PARADISE ISLAND UPDATE

Pat Walker, Association Secretary

Autumn has arrived – haven’t you noticed the distinct change in the weather? Me neither! Not really complaining – compared to most of the USA which has endured wild fires, tornadoes, hurricanes, flooding and early snow in mountain areas – we have avoided tragedy, fingers crossed that our good luck continues. Two more months until the end of hurricane season, so like everyone else, I’m holding my breath and remaining hopeful.

On a positive note, the COVID numbers in Pinellas have gone down – perhaps someday soon we will get the clubhouses back for activities and events.....ever the optimist! It’s been a long, often boring, spring and summer as we now enter our eighth month without any scheduled social events and most organized activities. Hobby was approved to meet the last couple of months as only seven members are here in the summer and they complied with community requirements to social distance. But we sure missed our normal special events as well as the BBQ cookouts and Hot Dog Nights.....and we especially missed hanging out with friends and neighbors.

As committed, ELS has begun demolition of the shuffleboard courts in preparation for replacement amenities. Since the HOA board has not seen any of the proposed site drawings, we are as anxious as the rest of you to see the final product. Here’s hoping it was worth waiting for and will provide quality entertainment for years to come.

The HOA board will soon meet with ELS to negotiate the 2021 rental increase percentage. If we cannot agree on a compromise, the next step is Mediation – a legal procedure which will require the authorization of 50% + 1 of the homeowners. In all probability this legal action will not be necessary.

This month political activities will be in full swing - I don’t mean that literally! It is important that we citizens remain focused on individual party platforms which identify plans to improve the economy, safely expedite reopening of businesses, address COVID concerns and present details of programs designed to bring peace and unity rather than solely focus on an individual’s personality. We must learn to ignore the name calling and rhetoric spewed by both sides and focus on the issues, then we will be prepared to vote for the candidate we feel will do the best job for our country. Bring on the debates!

The semi-annual external home inspections (aka 360’s) were recently completed by the ELS staff. Most residents received a “than you” notice for keeping their outside area neat and tidy; however a few were notified of items that were not consistent with the Prospectus or community standards. Please take action on any items needing attention in order that your home will again reflect the pride you have in it and in Lake Haven. If there are issues which prohibit you from meeting the stated completion time frame, please contact the Community Manger to discuss your individual situation.

Since we will easily be able to social distance, Paradise Island will begin conducting Association Meetings this month. Please join us on Saturday, October 3rd – if the kitchen is still off-limits on that date, bring your own coffee.

WARNING: Beware of bats, witches, ghosts, and things that go bump in the night. ‘Cause, the goblins will getcha if you don’t watch out. Happy trick or treating.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN

“GOSSIP FROM GUANA”

Ralph Crance, President

A brief note to all our seriously sequestered seniors. The construction of the newly-designed picnic grounds/bocce court/horseshoe pits has now started. Completion of the project is scheduled prior to year end. Promise made...promise kept!

It's perfect irony we used to have picnics – no space. Now lots of space – no picnics.

Urge you all to check out last month's (September) Happenings. Review the write-ups by Pat Walker. A complete summary of relations between HOA and management. Great job Pat!!!

By the way, Pat says this is her last year serving as Secretary of the Lake Haven Homeowners Association. For the record, Pat has filled this position for many years - before I got here. Please join me refusing to accept her resignation. She has been the heart and soul of our parks, not to mention backbone as historian!

Just a note about Covid 19...you may want to check out two pamphlets on Amazon Books, “Unreported Truths About Covid 19 and Lockdowns” (Parts 1 & 1), $2.79 each. Serious study by a serious reporter. All documented.

For you Florida Orchestra Fans, with a new format and social distancing protocol, the group is back on a “go basis”.

With the extra time for reading, a pleasure to report the Park Three library (and Librarian) are back up to speed. Please observe library rules and all late book fines are waived.

Stay tuned for future events scheduled.

I'd love to hear from each and every one of you. Call any time.

Happy Halloween,

Ralph

Hurts all over

A retired man went to the doctor and said, “Doc, I ache all over. Everywhere I touch it hurts.”

The doctor replied, “OK. Touch your elbow.” The guy touched his elbow and winced in genuine pain.

The doctor, surprised, then said, “Touch your head.”

The guy touched his head and jumps in agony. The doctor asked him to touch his knee and the same thing happened. Everywhere the guy touched hurt a lot.

The doctor was stumped and ordered a complete examination with full-body X-rays. He told the man to come back in two days.

Two days later the man came back and the doctor declared, “We’ve found your problem.”

“Oh, yeah? What is it?” asked the retiree.

“You’ve broken your finger.”

Laughing gas

Hate going to the dentist? These jokes may ease the pain:

A little boy went to the dentist, who found a cavity that had to be filled. “Now, young man,” asked the dentist, “what kind of filling would you like for that tooth?”

“Chocolate, please,” replied the youngster.

Young man: “My dentist said bacon and soda are just as good as toothpaste.”

Parent: “That’s ‘baking soda.’”

If I brushed my teeth with half the energy I do 15 minutes before going to the dentist, I’d never have a cavity.

The person who can bring the spirit of laughter into a room is indeed blessed.

