Dunedin & Golden Crest Recycle Program:

As we start another winter season at Golden Crest, a reminder for all Full Time and Snowbirds returning to the Park:

- Items placed in the Blue Re-cycle Bin should be cleaned prior to placing in the bin.
A sticker on top of the re-cycle bin details what items can be re-cycled.

- Also remember on Monday's, the Blue Bins are placed at the curb for pick-up, place the Blue Bin at least 5 feet from the Green Waste (Garbage) Bin. This makes it easier for the trucks to pick up the Bins.

It would be very much appreciated if the above procedures could be followed by everyone this winter.

Thank You:

This summer has been a very Social Summer at Golden Crest, for the first time in many years.

We have had Coffee Hour every week, thanks to Nancy Ladouceur, Betsy Stevens, Carol Nash, Gary, Jim and many others. Average attendance of 25 each week.

Every Holiday or once each month we have had a Picnic or Special Pot Luck, some with Karaoke (Thanks to Donna Schaeffer, Nancy, Betsy, Carol, Carol & Arnold, and many others.

On September 30th, we had a first - a Fish Fry. We wish to thank Ken & Geri McNabb for the contribution of the fresh fish. Ken fried all the fish himself in his fryer. The fish was so good - and plentiful. We even had 'Doggie Bags' to take home for another day.

In spite of the heat this summer, our pool was frequented by many full time summer residents.

Thanks to everyone who participated and contributed to our successful summer.

Contributed by, Carol Aldrow

A troubling trend: Americans overdoing antibiotics

Antibiotics are a boon to doctors and their patients, but they pose dangers if they're overused. That makes this news especially concerning: A Texas study reported on the UPI website found that about one in 20 adults have stockpiled supplies of antibiotics in their homes and use them without a physician's advice.

The study of 400 adults in the Houston area found that 14 percent of adults have a stash of antibiotic medications in their home, and 5 percent have used them without a doctor's guidance in the past year. The medications come from a variety of sources: 40 percent came from a store or pharmacy, 24 percent were purchased outside the United States, 20 percent came from family or friends, and 12 percent were left over from past prescriptions.

In 4 percent of cases, the drugs obtained without a prescription were intended for use on animals, not humans.

Millennials worry about debt

Millennials aren't the carefree kids you might think they are. A FICO survey found that they're concerned about debt—with good reason. According to FICO's online survey of approximately 1,000 Americans over 17, 32 percent of millennials owe $20,000 or more in student loans, and 45 percent owe at least $7,000 on car loans.

In all, 37 percent of millennials ages 25-34 say they're concerned about their level of debt, and 33 percent would like assistance in managing their debt. For example, 65 percent would like to receive an email alert when their student loan payments are overdue by less than 90 days, and 35 percent want to be notified by app when their mortgage payments are less than 90 days late (but they'd prefer a phone call if their payments are more than 90 days overdue).

These tiny robots may save your life

The newest medical robots look and move like bacteria, and they can deliver medications to specific locations within the human body and perform intricate surgeries like clearing clogged arteries.

According to the Science Daily website, a team of scientists is working to develop a selection of biological robots that are soft, flexible, and move through bodies under the control of an electromagnetic field. Once they reach their destination, they're heated to change shape, mimicking—for example—the bacterium that causes African trypanosomiasis, or sleeping sickness. Although still in development, these microrobots could revolutionize the way patients are treated in the not-so-distant future.

Get more creativity with a clear focus

Creativity and innovation aren't always accidental. A consistent focus will produce better results, so you don't have to wait for lightning to strike. Try these techniques to spur your imagination as you work:

- Start your day with a purpose. Instead of rushing out the door without a plan, spend a few minutes in the morning thinking about what you want to accomplish that day. Do this before checking your cell phone or email. You'll be less likely to get distracted by other demands.
- Shake up your routine. Get out of your comfort zone so you aren't always surrounded by what's familiar. Get up earlier than normal, take a new route to work, do your tasks in a different order, try something new and exciting—anything to shake your mind free of its preconceptions and look at your work in a different light.
- Be mindful. Don't go on autopilot. Pay attention to everything around you—the people you work with, the tasks you work on, the environment you work in, and so forth. The more aware you are of what's going on, the more likely you'll see a new connection or find an idea where you least expect it.

Don't be afraid to ask questions

Alyssa Mastro Monaco was deputy chief of staff in the Obama White House until 2014. She told a radio station an important lesson she learned early on about the importance of asking questions:

During an Oval Office meeting on the economic crisis, she was close to panic, worried that the president would ask her a question about issues she knew nothing about, such as quantitative easing. She began quickly writing down key words and phrases to look up later.

