As we journey together through the uncharted territory of COVID-19, remember these words of strength:

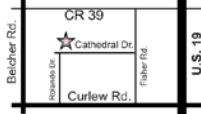

So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. Isaiah 41:10

For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but one of power, love, and sound judgment. 2 Timothy 1:7

Our prayers are with those affected by COVID-19, as well as all health care workers, first responders, and those on the frontlines. Please use "sound judgment" and follow the guidelines set for us so that you may stay safe and stay healthy.

LHRO PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By Susan Zerbe

Wherever you may be while reading this message, it is my sincere hope you are doing well, and staying safe and healthy. To our Canadian residents and the American citizens who returned to their northern homes earlier than normal, I sincerely hope your travels were easy and not too stressful. As I write this while still being in Florida, we're now in the middle of the Stay at Home directive recently issued from the governor. In realizing you will be reading this message in May, it is my sincere wish this situation has moved forward in a more positive direction, not only in this state, but the entire country and the world.

All of us know Lake Highlander is a special place to live, but this experience has confirmed this once again. We have shared smiles and friendly hellos as folks walk or drive by, shared food and or supplies, made phone calls to touch base and to pass some time chatting with one another, shared ideas, jokes, recipes, etc. on the Lake Highlander FaceBook page, made face masks to give away, respected the recommended 6 foot distancing rule, and quite simply, extended help to a neighbor or friend as best as possible when needed. Thank you for being the wonderful, caring people you are.

If nothing else has been learned from this experience, it is to realize that all of us, world-wide, are connected. The choices we individually make affect the whole. It has been a challenging and life altering experience, one we will never forget, and I would like to thank everyone for the cooperation demonstrated during this historic event. Again, continued good health to you and we'll all look forward to good times shared together at Lake Highlander.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

In December 1990, Lake Highlander Resident Owner Association was established. Officers were as follows: Luke Rhoad, President (lot 230); George Michael, Vice President/Chief Financial Officer, and Treasurer (lot 242); John Ross, Vice President/Chief Operations Officer (lot 89); Austin Gilbert, Vice President/Internal Audit (Lot 250); James Conner, Vice President/Rules and Regulations (lot 76); William McDonald, Vice President/Recreational and Social Activities (lot 316); James Ganey, Vice President/Sales and Communications (lot 47); Frank Kinyon, Vice President/Buildings and Grounds (lot 251); and Evelyn Cerutti, Secretary (lot 182).

What else happened in 1990?

- The reunification of Germany
- Launch of the Hubble Space Telescope
- Baltic states declared independence from the Soviet Union
- Nelson Mandela was released from prison
- Margaret Thatcher resigned as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom after serving 11 years.

MEMORIES OF OUR ISOLATION

As of the publication date, I have no idea how long our new normal will last. Certainly, we are all feeling or have felt the strain of isolation. Most of our Canadian friends went home early to comply with government wishes and had to remain in isolation for two weeks upon their return. The rest of us have tried to amuse ourselves here at Lake Highlander. We see many out on their golf carts or walking or riding bikes. For the first few days we were able to use our pool, but the sheriff closed it down. The Malones have been golfing a couple of times a week as have others. Some have gathered by the lake from time to time, keeping their social distance, to talk and fellowship. Others have been playing cards and doing jigsaw puzzles. Many have found this a good time to do Spring cleaning. And of course, reading. The Lake Highlander library has been very busy which is evident from the number of returns.

On Easter Sunday evening, an impromptu gathering occurred to sing “Amazing Grace.” The Lake Highlander Facebook page is a great tool for letting people know what is happening. Quite a few people enjoyed the small gathering. There was lots of laughter as everyone greeted their isolated neighbors.

Nat Wright and Shirley Young have been making face masks. They are both avid quilters and had a “stash” of supplies already at hand. Both began making them about

April 3rd. Nat advertised her efforts on the Lake Highlander Facebook page, offering free face masks. Shirley chimed in that she was also making them and would give them away. Shirley said that Saturday was very busy, giving away face masks all day. As of April 6, Nat estimated she had made about three dozen with two dozen requested. Shirley estimated she had made about 100. Nat’s quilt guild has been making them for hospital staff at Morton Plant and Meese Dunedin. It is good to see people using their talents to help others.

