TRASH & TREASURE

Jim & Marilyn Alcoba

We would like to take this time to "Thank" all the people who helped with this annual sale. It is a lot of work and would be impossible to accomplish without you! Everyone that volunteered, donated, or made a purchase during the year is what makes Trash & Treasure what it is. This year was also successful because so many homes were sold. So it is time to start another year and there is no better time to start going through your unneeded items. There is someone out there who needs or wants them.....maybe they just don't know it yet!

In next month's Gazette there will be a complete breakdown of how all the sections did but that information was unavailable when this copy was due. According to my notes our presale amount as of January 4th was $5,004.50. Provided my addition is correct!!

Again we would like to thank everyone who participated in ANY WAY!!!

NEEDLEWORK

Barbara Strachan

The colder weather is keeping us inside again, and I think it's time to get together for some needlework. I've received many knit and crochet patterns from two great online sites. allfreeknitting.com and allfreecrocheting.com

Just type either into your browser and find something you'd like to create. Or maybe you have a project of your own, or one that's grown a little stale on you. Bring it along and join the group and before you know it you'll have it finished.

I'm aiming to do this on Mondays, and I hope this is a good day for everyone. Seems like the other days are busy for some. I thought we could meet at 10:00am and stay till 11:30am or so.

The schedule will be as follows:

Monday January 18

Monday February 8

Monday February 15

Monday February 22

Monday February 29 (Leap Year)

March's schedule will be in the next Gazette. If you'd like to learn how to knit or crochet I have tons of needles and lots of yarn for starter projects, so you do not have to buy anything right away. Let me know if you want me to bring something for you to start, either knit or crochet.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Is it good if a vacuum really sucks?

IN MEMORY OF

John Bailey, Lot 109, who passed away in early January. Our condolences to his family.

FROM THE SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Catherine Cutting, President

Thank you to Janet Green for her efforts in developing what looks like a fantastic Social calendar for 2016 at Glenwood Estates. My husband John and I have enjoyed many events since we came to Glenwood in August. One of the reasons we chose Glenwood Estates was the welcome we received when we first came to look at the park. We barely reached the clubhouse when people gathered around our vehicle to answer questions. We knew this is where we wanted to be.

I hope to continue that friendly, welcoming atmosphere during my tenure as President of the Social Committee. I ask for your patience and commitment as I ease myself into this position. I'm very impressed with the level of commitment the members of this committee offer to this community. Hopefully, this will continue as we move forward. Volunteers are always welcome!

We are in the process of planning the Valentine's Dinner Party. The event is scheduled for Saturday, February 13, 2016.

Please, do not hesitate to let me know your concerns and suggestions as we go about providing the variety of activities our residents are accustomed to here at Glenwood.

The history of Black History Month

We owe much of our greater understanding of black history to Carter G. Woodson. Born to former slaves, Woodson worked hard and against the tide of prejudice to obtain his own education. In earning his doctorate from Harvard, Woodson was disturbed to find that during his studies, history books virtually ignored the black American population. So he decided to take on the challenge of writing black Americans into the history books.

He established the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (now called the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History) in 1915, and a year later founded the widely respected Journal of Negro History. Then in 1926, he launched Negro History Week, the precursor to Black History Month, as an initiative to bring national attention to the contributions of black people throughout American history.

February was chosen as Black History Month for the significant events and people who figured prominently in black American history. For example:

- Feb. 23, 1868: Civil rights leader and co-founder of the NAACP, W.E.B. DuBois, was born.
- Feb. 3, 1870: The 15th Amendment was passed, granting blacks the right to vote.
- Feb. 25, 1870: The first black U.S. senator, Hiram R. Revels (1822-1901), took his oath of office.
- Feb. 12, 1909: The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was founded by a group of concerned black and white citizens in New York City.
- Feb. 1, 1960: A group of black Greensboro, North Carolina, college students began a sit-in at a segregated Woolworth's lunch counter. The event marks a watershed moment in the civil-rights movement.

