From The President

Kathy Bornick

This is my last President's Message. When you receive this monthly booklet, I will have voluntarily stepped down as your president. Tom Vanzant has consented to fill the president's position. I will remain on the Board of Directors until December. I do NOT plan on running for the Board again. I have been on the Board for 14 years; I have been president for 7.

It has been my extreme pleasure to serve Holiday Shores. Now, I feel it is time for the younger generation to take over running Holiday Shores. Your Board has a good solid core and I wish them all well. Tom Vanzant will make a great president and leader for Holiday Shores.

I would like to extend a huge thank you to Harvey Shaw, David Helms, and Pat Merl, for the extreme courtesy they have extended to me. They are a great team.

Done and I have lived at Holiday Shores for 22 years We love it here and will continue to be a part of the community for many years, "God Willing." We now will have the time to fully enjoy being residents of this outstanding community.

From The Office

Pat Merl

VOLUNTEERING

Please remember, the Newsletters are free to the Park, under the condition that the residents personally deliver them in their communities.

Volunteers are desperately needed to deliver the Monthly Media Newsletters. We lost a few people near the end of the season and, as a result, some newsletters did not get delivered. If ever you do not get a newsletter, please stop by the office to pick one up.

Back up, or intermittent Volunteers are also need for all routes. We need at least 5 people. The Park is divided up into 13 different routes. You can deliver to any street, you don't necessarily have to live on it. You can also alternate with someone to cover a particularly route, or do summers only. Currently, there is no one available to deliver to South Lake Drive, so we need someone to cover that route.

Volunteers are the lifeblood of the Community and contributors to the successful daily operations and social activities of the Park. A sincere Thank You to everyone who has and does contribute to these areas with their time and talents. Those of you who haven't yet volunteered, please consider doing so. This spirit of community is a vital element that makes for a better place in which to live.

Neighborhood Watch

Pam Grimm

Just a few reminders during the months of July and August:

If you need to speak to someone regarding Neighborhood Watch, please call Walter Douglass at 773-7790.

If you need a Parking Permit for the Clubhouse after hours or on the weekend, please call Pinky or Joe Virden at 831-4143.

Part of our job is to ensure that all doors to the Clubhouse are locked. Just in the month of May, four doors were either not latched or left unlocked. Please double check all doors prior to leaving in the evening. If you unlock a door, remember to lock it. If you prop a door open, please make sure it is latched when you leave. The kitchen contains some expensive items. There has been an ongoing problem in the neighborhoods surrounding us of unlocked cars being pilfered. They hit us last summer. We would not want these uninvited guests to be able to enter the Clubhouse. Thanks!

June has been quiet – luncheon at JD'S was held on the 20th.

We will start July off with an ice cream social on the 4th. This will be free all residents. Music will be provided.

Our Halloween Dance on October 31st features Dave from "Rite Mix".

Our plans for Veteran's Day is to package boxes for our troops. I am working on details for items to be place in the boxes. More will follow.

Just a reminder, please bring wine and cheese from you home state (when you return) to share with residents for our January event.

Hope you are enjoying a good and healthy summer! See you in the fall.

Why daydreaming is good for you

Some people think daydreaming is a waste of time, but it can be a powerful tool for sharpening your creativity. The Entrepreneur magazine website spells out why:

- Motivation. Daydreaming about something you'd like to do can increase your motivation to go out and do it. It helps you visualize your goals and structure your thoughts.
- Visualization. Use your daydreams to go into detail about your goals so you can identify possibilities and options.
- Problem solving. You can't always attack a problem with logic and brute force. Spend some time letting your mind roam. Daydreaming relaxes you and reduces stress, so it might help you spot a solution you'd otherwise miss.
- Productivity. This may seem counterintuitive, but daydreams can help you focus. By daydreaming about a problem or opportunity, you give your brain a chance to concentrate on your goal without clutter or pressure.