Residents enjoying the impromptu gathering.

Patrice Groux [AKA Patsy Grew], Lot 131

As with most Canadians, Patsy and her husband left Florida for their return to Canada and the forced 14-day self-quarantine.

“We are quarantined in Canada for another 7 days [as of March 26]. Justin Trudeau today enacted the Quarantine Act which includes heavy fines and prison for anyone returning from outside the country and failing to stay home for 14 days. We are on the second floor of a senior building, not permitted in hallways or stairwells, so we have a bucket we lower on a rope for deliveries. The grocery store delivers to the hallway. This is this week’s take [see Patsy 1 and 2]. I clean everything with a Clorox solution in the foyer and let air dry before anything comes into the rest of the dwelling. There is a new number for reporting people gathering in groups – 4141.”

Gord doing a 1000-piece jigsaw puzzle. We had to get a second card table.

Gord readying the bucket to lower down one story for sundry deliveries and to share with others what we have to much of.

No matter how tough this time has been, Jeanne Bole has summed it up nicely. “We are very lucky to be here.”

FALL ART/CRAFT FAIR

Submitted by Lynn Marro

I'm so sorry the spring Fair had to be cancelled. HOWEVER, the sign-up sheet for the November 21st Fair is on the back bulletin board in the clubhouse. Hopefully, this virus will be a fading memory by then. If you have already left Lake Highlander, you can reserve a table by contacting me at r21mar@aol.com.

A FASCINATING SHORT SEA STORY: SS WARRIMOO

Submitted by Al Szynski

The passenger steamer SS Warrimoo was quietly knifing its way through the waters of the mid-Pacific on its way from Vancouver to Australia. The navigator had just finished working out a star fix and brought the master, Captain John Phillips, the result. The Warrimoo's position was LAT 0° 31' N and LON 179 30' W. The date was 31 December 1899.

"Know what this means?" First Mate Payton broke in, "We're only a few miles from the intersection of the Equator and the International Date Line".

Captain Phillips was prankish enough to take full advantage of the opportunity for achieving the navigational freak of a lifetime. He called his navigators to the bridge to check & double check the ships position. He changed course slightly so as to bear directly on his mark. Then he adjusted the engine speed. The calm weather & clear night worked in his favor.

At midnight the SS Warrimoo lay on the Equator at exactly the point where it crossed the International Date Line! The consequences of this bizarre position were many:

The forward part (bow) of the ship was in the Southern Hemisphere & in the middle of summer. The rear (stern) was in the Northern Hemisphere & in the middle of winter.

The date in the aft part of the ship was 31 December 1899. In the bow (forward) part it was 1 January 1900.

This ship was therefore not only in:
Two different days,
Two different months,
Two different years,
Two different seasons
But in two different centuries - all at the same time.

HEALTH TIPS

Article Review: Vitamin D (Deficiency) and Role In Health

Extracted by Steven Schultz

[\[https://articles.mercola.com/sites/articles/archive/2016/01/06/vitamin-d-role-in-health-conditions.aspx\]](https://articles.mercola.com/sites/articles/archive/2016/01/06/vitamin-d-role-in-health-conditions.aspx)

It is commonly recognized that we need a proper amount of vitamins, minerals and vital nutrients to maintain good health, among other things like exercise and proper diet. Yet, rarely are we tested annually for adequate levels or processing of these across the wide spectrum of our body's health. Just to name a few of the disorders which information indicates a deficiency of Vitamin D can impact are:

- Dementia/Alzheimers
- Vulnerability to diabetes, heart diseases, stroke and cancer
- Dry eyes syndromes, age-related macular degeneration
- Multiple Sclerosis and auto-immune diseases
- Inflammatory Rheumatic diseases
- Lupus
- Depression

Of course, Vitamin D/D3 is not a cure-all alone for these and other health issues but one that ought to be regularly and simply addressed with your physician. The easiest source of Vitamin D/D3 is from regular exposure of natural sunshine to your skin, if tolerated. The body recognizes and optimizes this source well. Otherwise, supplements under a monitored medical program is the next best alternative if needed. Minimum daily requirement levels usually are not near enough. Proper levels of support elements like magnesium are required for Vitamin D to work well. Also, be sure to take authentic Vitamin D3 with Vitamin K-2 and not the synthetic Vitamin D2. Vitamin K-2's role is to assist in the transport of calcium to the appropriate areas of one's body so that such calcium does not build up as blockage elsewhere. It has been learned that this latter condition of blockage was truly caused by lack of K-2 and not due primarily to too much Vitamin D.

