Greetings to our HMHP neighbors

I hope you had an excellent summer wherever you spent it.

Our Honeymoon Park Bread Club meetings for the 2016-2017 schedule will be the first Thursday of the month at 9:30 AM in the club house, after Koffee Klatch, and our first meeting this year will be on November 3rd.

We'll start off the year by making fougasse--the fragrant bread from the French region of Provence that looks like a huge leaf and has a crisp crust and tender interior. At that meeting we'll decide what other breads we want to explore in the following months.

The Honeymoon Park Bread Club is for anyone interested in learning about and making homemade breads whether you're an experienced baker or a beginner. You don't need a lot of fancy equipment, just a large bowl, a spoon, your hands, and an oven or even just a frying pan and a stovetop. Ingredients are simple and few for most recipes.

My goal is that we'll learn from each other, have fun, and eat good breads, too!

MaryJo Boyle

Ruth Cote shares these observations:

I was at the post office and saw a blond woman shouting into an envelope. I asked her "What are you doing?" She replied "Sending a voice Mail".

Two elderly ladies were sitting in church when one whispered to the other "my butt fell asleep". The other lady said "Oh yeah? I thought I heard it snore a couple times".

I've reached an age where my train of thought often leaves the station without me.

Hello

September 19, 2016

Well we made it to Sioux Falls North Dakota today. good trip so far and weather has been very warm, so no complaints. Going to go over to Custer South Dakota tomorrow for a couple of days and work our way over to Yellowstone Wyoming and stay there for a couple of days as long as we don't freeze our butts. Suppose to get quite cold so we will see.

Love to all. Ralph and Carolyn

September 21, 2016

We are in Custer South Dakota for a couple of days, then heading to Yellowstone Park if it doesn't snow. Temperature went from 84F to 55F over night here so back to jeans, socks and shoes! Haven't worn those for about 5 months!

All the best Carolyn and Ralph

September 29, 2016

Wow! We have had two nights of incredible rain storms. The skies were very eery. Lots of thunder and awesome lightening strikes seemed to go on forever.

Hello from Albuquerque
October 1, 2016

Well we made it. Weather is perfect 76F and sunny for the Balloon Fiesta. We will be getting up early tomorrow around 6.00 AM to watch the balloons take off. Then tomorrow night see the balloons take off at dusk. Quite a thing to see.

All the best Love Ralph and Carolyn

Hi

October 3, 2016

We are just outside of Flagstaff Arizona and will head there tomorrow and probably stay for a couple of days.

Weather has been terrific, except today we have had very strong winds. A tractor trailer almost lost his unit when wind pushed him into a ditch. Thankfully he was a very good driver and was able to get out without injury to us and another car beside us. Quite scary for a couple of minutes.

Love Carolyn and Ralph

This story also from Carolyn Carr

Yesterday my daughter e-mailed me again, asking why I didn't do something useful with my time.

Talking about my "doing-something-useful" seems to be her favorite topic of conversation. She was "only thinking of me", she said and suggested that I go down to the Senior Center and hang out with the guys. I did this and when I got home last night, I decided to play a prank on her.

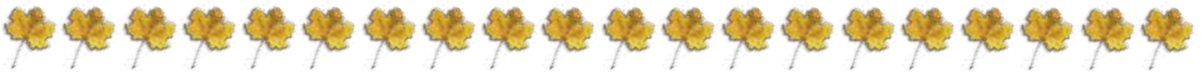

I e-mailed her and told her that I had joined a Parachute Club. She replied, "Are you nuts? You are 80 years old and now you're going to start jumping out of airplanes?" I told her that I even got a Membership Card and e-mailed a copy to her.

She immediately telephoned me and yelled, "Good grief, Mom, where are your glasses?! This is a Membership to a Prostitute Club, not a Parachute Club." "Oh man, I'm in trouble again," I said, "I really don't know what to do. I signed up for five jumps a week!!"

The line went quiet.

Life as a Senior Citizen is not getting any easier, but sometimes it can be fun.

