PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Association Secretary

Notice: Since the first Saturday of the month falls on Independence Day, there will be no Association Meeting or Pot Luck Dinner in July. This will allow everyone an opportunity to attend one of the many holiday celebrations scheduled throughout the Pinellas County area.

Thanks to Carolyn Bailey and Chuck Oller for hosting the June pot luck cook out; food and fellowship were outstanding. And, thanks to Tracy DeMoss for providing the donuts and coffee for the June Association meeting – food just seems to taste better when you don't have to pay for it.

We're happy to see Lillian Jones who recently returned from a month in Canada visiting family and old friends. And Joan Thomas was thrilled to be back in Paradise after spending a very long and very cold winter in Rhode Island. More good news, Eileen Williamson came through her surgery with flying colors – good to have you home too!

The only scheduled events on the July calendar are bingo on the 16th and hot dog night on the 25th - hope to see you there. Something to look forward to --- a three-park Luau in August, tentatively planned for the 15th – we had a great time last year and decided to do a repeat - so get ready to hula and eat pineapple.

Ancient bones offer clues to evolution

Scientists may have discovered a new human ancestor to go along with “Lucy,” the 3.2 million-year-old Australopithecus afarensis female from eastern Africa. Dubbed “Little Foot” because of his small bones, this specimen was unearthed in South Africa in the early 1990s. His skeleton was almost completely preserved after falling down a narrow cave shaft and dying there. Whether Little Foot was a relative of Lucy’s or a different pre-human species has been a subject of debate among anthropologists, but a new dating process suggests that Little Foot lived and died some 3.67 million years ago, close to the same time as Lucy.

Although some scientists dispute the accuracy of the dating technique, if it holds up it suggests an evolutionary link between different species of Australopithecus in ancient Africa, as well as evidence of where in Africa modern humans began to develop.

Birds do it, bees do it, and so do amorous mice

From time immemorial, men have wooed their lady loves with romantic (if sometimes off-key) music. Now scientists from Duke University believe that love songs aren’t just for humans. Mice also sing to females they hope to attract, although they aren’t likely using Barry White.

Instead, mice rely on high-pitched sounds outside the range of human hearing, using specific tunes when they smell a potential mate and different ones when they finally set eyes on her. The songs are louder and composed of more complex sounds when they smell a female scent, and get simpler—but longer—when they finally meet face to face. The complex songs seem to attract females, although what specifically draws them close is still uncertain.

The very striving and hard work that we so constantly try to avoid is the major building block in the person we are today.

LAKE HAVEN TREASURE COVE HAPPENINGS!

Written By an Anonymous Ghost Writer for Bob Scott, President, Park 2 Association

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AMERICA! On July 4th, celebrate your freedom and independence with a barbeque, a picnic, or a family gathering. If nothing else, be sure to at least fly your flag!

Last month, we reminded everyone again that our annual hurricane season officially started on June 1st and runs through November 30th. Tropical storms this time of year are unpredictable and everyone now needs to stay alert to the local weather reports and forecasts especially for the next five months or so.

Last March, we also asked you to do some spring cleaning on and around your homes. It was great that many of you did even putting on new paint on some of your homes. Because of your efforts Park 2 again looks great and we can be proud of where we live.

ATTENTION WW II VETERANS IN ALL THREE PARKS! If you've not been on a one day free Honor Flight to Washington, DC to see the monuments and memorials and a visit to Arlington Cemetery, please see Bob Baker, Lot 280, for an application to fly with Honor Flight of West Central Florida.

Because there are so few of us here during the summer or because of lack of interest (I don't know which or whether for both reasons) we'll have no more potluck dinners until October.

For the same reasons, wood carving classes on the first and third Saturday mornings have been discontinued permanently.

We'd now like to see all our year-round residents at our association dinner normally on the third Sunday of each month. There's good food provided by the association and certainly good fellowship with your neighbors. You only need to bring yourselves and whatever you'd like to drink. Watch the tube under your mail box for the monthly announcements and be sure to let Bob and Eileen Scott in Lot 277 know if you will attend – but, not by email, please.

Here's a warm Lake Haven Park 2 welcome to our latest new residents:

Greg Thorsen & Vicki VanHorn – Lot 212

Dominick & Patricia Zona – Lot 225

And Sharon Shinkle - Lot 265.

The strongest bonds

A farm boy took his cows to the meadows out to pasture every morning and brought them back to the barn at the end of the day. One evening, as he was tying the cows up for the night, he found that he'd lost the piece of rope he needed for the last one.

He couldn't go all the way town to buy more rope, but he didn't want the cow to wander away. So he went to his grandfather for advice.

"Here's what you do," the grandfather said. "Go up to the cow the same way you do every night and pretend to tie a rope around him, then pretend to tie the rope up to his stall. Make sure he sees you doing it, and he'll be fooled." The boy followed his grandfather's advice, and the next morning when he went to the barn he found the cow still there.

He untied all the rest of the cattle and herded them out to pasture for the day. But when he passed by the barn on his way to do his other chores, he noticed the cow was still there. He went to his grandfather again.