As additional notes, dietary sources of magnesium are the darker green vegetables. For supplements, consider the more effective types like magnesium citrate and magnesium threonate. One additional idea, lower zinc levels have also been identified as a contributing factor to Alzheimers, as well as affecting blood clotting, immune functions, thyroid health and wound healing for starters. It is a good idea to keep up with the latest independent medical studies on these valuable vitamins. Again, coordinate body testing with your physician.

Home Exercise Routines

Article provided by Monthly Media

[Editor's Note: The April Piper included some exercises you can do at home. This article re-emphasizes the need to stay fit when you can't get to the gym or attend Margaret's classes.]

Adding a fitness routine to your daily schedule is a great way to stay in shape both mentally and physically. Many of us are missing our regularly scheduled fitness activities offered in our communities or at our local gyms, but that doesn't mean you can't stay fit at home! Check out these exercise suggestions below for an effective at-home workout. The number of repetitions and sets of each exercise is up to you. You can customize this routine based on the amount of time you have.

 If you're new to an exercise routine, please obtain clearance from your medical doctor before starting a new program or attempting any of these activities.

Warm-Up. First, warm up your body! If you can, go on a brisk 5-10 minute walk around your neighborhood to get your muscles warmed up. Prefer to stay inside? March in place, step side to side, or turn on your favorite tunes and dance around the living room for a few minutes. After heating up your muscles, dedicate some time to your joints. Think about starting at the top of your body and working your way down. Move your head left and right and tilt your head side to side to warm up your neck. Raise your shoulders up and down, then add some shoulder circles. Roll your shoulders forward for 30 seconds or so then reverse the motion rolling your shoulders back maintaining the circular pattern. Holding your arms out directly in front of you (you may choose to sit in a chair), do some wrist circles in one direction and then reverse the motion. Next, stand with your legs hip width apart, slowly making a figure 8 shape with your hips. Continue in one direction for about 30 seconds and then reverse. Have a seat in a chair and lift one foot off the ground and begin making circles with your ankle. Start in one direction, then reverse the motion. Repeat with the other ankle. Whatever warm-up you prefer, the goal is to warm your muscles and joints to prepare your body for exercise.

Chair Squats. If you have knee issues, you may choose to skip this exercise (please consult with your doctor). Squats are a great way to strengthen your lower body. If you can, find two chairs to use for this exercise. One chair will be used for squatting, and the other chair will be used for balance. Place the chairs one behind the other facing the same direction leaving enough room for you to stand between the two chairs. Place your hands on the chair in front of you for balance, then slowly push your hips back, bend your knees, and lower your body to the chair. You may choose to lightly sit on the chair or barely touch it before standing up and returning to the starting position.

Wall Push Ups. Wall push ups are a great way to strengthen your upper body. Stand about two feet behind a wall and place your hands on the wall about shoulder height. Begin to bend your elbows out to the sides as you bring your face and chest close to the wall. Your heels will most likely come off the floor – that’s ok! Press your hands into the wall to straighten your elbows and return to the starting position.

Toe Stands. Grab one of the chairs you used for the squatting exercise and stand directly behind it using the chair for balance. Slowly raise up onto your tiptoes then slowly lower your heels back to the floor.

Knee Extensions. Using the same chair, have a seat keeping your back straight and knees bent. One leg at a time, slowly extend your leg out in front of you. Hold this position for a few seconds and then lower back to the starting position. Repeat with opposite leg.

Chest Expansions. While still sitting in your chair. Bring your arms straight out in front of you (shoulder height) and place your palms together. As you inhale, open your arms wide extending your fingertips in opposite directions. As you exhale, bring your arms back to the starting position. Continue moving in these motions along with your breath.