This just in from my friend John:

Please join me in remembering a great icon of the entertainment community. The Pillsbury Doughboy died yesterday of a yeast infection and trauma complications from repeated pokes in the belly. He was 71.* Doughboy was buried in a lightly greased coffin. Dozens of celebrities turned out to pay their respects, including Mrs. Butterworth, Hungry Jack, the California Raisins, Betty Crocker, the Hostess Twinkies, and Captain Crunch. The gravesite was piled high with flours. Aunt Jemima delivered the Eulogy and lovingly described Doughboy as a man who never knew how much he was kneaded. Born and bread in Minnesota, Doughboy rose quickly in show business, but his later life was filled with turnovers. He was not considered a very smart cookie, wasting much of his dough on half-baked schemes.

Despite being a little flaky at times, he still was a crusty old man, and was considered a positive roll model for millions.

Doughboy is survived by his wife Play Dough, three children: John Dough, Jane Dough and Dosey Dough, plus they had one in the oven. He is also survived by his elderly father, Pop Tart. The funeral was held at 3:50 for about 20 minutes.

The following is the philosophy of Charles Schulz, the creator of the 'Peanuts' comic strip. You don't have to actually answer the questions. Just ponder on them.

1. Name the five wealthiest people in the world.
2. Name the last five Heisman trophy winners.
3. Name the last five winners of the Miss America pageant.
4. Name ten people who have won the Nobel or Pulitzer Prize.
5. Name the last half dozen Academy Award winners for best actor and actress.
6. Name the last decade's worth of World Series winners.

How did you do?

The point is, none of us remember the headliners of yesterday.
These are no second-rate achievers.
They are the best in their fields.
But the applause dies ...
Awards tarnish
Achievements are forgotten.
Accolades and certificates are buried with their owners.

Here's another quiz. See how you do on this one:

1. List a few teachers who aided your journey through school.
2. Name three friends who have helped you through a difficult time.
3. Name five people who have taught you something worthwhile.
4. Think of a few people who have made you feel appreciated and special.
5. Think of five people you enjoy spending time with.

Easier?

The lesson:

"The people who make a difference in your life are not the ones with the most credentials, the most money ... or the most awards...

They simply are the ones who care the most!"

Here is a recipe I found (probably on FaceBook) that would be good for Thanksgiving dessert.

Pumpkin Pie Dump Cake

- 1 can (15oz) pumpkin puree
- 1 can (12oz) evaporated milk
- 3 large eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp cinnamon
- 1 box Spice Cake Mix
- 1 cup butter, melted

Mix pumpkin, milk, eggs, sugar and cinnamon together and pour into greased 9" x 13" pan. Pour cake mix evenly over pumpkin mix, then pour melted butter over all.

Bake at 350 degrees for 55 – 60 minutes.

Excerpt from A Walk Thru Time – Honeymoon Park

30th Anniversary 1968-1998

Water, Water Everywhere

On June 17, 1972, Hurricane Agnes tore through this area. An account from Doris Griffiths' diary reads: "We had lots of rain. One Honeymooner moved to her friend's home in Crystal Bay. Her car, parked in her friend's garage, stood in three feet of water as boats went up and down the street.

A friend of Alice Johnson came to Honeymoon , since her coach in Grand Bay had a foot of water inside. We were lucky when Hurricane Gladys hit in 1968 and again this year. Let's hope these vicious storms continue to be kind to us in Honeymoon."

Residents were evacuated to the local high school twice for hurricanes, once for Hurricane Gladys hit and in 1983, when Hurricane Elena passed by the Dunedin area. Again, there was no flooding or damage to the Park.

However, record rains in May 1979 did threaten the Park. Seventeen inches fell in 16 hours, and at the lower end, water rose until it reached the top step of Ted Alexander's home. Fortunately, it was not high enough to get inside her home and she was rescued in the back of the Park's pickup truck.

Did you know – It actually snowed in Honeymoon Park in February 1977.

It is the only recorded snow fall in this area during the history of the park.

From the Editor's Desk

Susie Buckley

I hope all our friends and neighbors had a wonderful summer, wherever you happened to be. I also hope you all are surviving the presidential campaign hoopla. Our lucky Canadian neighbors don't have to put up with all the "rhetoric", unless they have returned to Honeymoon before November 8. Please be sure to vote for the candidate of your choice, otherwise you don't get to complain!