Valentine's Day doesn't have to break the bank

Looking for something to do with your sweetheart on Valentine's Day that's not too expensive? Try these ideas:

- Read a story together. Buy two copies of your favorite book or story (or borrow them from your library) and spend the evening discussing it. You may both learn things you didn't know about the story (and each other).
- Team up on a new recipe. Instead of going out to a restaurant, delve into your cookbooks and find a meal to collaborate on. Choose something different and challenging, and enjoy the results.
- Visit a museum. Your town probably has a museum (or two) that you've never been to. Or a landmark you haven't seen yet. Select someplace new and check it out together.

Cold weather dangers to watch for.

Winter is far from over, and that means staying safe in cold weather is still important. Remember these tips for getting by until spring:

- Frostbite. Frostbite can occur in a short amount of time, especially with children. They can lose body heat quickly, sometimes in as little as 20 minutes. Dress kids warmly, but don't over bundle them, which can cause sweating and speed the loss of body heat. Also, discourage kids from eating snow, since it lowers body temperature, which can decrease resistance to frostbite.
- Carbon monoxide. Check your furnace and other heating appliances to make sure they aren't creating a danger to your co-workers or family. Carbon monoxide poisoning is often mistaken for the flu. The symptoms include achiness, headache, and nausea. Carbon monoxide is odorless and colorless, and it can affect children before it affects adults.
- Vehicles. We all know to walk carefully on icy roads and sidewalks during winter. But injuries can also stem from sliding and skidding vehicles that may not be able to stop before hitting someone. Be sure to walk in bright or reflective clothing, and be careful when walking near snow piles and drifts that may obscure your view or the view of a driver.

Expect to win

In 1974, Notre Dame's basketball team faced the national championship team from UCLA in a game that everyone expected Notre Dame to lose. According to motivational guru Zig Ziglar in his book, Success for Dummies (IDG Books Worldwide), Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps decided that his team was going to win.

The game was scheduled for Saturday afternoon. At the end of Monday's practice, he told his players to cut the nets from each basket. In basketball, cutting down the nets is a celebration of victory. After Tuesday's practice, he again told the players to cut down the nets, and every day after that. By Friday, they were cutting the nets down with confidence and enthusiasm.

And on Saturday, Phelps' team was able to cut down the nets for real, after beating UCLA in the game that Notre Dame was certain to lose. Although cutting down the nets alone didn't ensure the victory, it did get the players into a positive mindset. By the end of the week they expected to win, and so they did.

Be happy with who you are and what you do, and you can do anything you want.

—Steve Maraboli

Pay Dirt

Two young boys decided to dig a deep hole behind their house. As they were working, their parents came out on the porch to watch.

“What are you doing?” asked the mother.

“We’re going to dig a hole all the way to the other side of the world!” said one of the boys excitedly.

The father began telling them that digging a hole all the way through the earth was impossible. After a moment, though, one of the boys picked up a jar full of spiders, worms and a wide assortment of insects. He removed the lid and showed the wonderful contents to his parents. “Even if we don’t dig all the way to the other side, look what we found along the way!”

You may not reach all your goals and make all your dreams come true. But when you fall short, remember all the good things you picked up along the way.

The job’s not done until everything’s done

We all learn important lessons in our first jobs. Jay Chiat, co-founder of the advertising firm Chiat/Day, told Inc. magazine once about working as a short-order cook at his family’s drive-through Long Island restaurant. The worst part of the job, Chiat recalled, was cleaning up after the restaurant closed at 1 a.m.—scraping the grill, mopping the floors, and everything else despite being exhausted and wanting nothing more than to go home and get to bed.

But the experience taught him at least one lesson that proved helpful in his later career: “You learn that you’re not done with a project until it’s completely ready for inspection.”