Relax. At the end of your routine, you may choose to stay sitting in your chair for a little relaxation time. You’re encouraged to maintain proper posture and place your hands in your lap. If you’d like, close your eyes and take a few deep breaths. Imagine your favorite person, place, or thing; think about anything that brings you joy and gratitude. With a smile on your face, slowly blink your eyes open, take one last deep breath, and celebrate the positive work you just completed for your body and mind!

LITTLE FREE LIBRARIES

Little Free Library started as a grassroots effort to inspire the love of reading. In 2009, Todd Bol of Hudson, Wisconsin, built a model of a one-room schoolhouse as a tribute to his mother. She was a teacher who loved to read. He filled the box with books and put it on a post in his front yard. His neighbors and friends loved it, so he built several more and gave them away. The premise behind the project was “Take a book, leave a book.”

By 2010, the name Little Free Library was established, and a nonprofit organization had been started. Through Little Free Library book exchanges, millions of books are exchanged each year, increasing access to books for readers of all ages and backgrounds.

Dunedin has 14 Little Free Libraries throughout the city. One of those honors the memory of Del Miezio’s wife Sharon and is sponsored by their sons Adam and Peter. You can find it at the law office of Freeborn & Freeborn at 360 Monroe St. Del says his wife was an avid reader and very instrumental in establishing our Lake Highlander library. Adam and Peter wanted to honor their mother by bringing the joy of books to others in our community. This is the only Little Free Library in Dunedin on private property.

The other Little Free Libraries in Dunedin can be found at: Downtown on the Pinellas Trail, Dunedin Fine Arts Center, Dunedin Garden Club by the Community Garden (1040 Virginia St.), Dunedin Marina by the pier, Fairview Estates at Lake Saundra Park (Palm Blvd.), Hammock Park by the Butterfly Garden, John Grant Hubbard Park (Edgewater), Meese Dunedin Hospital, MLK Jr. Recreation Center, San Jose Elementary School, Trailside Oasis Park by the Arboretum (Alt 19 & Curlew at the Pinellas Trail), and Weaver Park by the playground.

Meal Kit Services

Article provided by Monthly Media

It's quite understandable that individuals are hesitant to leave their home during this time, but unless you're self-sufficient, you'll probably still need to buy food. Now is the time to explore and experiment with different cuisines by using a meal kit delivery service. No need to leave your home to go food shopping! Here are a few popular options:

Sun Basket – Chef-curated meals with organic produce and delicious flavors. Right now, when you join, you are offered four FREE grab'n'go breakfasts and snacks. One unique feature of this service is that they offer breakfast, lunch, and snack options where many meal kit services only offer dinners. Another perk, Sun Basket offers several options to suit any dietary needs you may have (Vegetarian, Gluten-Free, Diabetes-Friendly, etc.)

Freshly – Each meal from Freshly is one serving for one person. All you have to do is heat and eat! Many meal delivery services send ingredients and you prepare the meal yourself, but if you're looking for something more convenient, Freshly might be the right option for you.

Blue Apron - One of the original meal kit services, Blue Apron delivers fresh ingredients right to your door. If you want to test your culinary skills, with pre-measured and pre-portioned ingredients of course, Blue Apron might be the perfect pick for you.

Daily Harvest – Meals designed by chefs and nutritionists. No preservatives, no additives, no artificial ingredients. Daily Harvest offers options for smoothies, harvest bowls, soups, lattes, chia bowls, and oat bowls. For those looking to incorporate more fruits and vegetable into their diets, this may be the best pick.

If you try any of the above options (or any alternative options), we'd love to hear your thoughts! Send us a note with your review to the following address:

Pantry Recipes

A Pantry Recipe is any recipe that can be made with stable, room temperature and/or frozen foods. If you find yourself fresh out of fresh ingredients (pun intended), try one of these easy recipes with ingredients you probably already have on hand!

NO BAKE ENERGY BITES

Recipe by gimmesomeoven.com

These No-Bake Energy Bites are easy to make, full of feel-good ingredients, and irresistibly delicious!

