Scribe Nancy Labbe's Message:

October, the beginning of cooler weather and the snowbirds start to come South! The regular activities in the park should begin. Bingo, Shuffleboard, Mah Jongg, Texas Hold 'Em, Pool and possibly new activities. Let the fun begin!

I am sure everyone remembers the State of Florida meeting with Irma last year. It was a devastating encounter but no lives were lost in Glen Ellen. There was damage to properties, no power, no water and no gas but we all prevailed!

A special thank you to Bruce and Laurie Kestler and all their helpers for the Labor Day picnic. We thank you!

Enjoy the cooler weather everyone.

Manager Bob Kelsey's Message:

---

As we all know September 2017 was an eventful month with Hurricane Irma. Let's not be complacent this year and everyone be sure to have adequate supplies and heed the warnings should any be issued in the coming months. Storm season gets very active for Florida come September through the end of November. Please let's practice safety and precaution.

Just a few reminders from the office:

Pet Owners please be courteous and respectful of other residents of the community by adhering to the following: 1} Dogs must be on leashes at all times without exception. 2] Please do not walk your pet in other residents' yards. 3} Please remember to register your new pets with the office and 4] Before purchasing or bringing a new pet into your home or the community, please ensure the pet meets the criteria set forth per the Community Rules and Regulations.

Guests/Visitors: 1] All guests and visitors must be registered with the community office and 2] Guest and/or visitors are only allowed to stay a maximum of two weeks per calendar year.

Failure to follow community rules and regulations can result in management seeking other remedies enforceable under our current agreement up to and including legal action.

If anyone has any questions please check with Stephanie in the office or call me, Bob at 727-585-2850.

Let us all take a few minutes to welcome back our snowbirds as they start flocking to Glen Ellen.

I would also like to say I look forward to meeting everyone in the near future.

Did you know that October is also...

National Apple Month. Because apples are high in fiber and contain no sodium, cholesterol, or fat, they make a great snack. With more than 2,500 varieties grown in North America, it won't be difficult to find one you can enjoy chopped into your morning oatmeal, baked into a pie, or cored and sliced any time of the day when you want a delicious treat.

International Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) Awareness Month. AAC is a set of strategies, tools, and devices used by people to overcome communication challenges. People who rely on AAC might use sign language, text, pictures, symbols, speech-generating devices or a combination of these for their basic communication. This month let's increase our awareness of the possibilities that could develop when everyone has the ability communicate effectively.

National Work and Family Month. In 2003 the U.S. government designated October as a time to promote sensible, flexible, and healthy work environments, as well as the benefits of work/life balance. Don't wait for your employer to create an initiative or perk to combat the daily grind. Take a day or more of PTO to decompress from your busy life and reconnect with your family.

Positive Attitude Month. Researchers believe people who embrace a positive outlook have less stress, an increased sense of well-being, better coping skills, and longer life spans. Purge the negativity from your life: Meditate, pray, practice positive affirmations, and surround yourself with only happy people. Do whatever you must, but always look on the bright side.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13. This year's motto is "Look. Listen. Learn. Be aware. Fire can happen anywhere." Look for and eliminate potential fire hazards in your home. Listen for the sound of smoke alarms. Learn two ways of exiting every room in the event of an emergency. Visit the National Fire Protection Association website at <https://www.nfpa.org/Public-Education/Campaigns/Fire-Prevention-Week> to access more information.

Bone and Joint Action Week, Oct. 12-20. It's estimated that more than half of the U.S. population over 18 is dealing with some sort of musculoskeletal issue. This can include arthritis, osteoporosis, back pain, injuries or other conditions causing pain, disability, and a diminished quality of life. There is hope. Visit the website for the U.S. Bone and Joint Initiative at <https://www.usbj.org/> to find out about research, prevention, and initiatives targeting bone and joint issues

National Taco Day, Oct. 4. Have one for breakfast, lunch, dinner, or any time of the day. We celebrate the taco on this day just to give you one more reason to enjoy them.

Trends in U.S. dining: Quick decisions and lots of delivery

Diners in the United States are pretty spur-of-the-moment when it comes to deciding where to go out to eat, according to a survey cited on the Fast Casual website. Eighty-five percent make their dinner decision on the day of the meal.

Delivery is a popular option among all age groups, from Baby Boomers to Generation Z (born 1995–2010 or so). Fifty-one percent in the survey said they'd gotten food delivered in the past three months, with millennials doing the most ordering—77 percent of the age group.

What are people ordering?

- Burgers (28 percent)
- Wings (27 percent)
- Mexican (21 percent)
- Barbecue (14 percent)
- Desserts (11 percent)

Anyone who considers arithmetical methods of producing random digits is, of course, in the state of sin. For, as has been pointed out several times, there is no such thing as a random number—there are only methods to produce random numbers, and a strict arithmetic procedure of course is not such a method.

Thinking of a fast? Try these approaches

Many people practice intermittent fasting—going without food for a limited period of time. Benefits include fat loss, greater longevity, and better overall health. The Medical News Today website offers these strategies for fasting:

- Twelve hours. Some researchers say that fasting for 10–16 hours can cause your body to start burning fat and turning it into energy. The easiest way to do a 12-hour fast is to start at night. Fasting from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m., for example, means you won't spend all day reminding yourself that you're not eating, so you avoid the temptation to give in when hunger pangs start to rise.