More than enough

Two friends were talking over their aspirations. Both had spent several years at the same company, enjoyed the work and the culture, and made advancements in their careers.

One friend was surprised to hear that the other had recently turned down a big promotion. He asked, "Are you sure you made the right decision? A move like that could've put you on easy street. Those opportunities don't come around often."

"Most people would agree with you," the friend replied. "But I have a different take on the matter. I believe there is more to life than having a fancy title or a big paycheck."

"There's a price to be paid for that corner office. Long hours, a lot of travel, and expectations that would require sacrifices I'm not willing to make," he said. "The truth of the matter is that I already have my dream job. The money is good, the work is fulfilling, and the work/life balance it provides allows me to always be home in time for dinner. I've never missed one of my son's baseball games, I've never left work at the end of the day mentally drained, nor have I ever felt the need to check my email from home."

"I never thought of it in those terms," the first friend said.

The other replied, "Most of us spend so much time chasing after success that we don't recognize what we already have is more than enough."

Dogs, cats, and happiness

Almost six in 10 U.S. households have at least one dog or cat, reports The Washington Post. Do our pets make us happy, though? The General Social Survey asked questions related to that in 2018. The results may be surprising to dog and cat owners.

Dogs and cats don't necessarily make us happier, for one thing. The survey found that among pet owners, slightly more than 30% in both groups identified themselves as "very happy," while the number describing themselves as "Not too happy" was in the mid-teens for both groups.

However, dog owners are about twice as likely to say they're very happy than cat owners, making dog owners slightly happier than people without any pets, while cat owners are substantially less happy than pet-free folks. People owning both dogs and cats tend to fall in between the two camps.

What creates the difference? The General Social Survey notes that dog owners tend to be older and married and to own their own homes, which can contribute to overall happiness and satisfaction with life in general.

Prevent disability with one hour of exercise a week

More evidence, in case you wanted it, that exercise is good for you: The CNN website reports that a study on knee osteoarthritis, which causes aching, pain, and/or stiffness in the lower extremities, has found that just one hour of moderate to vigorous exercise a week can reduce the chance of disability.

The study looked at patients 49–83 who were considered disability-free despite some lower joint problems. The patients' physical activity was monitored with accelerometers. Over four years, researchers found, participants who got at least 56 minutes of moderate to vigorous exercise a week were 86% less likely to grow mobility-impaired than others who got less exercise.

The findings are important for people with early osteoarthritis, who can experience occasional pain, stiffness, or weakness in the joint as the cartilage that covers bones wears down with age.

The heavy lifting

A man arrived home from work to find his children playing in the yard in their pajamas. Their toys were strewn about the yard, along with the day's mail and miscellaneous litter.

He entered the house and noticed muddy paw prints leading to the family room where the dog was stretched out on the sofa. Dirty dishes filled the sink, an open box of cereal was tipped over on the counter, and laundry piled up in front of the washer. None of the beds had been made, and the bathroom floors were blanketed with used towels.

He searched every room, but there was no trace of his wife. Finally he found her sitting in the backyard reading a magazine. He approached her cautiously and asked, "Honey, is everything OK?"

"Never better," she replied as she flipped through pages of her magazine.

"What happened here today?" he asked.

The wife looked up at her husband and said, "You know how you come home every evening and say, 'Honey, I did the heavy lifting today. What contribution did you make for this family?'"

"Yes," the man replied.

The wife looked back at her magazine and said, "Well, today I didn't make my contribution."

A glimpse of the future

A man visited a psychic.

"Hmmm. Mmmmh," she hummed as she waved her hands over her crystal ball. "I see your future very clearly. You will be poor and unhappy until you reach the age of 42."

"What happens then?" the man asked. "Do I win the lottery? Will I inherit my great-uncle Sal's estate? Do I invent the next big thing and become a millionaire?"

"No," the fortune teller replied. "You will still be poor, but by then you will be used to it."