There is not very much news in this month's newsletter. I didn't get very much information sent to me. Thanks to all who sent me stories, and many thanks to Monthly Media for filling in the blank spots.

I am back this month, and will have to start hounding people for reports of activities they have participated in.

The December Newsletter has to be finished and sent on December 10th.

Please be aware and plan ahead so all events can be included in the calendar. Send news to Honeymoongazette@gmail.com, or call me at 574-361-0712 (my cell phone).

A troubling trend: Americans overdoing antibiotics

Antibiotics are a boon to doctors and their patients, but they pose dangers if they're overused. That makes this news especially concerning: A Texas study reported on the UPI website found that about one in 20 adults have stockpiled supplies of antibiotics in their homes and use them without a physician's advice.

The study of 400 adults in the Houston area found that 14 percent of adults have a stash of antibiotic medications in their home, and 5 percent have used them without a doctor's guidance in the past year. The medications come from a variety of sources: 40 percent came from a store or pharmacy, 24 percent were purchased outside the United States, 20 percent came from family or friends, and 12 percent were left over from past prescriptions.

In 4 percent of cases, the drugs obtained without a prescription were intended for use on animals, not humans.

Millennials worry about debt

Millennials aren't the carefree kids you might think they are. A FICO survey found that they're concerned about debt—with good reason. According to FICO's online survey of approximately 1,000 Americans over 17, 32 percent of millennials owe $20,000 or more in student loans, and 45 percent owe at least $7,000 on car loans.

In all, 37 percent of millennials ages 25-34 say they're concerned about their level of debt, and 33 percent would like assistance in managing their debt. For example, 65 percent would like to receive an email alert when their student loan payments are overdue by less than 90 days, and 35 percent want to be notified by app when their mortgage payments are less than 90 days late (but they'd prefer a phone call if their payments are more than 90 days overdue).

These tiny robots may save your life

The newest medical robots look and move like bacteria, and they can deliver medications to specific locations within the human body and perform intricate surgeries like clearing clogged arteries.

According to the Science Daily website, a team of scientists is working to develop a selection of biological robots that are soft, flexible, and move through bodies under the control of an electromagnetic field. Once they reach their destination, they're heated to change shape, mimicking—for example—the bacterium that causes African trypanosomiasis, or sleeping sickness. Although still in development, these microrobots could revolutionize the way patients are treated in the not-so-distant future.

Get more creativity with a clear focus

Creativity and innovation aren't always accidental. A consistent focus will produce better results, so you don't have to wait for lightning to strike. Try these techniques to spur your imagination as you work:

- Start your day with a purpose. Instead of rushing out the door without a plan, spend a few minutes in the morning thinking about what you want to accomplish that day. Do this before checking your cell phone or email. You'll be less likely to get distracted by other demands.
- Shake up your routine. Get out of your comfort zone so you aren't always surrounded by what's familiar. Get up earlier than normal, take a new route to work, do your tasks in a different order, try something new and exciting—anything to shake your mind free of its preconceptions and look at your work in a different light.
- Be mindful. Don't go on autopilot. Pay attention to everything around you—the people you work with, the tasks you work on, the environment you work in, and so forth. The more aware you are of what's going on, the more likely you'll see a new connection or find an idea where you least expect it.

Don't be afraid to ask questions

Alyssa Mastromonaco was deputy chief of staff in the Obama White House until 2014. She told a radio station an important lesson she learned early on about the importance of asking questions:

During an Oval Office meeting on the economic crisis, she was close to panic, worried that the president would ask her a question about issues she knew nothing about, such as quantitative easing. She began quickly writing down key words and phrases to look up later.

Economic adviser Larry Summers noticed and tapped her on the shoulder. "Come to my office later," he said.

Worried that Summers was mad at her, Mastromonaco went to his office after the meeting. Summers asked about her list.

When she told him what she'd written down and why, Summers said, "I'll tell you anything you need to know." He proceeded to give her a quick lesson on economics. She left the office feeling relieved—and better informed than before. Nowadays she knows that admitting you don't know something is better informed than pretending you do—and she never thinks asking for information is stupid.