Ingredients

- 1 cup old fashioned oats
- 2/3 cup toasted shredded coconut
- ½ cup Creamy peanut butter
- ½ cup Ground flaxseed
- ½ cup chocolate chips
- 1/3 cup honey
- 1 tablespoon chia seeds
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Instructions

1. Stir all ingredients together in a large mixing bowl until thoroughly combined.
2. Cover the mixing bowl and chill in the refrigerator for 1-2 hours, or until the mixture is chilled. (This will help the mixture stick together more easily.)
3. Roll mixture into 1-inch balls.
4. Enjoy immediately! Or refrigerate in a sealed container for up to 1 week or freeze for up to 3 months.

POOR MAN'S BURRITO BOWLS

Recipe adapted from budgetbites.com

These easy, no-frills burrito bowls are super-fast and affordable.

Ingredients

- 2 cups uncooked rice
- 2 cans of black beans
- 1 can Mexicorn (or regular corn)
- ½ tsp cumin
- ¼ tsp garlic powder
- 1 16 oz. jar salsa
- 6 oz. Velveeta Cheese (or fresh shredded cheese if available)

Instructions

1. Cook rice according to package directions.
2. While the rice is cooking, make the beans. Add both cans of black beans (undrained) to a small sauce pot, along with the cumin and garlic powder. Heat over medium heat, stirring often, until heated through.
3. Once the rice is cooked, build the bowls. Add one cup of cooked rice, ½ cup warm black beans, ½ cup corn, 1/3 cup of salsa, and ad 1 oz. sliced Velveeta or shredded cheese (about ¼ cup) to each bowl.

*LAFF CORNER

One of the most misunderstood things in the world is the difference between men and women. At first glance, you would think that we are very much the same because we have the same general makeup. When you start to look under the surface, however, you realize that there is a significant difference between men and women in the way that they think and their emotions. It can sometimes be difficult to understand but this story shows the difference so clearly that you will never be able to forget it.

Let's say a guy named Fred is attracted to a woman named Martha. He asks her out to a movie; she accepts; they have a pretty good time. A few nights later he asks her out to dinner, and again they enjoy themselves. They continue to see each other regularly, and after a while neither one of them is seeing anybody else.

And then, one evening when they're driving home, a thought occurs to Martha, and, without really thinking, she says it aloud: "Do you realize that, as of tonight, we've been seeing each other for exactly six months?"

And then, there is silence in the car.

To Martha, it seems like a very loud silence. She thinks to herself: I wonder if it bothers him that I said that. Maybe he's been feeling confined by our relationship; maybe he thinks I'm trying to push him into some kind of obligation that he doesn't want or isn't sure of.

And Fred is thinking: Gosh. Six months.

And Martha is thinking: But, hey, I'm not so sure I want this kind of relationship either. Sometimes I wish I had a little more space, so I'd have time to think about whether I really want us to keep going the way we are, moving steadily towards, I mean, where are we going? Are we just going to keep seeing each other at this level of intimacy? Are we heading toward marriage? Toward children? Toward a lifetime together? Am I ready for that level of commitment? Do I really even know this person?

And Fred is thinking: ...so that means it was...let's see...February when we started going out, which was right after I had the car at the dealer's, which means...lemme check the odometer...Whoa! I am way overdue for an oil change here.

And Martha is thinking: He's upset. I can see it on his face. Maybe I'm reading this completely wrong. Maybe he wants more from our relationship, more intimacy, more commitment; maybe he has sensed – even before I sensed it – that I was feeling some reservations. Yes, I bet that's it. That's why he's so reluctant to say anything about his own feelings. He's afraid of being rejected.

And Fred is thinking: And I'm gonna have them look at the transmission again. I don't care what those morons say, it's still not shifting right. And they better not try to blame it on the cold weather this time. What cold weather? It's 87 degrees out, and this thing is shifting like a garbage truck, and I paid those incompetent thieves $600.

And Martha is thinking: He's angry. And I don't blame him. I'd be angry, too. I feel so guilty, putting him through this, but I can't help the way I feel. I'm just not sure.

And Fred is thinking: They'll probably say it's only a 90-day warranty...scumballs.