Taking leave of a saint

Two brothers in a small town had a reputation for bad behavior. But they were rich enough to avoid the consequences all the time.

The pastor of the local church knew them well and tried to find the good in both of them, although this was next to impossible.

One day one of the brothers died suddenly. The other came to the church and asked the pastor to speak at his funeral.

“To be honest, I wouldn’t know what to say,” the pastor replied.

“Here.” The brother took out his checkbook. “I’m writing you a check for $10,000 for the church renovations you’re always talking about. All you have to do is tell everyone at the funeral that my brother was a saint.”

The pastor thought for a moment, then accepted the check.

At the funeral, the pastor stood before the townspeople come to see the last of one of their disliked neighbors. “I didn’t know this man well,” he said. “I do know that he cheated on his wife, and cheated everyone he did business with. But I can say one thing about him: Compared to his brother, he was a saint.”

Self-employment supports the U.S. economy

Self-employment is alive and well in the U.S., according to a Pew Research Center analysis of Census Bureau data. Ten percent of Americans workers—14.6 million people—reported being self-employed in 2014, and another 20 percent (29.4 million) said they worked for self-employed bosses.

Although the self-employed do hire others, their hiring is on a smaller scale, with only 1 in 4 having any paid employees: a median of 3 people, and an average of 8.6.

The Pew statistics show that self-employment plays a vital role in the U.S. economy: Eighty-one percent of people in the agriculture, forestry, and fishing industries were either self-employed in 2014 or worked for someone who was, along with 68 percent of workers in the construction field, and 53 percent of those in professional and business services.

Technology taking over the college classroom

College students used to invest in pens, pencils, notebooks, and maybe a pocket calculator before going to class. That's so 20th century. These days 81 percent use a mobile device like a smartphone or a tablet computer to do their studying, according to research by McGraw-Hill Education and Hanover Research.

Smartphones in particular are becoming the tool of choice, with 51 percent of students now using them for study, up from 36 percent in 2013. In general, 77 percent of college students say that technology has helped improve their grades, and 48 percent feel they save time with it.

Reduce stress with these simple steps

Stress can undercut your effectiveness at work. Every job has less than enjoyable moments, but when you start feeling ready to burst, put some of these techniques into action:

- Take a 15-minute break. Once a day, spend 15 minutes relaxing. Try meditation, a quick walk, or some inspirational reading. Don't think about your problems, just immerse yourself in the activity. You'll feel better when you get back to work.

- Learn to say no. You probably can't turn down orders from your boss, but you can take more control of your time by not letting co-workers bury you with requests. Help out as much as you can, but let people know—politely—that you've got to stick to priorities. You'll avoid being overwhelmed by extraneous tasks.

A simple favor

A man taking a walk one day noticed a small boy trying to use the doorbell on a house across the street. The boy was very short, and the doorbell was too high for him to reach.

After watching the boy's efforts for a minute, the man crossed the street to help. "Hello there," he said, ringing the bell. "What do we do now?"

The boy looked up at him. "Run!"

Best boss ever

Samantha walked into her boss's office. "Tom, my daughter's class is taking a field trip tomorrow, and they want me to drive a dozen third-graders across town to the zoo and stay there with them all day."

Tom shook his head. "Sorry, Samantha, but half the office is out sick. I can't give you the day off."

"Thanks, Tom," she said with a sigh of relief. "I knew I could count on you!"

The best example

The master of a monastery in China was known for his wise teachings. Instead of lecturing people, though, he would demonstrate his purposefulness by sweeping the steps of the monastery every morning with all his being.

Would-be disciples would come to the monastery and ask the man sweeping the steps where the master was. He would reply, "The teacher is teaching now." Because most of the aspirants were looking for a man dispensing advice, they rarely recognized the master—or understood that his "teaching" was meant to show that he was always present in his approach to work and to life.

The price of success is hard work, dedication to the job at hand, and the determination that whether we win or lose, we have applied the best of ourselves to the task at hand.

