorite shampoo, personal items, and shelf-stable foods so that you won't have to pay full price in the future.

The neighborly thing to do

It's a good idea to keep on good terms with your neighbors and be—well—neighborly. Here are a few tips that will help you do just that.

- Make a good first effort. When new neighbors move in, go over and greet them. Bring food or another small gift.
- Help out. Lend your neighbors items they might need—and also make sure you return things you borrow in a timely manner. When your neighbors are going out of town or dealing with a crisis, offer to walk the dog, water plants or pick up mail.
- Never pop in. Always call first.
- Be respectful. If you live in a neighborhood of early-to-bedders, keep the noise down at appropriate hours.
- Establish rapport. Organize block parties, park cleanups, and other community events as a way to connect and bond with your neighbors.

Politeness and consideration for others is like investing pennies and getting dollars back.

Sea turtles may be eating ocean plastic

---

Plastic in the ocean is a growing environmental threat, and ecologists have recently recognized a new danger—to sea turtles. The Science News website reports that plastic in ocean water smells like food to the turtles, who then eat it or get tangled up in it and die.

Plastic debris in the ocean degrades, producing a chemical gas that smells like phytoplankton, an important source of nutrition to birds and fish. A study of loggerhead sea turtles in tanks found that the turtles generally avoid fresh plastics. Then scientists puffed air into the tanks containing the scent of food and ocean-cooked plastic. That led to the turtles foraging more above water for food, and they were unable to distinguish between the smell of food or plastic. Thus, they were more likely to either eat the plastic or get entangled in it, both of which are harmful.

Another reminder to be careful of what you throw in the trash. You don't know where it might end up.

Embrace conservation

If you want to conserve natural resources and improve your quality of life, choose three of the following ways suggested by environmental activist David Suzuki:

1. Reduce home energy use by 10%.
2. Choose an energy-efficient home and appliances.
3. Don't use pesticides.
4. Eat meat-free meals one day a week.
5. Buy locally grown and produced food.
6. Choose a fuel-efficient vehicle.
7. Walk, bike, carpool, or take transit.
8. Choose a home close to work or school.
9. Support alternative transportation.
10. Learn more and share with others.

A rare second chance

It's rare that second chances come our way. Yet when they do, we're often foiled by others' unwillingness to allow us to redeem ourselves. Here's a tale of one man's strange odyssey from throwing love away to picking up the pieces.

He was in the hospital for heart bypass surgery. He was not a model husband or father: He'd fueled his last 20 years with alcohol and routinely abused his wife. Now, his heart had stopped beating, and because a doctor's job is not to judge, the attending surgeon worked for three hours to revive the 70-something-year-old man.

The effort was successful with one mysterious exception: The man suffered a brain injury during the resuscitation and could no longer remember the last 20 years of his life. In fact, he was convinced he was a 50-something-year-old man—had the strength and energy of one—and began behaving as such.

And something else happened when the clock turned back: He stopped drinking and he stopped abusing his wife. He now treated her with love and respect. After a few months, he began to recall about 10 years of his past life, but that didn't nudge him back into his old habits. For the next year, his family had the opportunity to know him and love him as a model father and husband. And then one night, this second chance at love and life unexpectedly ended: The man died in his sleep.

His legacy? A message to love as well as you can, whenever you can, as much as you can.

The great use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast us.

—William James

Seek connection, not attention. It lasts longer.

—Wesam Fawzi