The grandfather smiled and said: "You forgot to untie the cow. Go back and pretend to let him loose, and you'll be able to herd him outside."

Moral: Often what holds us back are the bonds we only think are real.

Correct: A Zen parable

Two monks could not agree on a problem. Finally they went to the master of their monastery to settle the dispute. They agreed to argue their positions one at a time while the master listened.

After hearing the argument presented by the first monk, the master nodded. "You are correct." The first monk was pleased, but the master then told the second monk to speak his piece.

The other monk made his case. Once he finished, the master gave another nod. "You are correct."

"But master!" the two monks cried together. "We can't both be correct!"

Again the master nodded and smiled. "You are correct."

PARK III ASSOCIATION NEWS

Here it is, July already...where does the time go. Normally Park III gets really quiet during the summer months—but not so this year. Since we have so many more full time residents living here now, there is more activity during the summer than in the past. During our first summer here, eight years ago, there were only four or five units that were lived in on our street, but now there are only a few that are unoccupied. Park III at one time had only 30% occupancy in the summer. Now that number is surely more than 50%.

Since the dust-up over putting unauthorized items in the mail boxes, we now have a cylinder under each mail box, which is designed to hold “The Happenings” and other information regarding current events in the Park. Be sure to check this cylinder regularly in order to keep up with what’s going on.

Several coaches have sold recently, so we will soon be meeting some new friends, but unfortunately we will also say good bye to others. Residents moving in or out, please remember to donate any unwanted, gently used items for the Fall Sale. They can be dropped off at the clubhouse.

This summer has brought about some really positive things. First of all, we purchased ten noodles, and a container to hold them which are to be used by anyone using the pool. We only ask that you return them when you are done. Recently Phyllis Becker has begun water aerobics classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays, beginning at 9:30 AM. So far the attendance and reports have been very positive. Friday evenings have “unofficially” been tabbed “Ladies Night Out at the Pool.” Several of the ladies get together to sun, swim, gab and enjoy beverages and snacks.

Last week the office informed me that ELS will purchase two new picnic tables, to replace the ones we have in the picnic area. This will be a nice addition. Ben is still recycling cans, so please drop off your clean empty cans near the small shed.

We’re having another fun summer in Park III. Thanks for all the help.

*Linda Parker #465
Park III Association President*

Support innovation with continuous learning

The more you learn, the more material you have for your creative efforts. To master lifelong learning, no matter what your ambitions are, consider these points from the Innovation Excellence website:

- Laughter is good for the brain. Find the humor in whatever you do. Laughter will help you remember incidents better, and also generate a sense of security which supports a well-balanced mind.
- Learn in chunks. Instead of trying to memorize information in big blocks, concentrate on learning a few individual points at a time. You'll retain more without the mental exhaustion of cramming.
- Study a foreign language. Bilingual speakers tend to process information more efficiently than those who speak only one language. People who exercise their brains by learning Spanish, Japanese, or some other tongue frequently find they don't have to work as hard performing other cognitive tasks.

Keep your mouth shut

A turtle was lying on the bank of a river one day when he heard two hunters walk by, talking about how they planned to come back the next day to catch some turtles for soup. He worried all night, because he knew he couldn't outrun the hunters, and in the morning he had a plan.

He saw two birds in the tree overhead. As the hunters approach, the turtle called out, "You up there! Would you help me escape these hunters?"

"What do you want us to do?" the first bird asked.

"I'll hold this stick in my mouth," the turtle said, "and you two pick me up and fly me to the other side of the river."

The birds agreed and flew down to the ground. The turtle clamped a thick stick between its jaws, and the birds slowly lifted him up off the ground.

As the hunters reached the riverbank, they stared in amazement. "Look at those birds! They figured out how to carry a turtle across the river! Those must be the smartest animals in the world!"

Jealous, the turtle cried out: "It was my ideaaaaa ..."

Doctors may soon use lasers to seal wounds

Lasers are common weapons in science fiction movies, but soon a laser may be used to heal wounds in real life if scientists at Tel Aviv University are successful.

As reported on the Reuters website, the scientists developed optical fiber capable of transmitting infrared light and at the same time measuring the heat of the tissue it's pointed at. This allows them to control the laser's power accurately and use it to "weld" tissue effectively without any burning or scarring. Collagen aids the bonding process, growing firm as the skin cools down.

This laser-aided process may result in stronger bonding with fewer scars than traditional suture offers. Initial tests on humans showed successful healing with less scar tissue; examinations one year after surgery should demonstrate whether the laser produces less scarring than needle and thread.

Twin suns may support rocky worlds—in theory

Many solar systems around the universe are binary, with two stars orbiting each other in space. Scientists have long believed that rocky planets can't form in these systems because of gravitational forces that would cause planetesimals (worlds in the process of forming) to destroy themselves in collisions instead of slowly merging with each other. Thus, the common image of a world with two (or more) sunsets on the horizon seemed relegated to movies.

But new studies suggest that planetesimals behave differently than had been thought, according to the Sci-News website. Astronomers previously theorized that small worlds seek a circular orbit, leading to collisions around binary stars; now they believe that planets in these systems may take on an oval orbit as they form, avoiding crashes and eventually accumulating a rocky mass. Such worlds could see more than one sun in the sky, and may be able to support life.