February Is...

American Heart Month. Heart disease kills an estimated 630,000 Americans each year. February has been celebrated as American Heart Month since 1963 as part of the effort to urge Americans to join the battle against heart disease. Learn how to reduce your risk through lifestyle changes and, in some cases, medication.

Black History Month. An annual observance in the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom to commemorate the history and contributions of black people. Black History Month was officially recognized by the U.S. government in 1976, with President Gerald R. Ford urging Americans to “seize the opportunity to honor the too-often neglected accomplishments of black Americans in every area of endeavor throughout our history.”

Grapefruit Month. Rediscover the naturally invigorating grapefruit. Loaded with vitamin C, grapefruit helps boost the immune system during these winter months when colds and flu are at their peak. Whether you enjoy it fresh from its golden skin or straight from a glass, there’s nothing quite like the bold taste and healthy goodness of grapefruit.

Library Lovers’ Month. Library Lovers’ Month is a month-long celebration of school, public, and private libraries of all types. This is a time for everyone, especially library support groups, to recognize the value of libraries and to work to assure that the nation’s libraries will continue to serve.

Weekly

National School Counseling Week, Feb. 1-5. Sponsored by American School Counselor Association, National School Counseling Week highlights the impact school counselors can have in helping students achieve school success and plan for a career.

Burn Awareness Week, Feb. 1-7. Designed to provide an opportunity for burn, fire, and life safety educators to unite in sharing burn awareness and prevention messages in communities, and to kick off a year full of burn awareness education.

National Entrepreneurship Week, Feb. 20-27. National Entrepreneurship Week is a celebration of a lifelong learning challenge for youths and adults interested in finding exciting career opportunities. Teachers and students can get involved at all levels, as well as entrepreneurs, policy makers, community leaders, and parents.

National Engineers Week, Feb. 21-27. Dedicated to ensuring a diverse and well-educated future engineering workforce by increasing understanding of and interest in engineering and technology careers.

How TB changed our culture

Tuberculosis once ravaged the nation, and although it's relatively rare in the U.S. now, its impact is still felt today. Here are few ways, according to "The Forgotten Plague," a PBS television series, it continues to influence U.S. culture:

- Ice cream cones. Waffle cones to hold ice cream were developed to replace the small glass containers vendors served ice cream in at the beginning of the 20th century. Customers would return the bowls for reuse, but concern about germs generated the need for something that would reduce the possibility of contagion.

- Short skirts. Long women's skirts that dragged on the ground could easily pick up germs from the streets, especially since spitting was once considered socially acceptable until concerns about disease rose. Women quickly adopted skirts and dresses with shorter hemlines that reduced the danger of picking up unwanted germs and bacteria.

- Shaving. Long beards and mustaches for men were considered stylish, but again, worries about the germs they could carry changed people's minds. The clean-shaven look caught on and became a symbol of the rising middle class.

Start your day with a breakfast that counts

Breakfast is the most important meal of the day, many experts (and moms) say, so nutrition and good choices in the morning are key to a healthy lifestyle. Keep these tips in mind to start your day off right:

- Don't skip it. You may think you're too busy or you'll save on calories. In reality, you may not have the energy you need to get going, and you'll probably be more tempted by snacks later in the day.

- Watch the sugar. A food labeled "low fat" may be high in sugar content (yogurt, for example). Juices and coffee drinks can be loaded with extra sugar as well. Keep an eye on unwanted sugar so you don't absorb needless calories—and crash later in the day.

- Get lots of protein. If you put milk on your cereal, remember to drink all of it instead of dumping it in the sink when you're finished eating. Otherwise, try a hard-boiled egg, or spread some peanut butter on your toast.

- Get plenty of fiber. Fiber makes you feel full longer. Bran flakes or an oat bran muffin (without too much sugar) can give you what you need. You can also add chia seeds or ground flax seeds to your cereal.