Economic adviser Larry Summers noticed and tapped her on the shoulder. "Come to my office later," he said.

Worried that Summers was mad at her, Mastro Monaco went to his office after the meeting. Summers asked about her list.

When she told him what she'd written down and why, Summers said, "I'll tell you anything you need to know." He proceeded to give her a quick lesson on economics. She left the office feeling relieved—and better informed than before. Nowadays she knows that admitting you don't know something is better informed than pretending you do—and she never thinks asking for information is stupid.

A lesson in determination

British runner Derek Redmond was one of the favorites for a gold medal in the 400-meter spring at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona. But halfway through the race, Redmond—in the lead—collapsed on the track with a hamstring injury.

Medical staff rushed to help him, but Redmond waved them away. He somehow got to his feet and started staggering down the track. With thousands watching, and officials unsure of what to do, Redmond's father ran out to him.

“You don't have to do this, son,” he said.

“Yes, I do,” Redmond replied.

His father helped Redmond down the track, tears streaming down both their faces, waving away anyone who tried to stop them.

The crowd roared when Redmond finally crossed the finish line. The feat is considered by many to be the defining moment of the Barcelona Olympics.

Keep learning at any age

As you and your family members age, you may find you have more difficulty remembering things. Try to help you stay on top of the knowledge game and keep you learning as you age:

- Visualize. Mentally rehearse an event, conversation or activity before it actually happens. This visualization helps eliminate the stress you may feel over the unknown. Plus, when you're more relaxed, you're better able to learn.
- Take a break and exercise. If you're trying to remember information you're reading, take frequent breaks. Don't just sit around, though. Engage in some kind of activity to keep your mind alert and your blood flowing.
- Focus on concentrating. Distractions are the bane of any learning attempt. If you're attending a class or lecture, sit near the instructor and maintain eye contact with him or her. Try not to fidget; simply relax into the session and let your focused attention do the job.
- Say it out loud. Read aloud the material you're trying to learn and repeat out loud the facts you want to retain. This way, both your mind and your ears are taking in information.
- Tame frustration. If you grow frustrated over material you're trying to learn, remind yourself that getting emotional will only hamper your ability to retain information. If you have to, step back and take a long break.

Did you know that November is also...

National Epilepsy Awareness Month. Learn about the different types of seizures and how to prevent them—or help someone suffering from them. A seizure is a short change in normal brain activity that can cause changes in awareness, behavior, or body movement. Because anyone can have a seizure, recognizing symptoms and knowing how to help is vital.

Native American Heritage Month. Established at the turn of the 20th century as an effort to gain a day of recognition for the significant contributions the first Americans. In 1990 President George H. W. Bush approved a joint resolution designating that November “National American Indian Heritage Month.” Similar proclamations have been issued each year since 1994.

Military Family Appreciation Month. Throughout November, military families serving around the world are honored and recognized for their commitment and the many contributions they make every day in support of the military and our nation.

National Animal Shelter and Rescue Appreciation Week, Nov. 3-9. Approximately 3,500 animal shelters across the United States serve the estimated 6 million to 8 million homeless animals who need refuge each year. Get acquainted with your local shelters and rescuers, and learn how you can assist their lifesaving work.

National Nurse Practitioner Week, Nov. 13-19. Held annually to celebrate these exceptional health care providers and to remind lawmakers of the importance of removing outdated barriers to practice so that NPs will be able to practice to the full extent of their experience and education.

American Education Week, Nov. 14-18. The 2016 theme, “Great Public Schools: A Basic Right and Our Responsibility,” will present all Americans with an opportunity to celebrate public education and honor individuals who are making a difference in ensuring that every child receives a high-quality education.

U.S. Election Day, Nov. 8. Get out and vote!

World Diabetes Day, Nov. 14. Celebrated worldwide by the more than 230 member associations of the International Diabetes Federation in more than 160 countries and territories.

International Games Day, Nov. 19. Raising awareness of games and gaming in libraries to publishers and the public around the world.

Thanksgiving, Nov. 24. Turkey, football, pumpkin pie, and family. What could be better?

Your fish may know what you look like

Dogs and primates can recognize human faces, but can fish? Apparently so. Scientists at the University of Oxford and Australia's University of Queensland have discovered that the archerfish can be trained to differentiate between faces with a high degree of accuracy, even though they don't have the type of brain other animals use for visual recognition.

As reported on the Reuters website, scientists chose the archerfish for their experiment because of its ability to shoot a jet of water from its mouth, usually to hunt down insects above the water's surface. They introduced the images of two human faces and trained the fish to shoot water at a specific one. In later tests, the fish were able to recognize a learned human face from 44 new ones and hit their original target 81 percent of the time—even when the color and shape of the head were changed.

Because fish have no neocortex in their brains, and presumably no evolutionary need to recognize and distinguish between humans, the discovery is unexpected—and interesting to scientists studying brains of all kinds.

How did dinosaurs travel across the oceans?

The remains of similar species of stegosaurus and other dinosaurs have been found on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean, prompting scientists to speculate about how some dinosaurs, along with mammals and other land animals, made their way across oceans after the breakup of the supercontinent Pangaea hundreds of millions of years ago.

The latest theory suggests that North America and Europe were joined together by two strips of land that existed during the late Jurassic period—some 151 million to 154 million years ago—and the early Cretaceous, approximately 129 million to 131 million years ago. One land bridge connected Canada to the Iberian peninsula, and the other provided a route between North America and Scandinavia.

Dinosaurs like the stegosaurus and allosaurus could have moved along the land bridge along with turtles and early mammals. According to the Science News website, tectonic activity could have caused ocean shelves in relatively shallow water to rise above sea level. The bridges would have been narrow strips some 80-160 kilometers across—before they sank back into the sea.

Ease the pain of nighttime leg cramps

Sudden, uncontrollable cramping of the calf muscle at night is a painful condition that afflicts about 70 percent of adults over the age of 50. These nocturnal leg cramps are often sharp enough to interrupt a deep sleep and can last anywhere from a few seconds to 10 minutes.

What causes the condition? Researchers don't have a definitive answer, but dehydration, prolonged sitting, and overexertion of the muscles all appear to contribute to the problem. Doctors can prescribe medication to relieve acute cramping that regularly interferes with sleep, but if you suffer from just occasional symptoms, try the following:

- Drink water. Try a few ounces of prevention: Drink six to eight glasses of water during the day. Water is the best choice for keeping the body well hydrated.
- Stay loose. Don't wrap blankets tightly around your body, especially your feet. Don't point your toes downward while you sleep—this can also affect circulation.
- Stretch. Throughout the day, periodically stretch your calf muscles.
- React the right way. If you wake up with a cramp in the middle of the night, flex your foot so that your toes point upward. You can also stand up, placing all your weight on the affected leg, and bend at the knee to stretch out the muscle. Applying a heating pad or ice pack can also relieve the pain.

Acupuncture, supplements, and other treatments add up to big money

Americans spend a lot of money on traditional health care, but we also spend a large amount on so-called “complementary” approaches to curing what ails us. According to an analysis by the National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health (NCCIH) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, non-traditional treatments like herbal supplements, meditation, chiropractic, and yoga add up to $30.2 billion a year in the United States. Here's how it breaks down:

- Chiropractic, acupuncture, and massage therapy account for $14.7 billion, an average out-of-pocket expense of $433.
- Natural dietary supplements add up to $12.8 billion, an average of $368 per user.
- Other self-care products like books, CDs, and other resources total $2.7 billion, an average of $257.

Pay attention to these factors to prevent stroke

Stroke is a leading cause of disability and death around the world. The good news is that it's highly preventable. Scientists and physicians believe that 90 percent of all strokes are caused by 10 risk factors, according to the Philadelphia Inquirer website. These factors can be controlled, cutting one's chances of stroke by these percentages:

- | | |
|-----------------------|------------|
| • High blood pressure | 48 percent |
| • Physical inactivity | 36 percent |
| • Lipids (blood fats) | 27 percent |
| • Poor diet | 23 percent |
| • Obesity | 19 percent |
| • Smoking | 12 percent |
| • Diabetes | 4 percent |
| • Alcohol use | 6 percent |
| • Stress | 6 percent |

Keep your fireplace safe this winter

The winter months are perfect for snuggling up in front of a nice cozy fire. Just make sure your fireplace doesn't pose a hazard to your home with these tips from the Hearth, Patio & Barbecue Association:

- Clear the area around the fireplace and chimney. Debris too close to your fireplace can ignite.
- Always use a fireplace screen.
- Don't overload your fireplace with logs.
- Don't try to burn your Christmas tree or other refuse in your fireplace.
- Always keep a fire extinguisher nearby.
- Equip your home with smoke detectors and check your batteries on a regular basis.
- Place your logs on a grate at the rear of your fireplace.
- Never leave the fire unattended. Make sure the fire is fully extinguished before you go to bed.
- Keep fireplace wood stacked, covered and out of doors—away from the house and off the ground.
- Have your fireplace and flue inspected and cleaned annually by a certified chimney sweep.

If you're not prepared to be wrong, you'll never come up with anything original.