Nature composes some of her loveliest poems for the microscope and the telescope.

The state of food across the U.S.

Every U.S. state is known for something: slogans, state birds, celebrities, etc. If you're hungry, or planning your vacation menu, consider some of these official state foods found across the country:

- Alaska: Salmon (state fish)
- California: Avocado (state fruit)
- Delaware: Peach pie (state pie)
- Georgia: Grits (state prepared food)
- Illinois: Popcorn (state snack food)
- Louisiana: Sweet potato (state vegetable)
- Maryland: Smith Island Cake—a yellow cake of 8-10 layers with chocolate frosting (state dessert)
- New York: Apple muffin (state muffin)

The creative process—from the artists who know

What do professional artists, writers, and performers think about creativity? From The Guardian come these thoughts on the process from people who depend on their imagination to do their jobs:

- Guy Garvey, musician. “Just start scribbling. The first draft is never your last draft. Nothing you write is by accident.”
- Polly Stenham, playwright. “I’m very fidgety, and I seem to work best when my hands are occupied with something other than what I’m thinking about. During rehearsals, I find myself drawing little pictures or symbols that are somehow connected to the play.”
- Tamara Rojo, ballet dancer. “An idea never comes to me suddenly; it sits inside me for a while, and then emerges.”
- Mark-Anthony Turnage, composer. “If you get overexcited by an idea, take a break and come back to it later. It is all about developing a cold eye with which to look over your own work.”
- Fyfe Dangerfield, musician. “For me, the image of the tortured artist is a myth—you don’t need to be miserable to write songs. In fact, if I am feeling down, the last thing I want to do is write; though it’s important sometimes just to sit down and get on with it, however you’re feeling. Your creativity is like a tap: if you don’t use it, it gets clogged up.”

Eliminate the obstacles to a good night's rest

A good night's sleep is essential to everyone's health, and yet many people have trouble getting the shut-eye they need. If you're not waking up feeling refreshed and ready to start your day with energy, check out these problems that may be preventing you from sleeping soundly:

- Procrastination. You know you should go to bed, but you let yourself get distracted by household tasks or the TV. Set a firm time limit on your evening and stick to it.
- Caffeine. Avoid coffee and other caffeinated drinks after 3 p.m. The effects can linger for up to seven hours, making sleep difficult by the time you need to go to bed.
- Heat. You may not be sweating, but feeling just a little too warm can keep you from dropping off. Try sticking one foot out from under the covers to balance the temperature.
- Stress. The news, your job, or personal worries can make relaxation and sleep difficult. Practice meditation and other techniques to un-tense your body and your mind.
- Work. If your job starts too early in the morning, you'll have trouble waking up and performing well. Try to negotiate a later arrival time. Emphasize how your productivity will increase if you get the right amount of rest.

Prevent back pain before it strikes

Back pain can make your work difficult no matter what job you do. Lifting heavy items is only one potential source of damage; poor posture and repetitive movements can also cause strain and pain. Keep your back in good shape with these general tips from the Mayo Clinic website:

- Get some exercise. Losing weight and staying in shape will decrease wear and tear on your back muscles. Combine aerobic activity with strength training that stretches and strengthens your stomach and back.
- Practice good posture. Your parents were right when they told you to stand up straight. Make a point of keeping your weight balanced on both feet without slouching. Use a chair with good back support, and make sure it's the right height, allowing you to keep both feet flat on the floor and your knees on the same level as your hips.

July Is...

Eye Injury Prevention Month. Eye injuries occur at a rate of more than 2,000 per day, with an estimated 1,000 eye injuries occurring in American workplaces alone. In addition to wearing proper safety eyewear, early detection and treatment of eye conditions and diseases are essential to maintaining good vision throughout your life.

Independent Retailer Month. Celebrate independent retailers across the country. Support and shop independent merchants all through the year, and use July as a time to unite for the independent retailers in local communities that help build our economy.

National Hot Dog Month. What better month to enjoy a delicious hot dog? The National Hot Dog and Sausage Council estimates that Americans eat over 7 billion hot dogs between Memorial Day and Labor Day, with 150 million consumed on the Fourth of July alone. Do your part.

Parks and Recreation Month. This year marks 30 years of Parks and Recreation Month, highlighting the enduring importance of parks and recreation for the world. From the start, parks were created to give us a place to appreciate nature, exercise, socialize, and have fun—a mission that lives on into the future.

July Daily News...

World UFO Day, July 2. Have you had a close encounter? Spread the word on this day that explores the unexplained.

Independence Day, July 4. The United States declared its independence from Great Britain on this day in 1776.

Global Forgiveness Day, July 7. “To forgive is to offer opportunity for a new beginning to the offender, and provides a process of healing for the victim.”

Shark Awareness Day, July 14. As much as we enjoy being frightened by this predator of the sea, remember that the shark has a key role to play in keeping marine ecosystems in balance.

World Ranger Day, July 31. Sponsored by the International Ranger Federation to commemorate rangers killed or injured in the line of duty and to celebrate the work rangers do to protect wildlife around the world.