In search of the right job recruit

A recruiter asked a job candidate, “Can you handle a variety of work?”
The applicant replied, “I should be able to. I’ve had ten different jobs in four months.”

A recruiter asked a job candidate, “Why did you leave your last job?”
The job applicant replied, “It was something my boss said.”
“What did he say?”
“You’re fired.”

A recruiter asked a job candidate, “What’s your biggest weakness?”
The job applicant replied, “I don’t know when to quit.”
“You’re hired.”
“I quit.”

Hardest worker

A n old ranch owner named John had a small ranch in Montana. The state government claimed he was not paying proper wages to his workers, so it sent an agent out. “I need a list of your employees here, along with how much you pay them,” said the agent.

“Well,” replied old John, “There’s my ranch hand Silas, who’s been with me for three years. I pay him $600 a week plus free room and board. The cook, Ben, has been here for 18 months, and I pay him $500 a week plus free room and board. Then there’s the half-wit who works about 18 hours every day and does about 90 percent of all the work around here. He makes about $10 per week, pays his own room and board, and I buy him a bottle of bourbon every Saturday night.”

“That’s the guy I want to talk to, the half-wit,” said the agent.

“That would be me,” replied John.

I enjoy life when things are happening. I don't care if it's good things or bad things. That means you're alive.

WHEN TREATING A HEART ATTACK OR STROKE, TIME IS OF THE ESSENCE. EVEN DURING THESE TIMES.

Don't hesitate when it comes to getting emergency treatment.

Even during a pandemic, you still need to be treated immediately if you have an emergency. Debating whether or not to risk going to an emergency room during a heart attack, stroke or other health emergency—waiting even a few extra minutes—could be harmful. That's why in all BayCare hospital emergency rooms, patients who have symptoms of COVID-19 are isolated from other patients. This helps keep emergency room patients and our team members safe. So if it's an emergency, don't wait. For more information: BayCareEmergencyCare.org

Learn from body language

What can people's movements and physical behaviors tell you about what they're thinking? The Cracked website offers these insights into seeing into other people's minds:

- Mirroring. If someone is genuinely paying attention to you, they'll start to mirror your movements and gestures.
- Head tilt. This can signify interest in what you're saying—the other person tilts his or her head and leans an ear toward you.
- Hands. People who feel strong and confident spread their fingers wide. People who are insecure will tighten their fingers, or hide their hands altogether.
- Baby cradling. Holding a baby with the left arm, regardless of left- or right-handedness, is a natural human instinct. If someone is holding a baby with their right, the person may be depressed or stressed.
- Doodles. People who doodle predominantly with straight lines tend to be more fact-oriented. Curving strokes signify that the person is more creative and flexible.

Odd jobs of future famous writers

Few great authors spring up overnight. Most work odd jobs while they struggle to create. The Literacy Site shares these stories of the famous before they became famous:

- Langston Hughes. The would-be poet worked as a busboy at a prestigious Washington, D.C. hotel. One day the well-known poet Vachel Lindsay came to lunch, and Hughes worked up enough courage to show her some of his poems. Lindsay was impressed by his talent, which led to him being discovered and going on to lead the Harlem Renaissance.
- Kurt Vonnegut. The future author of Slaughterhouse-5 and other classics owned the first Saab dealership in the U.S. He went on to serve in the U.S. Army during the World War II, which had a major impact on his later writing.
- J.D. Salinger. Before breaking onto the literary scene, the author of The Catcher in the Rye and other classics worked as entertainment director on a Swedish cruise ship.

Halloween is scarier than usual this year

The COVID-19 pandemic has cancelled lots of celebrations and events this year—including possibly Halloween. Many communities are weighing the risks of letting children go trick-or-treating from house to house collecting candy.

Costumes and going door-to-door for treats can be traced back to pagan and Christian rituals from the Middle Ages. Trick-or-treating became an established fixture of American popular culture in the 1950s, when Walt Disney produced a cartoon called “Trick or Treat,” and an episode of the popular TV show Ozzie and Harriet showed children overwhelming the Nelson household in search of candy.

The Insight to Action website reports that 70% of parents plan to celebrate Halloween with their kids in 2020. Sixty percent of consumers expect their Halloween spending in 2020 to be the same as last year, about $89.

How can you celebrate safely? Consider these options from the Retail Me Not website:

- Decorate your home. Spooky lanterns, carved pumpkins, cobwebs, and hanging skeletons can still induce that thrill that makes Halloween so enjoyable.

- Zoom parties. Host a costume party via Zoom. Invite friends and kids to show up in their scary costumes and display their creativity.

- Trunk-or-treating. Some communities are organizing events in schools, church parking lots, or neighborhood driveways. Trunks are filled with candy, so kids can go trick-or-treating from car to car. Keep plenty of responsible adults on hand to supply hand sanitizer as costumed children collect their goodies.

- Drive-in movies. With indoor movie theaters shut down for the duration, drive-ins are experiencing a renaissance. Older kids may enjoy being creeped out by Night of the Living Dead, A Nightmare on Elm Street, or even (obviously) Halloween.

We make up horrors to help us cope with the real ones.
