Congratulations to all for a successful year to come

Diane Wheeler, Administrative Assistant's message:

Summer will soon be starting. Please be aware that if you have work to do on your homes please get out early before the heat gets too hot and drink lots of water to prevent dehydration and heat stroke.

For those with work to do and minimal budget, I am including a list of resources. If you do not have transportation to get free items at the dump, I will arrange to pick up what you need.

Pinellas dump has chemicals available for free, such as paint, cleaning supplies, pest control and gardening chemicals. These are available on a first come basis. Their hours are Monday through Friday 6-6 and Saturday 7-5. They are located at 2855 109th Avenue North, just south of 118th Avenue North, St. Petersburg.

Habitat for Humanity has a construction thrift store at 13355 49th Street North, in Clearwater. Depending on availability they may have appliances, furniture, as well as construction materials. Their phone number is (727)209-2199. Hours of operation are: Monday through Friday 9-5 and Saturday 9-4.

Mobile Home Depot Parts Warehouse can be expensive, but they carry those odd parts for older homes you cannot find anywhere else. They are at 13777 66th Street North in Largo. The phone number is (727)535-1100. Their hours of operation are Monday through Friday 9-5.

Also, if you look on Craig's List under materials, people offer them free or at a discounted price.

Thank you all for your help and please remember to pick up after your dogs and yourself.

April started off with a “Hawaiian Luau Street Party”. There was Hawaiian Music, leis, beverages, Hawaiian food, dancing in the street, tiki torches, and a fire pit. Everyone had a wonderful time!!!

As of this date there are no further activities but keep checking the bulletin boards for details.

More snow birds are leaving this month. Have a wonderful summer everyone and be safe!!

Not the end of the world

In 1833, Abraham Lincoln witnessed a meteor shower that rained shooting stars from the sky. At the time, people throughout North America were sure that the meteors signaled the end of the world. The young Lincoln used the memory to bring home a point decades later.

During a meeting with a large delegation of bank presidents during the darkest days of the Civil War, one of the bank presidents asked Lincoln if his confidence in the survival of the Union was waning even a little bit.

Lincoln answered: "When I was a young man in Illinois, I boarded for a time with a deacon of the Presbyterian church. One night I was roused from my sleep by a rap at the door and I heard the deacon's voice exclaiming, 'Arise, Abraham, the day of judgment has come.' I sprang from my bed and rushed to the window and saw the stars falling in great showers.

"But looking back ... I saw all the grand old constellations with which I was so well acquainted, fixed and true in their places. Gentlemen, the world did not come to an end then, nor will the Union now."

Citizens vs. scientists: A look at the gap

Americans are generally supportive of science, with 79 percent saying that it's made life easier for most people. But a Pew Research Center study that compared U.S. citizens with members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science found some interesting discrepancies in attitudes. Here's how some issues compare:

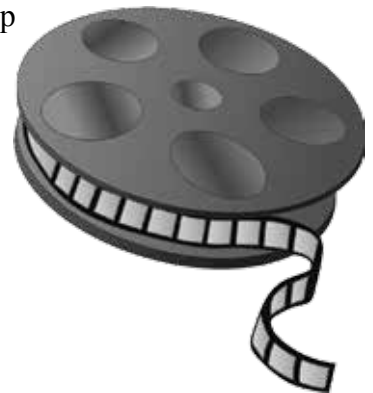

- Genetically modified foods. Are they safe to eat? Yes, say 88 percent of scientists; no, according to 37 percent of U.S. adults.
- Animal testing. Acceptable to 89 percent of scientists; no way, say 47 percent of citizens.
- Climate change. It's mostly the result of human activity, 87 percent of scientists say, but only 50 percent of U.S. citizens agree.
- Offshore oil drilling. Fifty-two percent of scientists are on board with this; 32 percent of nonscientists are opposed.

One area where scientists and the public are in closer agreement is the International Space Station: Sixty-eight percent of scientists and 64 percent of citizens agree that it's been a good investment.

Tickets prices, other factors keep moviegoers home

Movies these days may have mind-bending CGI and top stars, but that doesn't mean they're drawing more people to the theater. The year 2014 saw a 5 percent dropoff in domestic box office revenues, mostly because, according to PricewaterhouseCoopers, 25 percent of Americans went to fewer movies last year than they did in 2013. Their reasons:

- | | |
|---------------------------------|------------|
| • Ticket prices too high | 53 percent |
| • Movies not as interesting | 41 percent |
| • Prefer movies on own schedule | 31 percent |
| • Prefer other activities | 29 percent |
| • Prefer new releases at home | 24 percent |

We are mere operatives, empirics, and egotists, until we learn to think in letters instead of figures.

It's simple to play ... when you patronize a current advertiser, ask for a Monthly Mania ticket (or a reasonable facsimile) and fill it out completely. Put the ticket in our Monthly Mania drop box in your community or mail your paid receipt to us at Monthly Media • PO Box 1023 • Venice, FL 34284. That's all you do. At the end of the month the Publishers will pick up the tickets and hold a drawing. If your ticket is drawn, we mail you a check.