- Two-day fast. You don't have to go completely without food, but under this plan, men should eat only 600 calories a day and women should consume 500. Separate the days—don't go two days in a row. Instead, plan at least one non-fasting day between your efforts. Studies suggest that this can help reduce weight and also improve insulin levels.

- Every other day. Again, limit yourself to 500–600 calories per day on your fast, but eat as much as you want on non-fast days. One study found that this is effective for weight loss and heart health. It's a little extreme, though, and may not be suitable or sustainable for long periods of time.

- Twenty-four hours. Once a week, abstain from eating for a full 24 hours—maybe from one breakfast to the next. You can drink coffee, tea, or other calorie-free beverages during your fast. Return to your normal routine afterward. Be aware, though, that this fast can cause fatigue, headaches, and/or irritability.

- Skip a meal. This type of fast is good for beginners. Instead of fasting for long periods of time, simply skip breakfast, lunch, or dinner. Just remember to eat nutritious and healthful foods during your other meals.

It's important to stay hydrated during your fast, with lots of calorie-free drinks. Try not to obsess about food—plan distractions, like going to the movies or catching up on chores. Finally, avoid strenuous activity when you fast. Rest and relaxation will help you maintain your motivation.

Nanotubes in your clothes may power your phone

Someday you may not have to remember to plug your smartphone in to recharge it. Scientists are working on clothes that will charge your phone for you, according to the Science Daily website. The fabric contains carbon nanotubes, replacing polyester and other artificial fibers. At present the nanotubes are too expensive to mass produce, but researchers are looking at military applications that may allow soldiers' equipment to recharge—lights, communication gear, and night-vision capabilities.

The widow and her sheep

An old fable tells the story of a poor widow who owned only one sheep. When the time came for it to be shorn, she decided to save the money she'd have to pay the shearer and handle the job herself.

“How difficult can it be?” she thought and then set about shearing the wool from the sheep. Of course, she had no idea what was doing and caused great injury to the animal as she attempted to shear the fleece.

“Oh, why do you torture me so?” cried the sheep. “My blood will not increase the value of my fleece. If you want me dead, simply send me to the butcher.”

The widow was taken aback. Not only had she done a poor job of shearing and would not make much profit from the wool, but the wounds she created for the animal would require attention from the vet and an expense she could not afford to pay.

Saving the grass and so much more

When a Florida man collapsed while doing yard work, his wife called 911. First responders arrived within minutes to find Gene Work having a heart attack. He lapsed in and out of consciousness as they stabilized him and transported him to the hospital.

His wife, Melissa, was at his side on the ambulance ride. She was shocked that he kept fretting over the lawn each time he regained consciousness. He was worried the sod he wasn't able to put down would die. Work was rushed into surgery, and thankfully his life was saved that day.

Yet Work's pleas had not fallen on deaf ears. Though Melissa's brother-in-law stayed behind to finish the lawn, he soon received help from the same firefighters who saved Gene Work's life.

After delivering him to the hospital, members of the Pasco County Fire Department returned to Work's home and finished laying his sod. “We believe in helping the community whenever we are needed ...” read a post on the department's Facebook page.

Little did they know that Work had been under increasing pressure to finish his lawn or face a hefty fine from his homeowners association. Nor were they aware of Melissa Work's own health issues, adding to the family's stress.

One thing we should all remember: Never let your problems consume your life, because there are always good-hearted people, closer than you might realize, who are willing to help.

Migration from Africa may have started earlier

Early humans may have migrated from Africa hundreds of thousands of years earlier than was previously thought, reports the U.S. News & World Report website. Stone tools found in China have been dated as 2.1 million years old, making them older than skulls and artifacts unearthed in Georgia, which are 1.8 million years old.

Ninety-five artifacts were discovered in the Loess Plateau, which is north of the Qinling mountains that divide the north and south of China. They include chipped rocks, fragments, and hammer stones. The artifacts were spread through layers of dirt, evidence that humans may have used the same site many different times. Scientists also found bones of deer and pigs mixed in with the tools, but so far they can't say whether the tools were used to hunt.

Giant dinosaur unearthed in Argentina

The earliest-known giant dinosaur was a four-legged plant-eater with a medium-length neck and long tail. It walked the Earth some 210 million years ago, and the remains of one have recently been discovered in Argentina's San Juan Province, according to the Reuters website.

Scientists have named the big dino Ingentia prima—"the first giant." It was about 33 feet long and weighed approximately 10 tons, with legs less like pillars than the giant sauropods that came after it, and a shorter neck.

Ingentia wasn't only the largest dinosaur of its time, but the biggest land animal of any kind up to that period, at least twice as large as other plant-eaters it shared the warm environment with.

Exoplanet may have life-sustaining environment

Astronomers have found a new planet with a temperate climate that could support life, according to the Sci-News website. The planet, Ross 128b, orbits a cool red dwarf star that's just 11 light-years from Earth. The planet is about 1.35 times more massive than our world. Using spectrography, scientists determined that the iron levels in the star are similar to those of our sun, which can influence the development of planets.

Astronomers at Brazil's National Observatory calculated Ross 128b's mass and then estimated the planet's radius. The findings indicated that Ross 128b should have a rocky surface. They were also able to measure the temperature of the planet by observing how much of the distant star's light reflects off its surface. Results showed that Ross 128B probably has a temperate climate.

"Although Ross 128b is not Earth's twin," the scientists say, "and there is still much we don't know about its potential geologic activity, we were able to strengthen the argument that it's a temperate planet that could potentially have liquid water on its surface."