A lesson in determination

British runner Derek Redmond was one of the favorites for a gold medal in the 400-meter spring at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona. But halfway through the race, Redmond—in the lead—collapsed on the track with a hamstring injury.

Medical staff rushed to help him, but Redmond waved them away. He somehow got to his feet and started staggering down the track. With thousands watching, and officials unsure of what to do, Redmond's father ran out to him.

“You don't have to do this, son,” he said.

“Yes, I do,” Redmond replied.

His father helped Redmond down the track, tears streaming down both their faces, waving away anyone who tried to stop them.

The crowd roared when Redmond finally crossed the finish line. The feat is considered by many to be the defining moment of the Barcelona Olympics.

Keep learning at any age

As you and your family members age, you may find you have more difficulty remembering things. Try to help you stay on top of the knowledge game and keep you learning as you age:

- Visualize. Mentally rehearse an event, conversation or activity before it actually happens. This visualization helps eliminate the stress you may feel over the unknown. Plus, when you're more relaxed, you're better able to learn.
- Take a break and exercise. If you're trying to remember information you're reading, take frequent breaks. Don't just sit around, though. Engage in some kind of activity to keep your mind alert and your blood flowing.
- Focus on concentrating. Distractions are the bane of any learning attempt. If you're attending a class or lecture, sit near the instructor and maintain eye contact with him or her. Try not to fidget; simply relax into the session and let your focused attention do the job.
- Say it out loud. Read aloud the material you're trying to learn and repeat out loud the facts you want to retain. This way, both your mind and your ears are taking in information.
- Tame frustration. If you grow frustrated over material you're trying to learn, remind yourself that getting emotional will only hamper your ability to retain information. If you have to, step back and take a long break.

Did you know that November is also...

National Epilepsy Awareness Month. Learn about the different types of seizures and how to prevent them—or help someone suffering from them. A seizure is a short change in normal brain activity that can cause changes in awareness, behavior, or body movement. Because anyone can have a seizure, recognizing symptoms and knowing how to help is vital.

Native American Heritage Month. Established at the turn of the 20th century as an effort to gain a day of recognition for the significant contributions the first Americans. In 1990 President George H. W. Bush approved a joint resolution designating that November “National American Indian Heritage Month.” Similar proclamations have been issued each year since 1994.

Military Family Appreciation Month. Throughout November, military families serving around the world are honored and recognized for their commitment and the many contributions they make every day in support of the military and our nation.

National Animal Shelter and Rescue Appreciation Week, Nov. 3-9. Approximately 3,500 animal shelters across the United States serve the estimated 6 million to 8 million homeless animals who need refuge each year. Get acquainted with your local shelters and rescuers, and learn how you can assist their lifesaving work.

National Nurse Practitioner Week, Nov. 13-19. Held annually to celebrate these exceptional health care providers and to remind lawmakers of the importance of removing outdated barriers to practice so that NPs will be able to practice to the full extent of their experience and education.

American Education Week, Nov. 14-18. The 2016 theme, “Great Public Schools: A Basic Right and Our Responsibility,” will present all Americans with an opportunity to celebrate public education and honor individuals who are making a difference in ensuring that every child receives a high-quality education.

U.S. Election Day, Nov. 8. Get out and vote!

World Diabetes Day, Nov. 14. Celebrated worldwide by the more than 230 member associations of the International Diabetes Federation in more than 160 countries and territories.

International Games Day, Nov. 19. Raising awareness of games and gaming in libraries to publishers and the public around the world.

Thanksgiving, Nov. 24. Turkey, football, pumpkin pie, and family. What could be better?

Monthly Mania: It Pays (Up to $100) To Patronize the Advertisers in Your Newsletter

THOUSANDS manufactured home residents have won over $135,000 since our contest began. It's simple to play ... when you patronize a current advertiser, ask for a Monthly Mania ticket (or a reasonable facsimile) and fill it out completely. Put the ticket in our Monthly Mania drop box in your community or mail your paid receipt to us at Monthly Media • PO Box 1023 • Venice, FL 34284. That's all you do. At the end of the month the Publishers will pick up the tickets and hold a drawing. If your ticket is drawn, we mail you a check.

(Allow 4-6 weeks for mailing of check). This month's cash winners are:
