"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

Joke

A woman started a job as a school counselor. One day at recess she noticed a girl standing alone on one side of a field while children played soccer at the other end. The counselor asked if the girl was all right. The girl said she was fine.

A few minutes later, the counselor saw the girl standing in the same spot, still by herself. She called out, “Would you like me to be your friend?” The girl hesitated, then said “OK.”

Feeling she was making progress, the counselor asked “Why are you standing here all alone?”

“Because,” the girl said with great exasperation, “I’m the goalie!”

Doors open at 4:30pm followed by a short program at 5pm with the meal starting at 5:15pm. Dancing from 7-9pm.

Interstellar asteroid is a first

Asteroids can be found throughout our solar system, but astronomers have recently discovered one in interstellar space. The Science News website reports that the object, first believed to be a comet, is approaching the solar system at an unusually steep angle. Dubbed A/2017 U1, the asteroid is about 400 meters across and traveling 25.5 kilometers per second on a slingshot path past the sun. Astronomers plan to measure the colors in its reflected light to determine what it's made of and seek clues to its origins.

Red sky in Asia mystery solved

It's a centuries-old mystery: In the year 1770, skies over Asia turned a bright red for nine days. The cause of this unusual phenomenon has never been identified. Now, though, scientists believe they have an answer.

As reported on the Slate website, researchers recently uncovered a collection of 111 contemporaneous documents from that time, and learned that the red sky had lasted longer than previously thought (just two days) and was much larger as well.

Scientists' conclusion: The effect was created by an aurora caused by solar activity, sparking the longest geomagnetic storm in recorded history.

A similar aurora was observed on two nights in 1859 by a massive solar storm known as the "Carrington Flare." Analysis of records of sunspot activity in 1770 suggests that the Asian aurora was caused by sunspot twice as large as those that created the Carrington event.

If such an event happened today, it would likely have catastrophic effects, knocking out satellites crucial to communications and GPS instruments.

New mineral found on Martian surface

NASA has discovered evidence of an ironoxide mineral on the surface of Mars, the Science News website reports. The mineral, called hematite, was detected by spectral analysis of photos taken by the space agency's Curiosity rover in an area known as the Vera Rubin Ridge.

Curiosity zeroed in on a rock dubbed "Christmas Cove," and used its dust removal tool, a wire-bristled brush, to uncover an area some 2.5 inches across.

Observations made the rover's Mast Camera (Mastcam) and its Chemistry and Camera (ChemCam) confirmed the presence of the hematite, a mineral that may provide information about ancient environmental conditions on the red planet.