And Martha is thinking: Maybe I'm just too idealistic, waiting for a knight to come riding up on his white horse, when I'm sitting right next to a perfectly good person, a person I enjoy being with, a person I truly do care about, a person who seems to truly care about me. A person who is in pain because of my self-centered, schoolgirl romantic fantasy.

And Fred is thinking: Warranty? They want a warranty? I'll give them a warranty. I'll take their warranty and stick it right up their...

"Fred," Martha says aloud.

"What?" says Fred, startled.

"Please don't torture yourself like this," she says, her eyes beginning to brim with tears. "Maybe I should never have...oh dear, I feel so..."(She breaks down, sobbing.)

"What?" says Fred.

"I'm such a fool," Martha sobs. "I mean, I know there's no knight. I really know that. It's silly. There's no knight, and there's no horse."

"There's no horse?" says Fred.

"You think I'm a fool, don't you?" Martha says.

"No!" says Fred, glad to finally know the correct answer.

"It's just that...it's that I...I need some time," Martha says.

(There is a 15-second pause while Fred, thinking as fast as he can, tries to come up with a safe response. Finally, he comes up with one that he thinks might work.)

"Yes," he says. (Martha, deeply moved, touches his hand.)

"Oh, Fred, do you really feel that way?" she says.

"What way?" says Fred.

"That way about time," says Martha.

"Oh," says Fred. "Yes." (Martha turns to face him and gazes deeply into his eyes, causing him to become very nervous about what she might say next, especially if it involves a horse. At last she speaks.)

"Thank you, Fred," she says.

"Thank you," says Fred.

Then he takes her home, and she lies on her bed, a conflicted, tortured soul, and weeps until dawn, whereas when Fred gets back to his place, he opens a bag of Doritos, turns on the TV, and immediately becomes deeply involved in a rerun of a college basketball game between two South Dakota junior colleges that he has never heard of. A tiny voice in the far recesses of his mind tells him that something major was going on back there in the car, but he is pretty sure there is no way he would ever understand what, and so he figures it's better if he doesn't think about it.

The next day Martha will call her closest friend, or perhaps two of them, and they will talk about this situation for six straight hours. In painstaking detail, they will analyze everything she said and everything he said, going over it time and time again, exploring every word, expression, and gesture for nuances of meaning, considering every possible ramification.

They will continue to discuss this subject, off and on, for weeks, maybe months, never reaching any definite conclusions, but never getting bored with it either.

Meanwhile, Fred, while playing racquetball one day with a mutual friend of his and Martha's, will pause just before serving, frown, and say: "Norm, did Martha ever own a horse?"

And that's the difference between men and women.

THE PHONE

The following items are Facebook postings regarding phones:

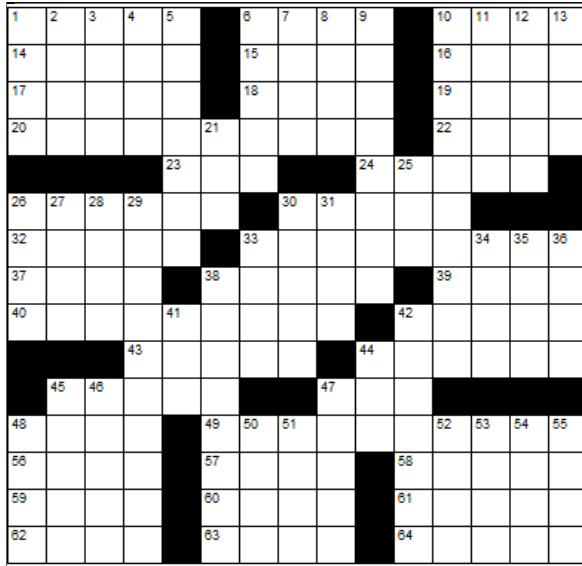

- When young people tell me about their problems, I like to tell them that story about that time I survived without my cell phone or the Internet for 40 years.
- People are excited about the new iPhone but no one has caught up with the awesome technology of using your blinker when you drive.
- Hard to believe I once had a phone attached to a wall. When it rang, I'd pick it up without knowing who was calling. Amazing I'm still alive.
- A waiter asks, "Is everything OK? You haven't photographed your food yet."
- Who remembers waiting to call long distance after 7 pm because it was cheaper?
- Remember when you used to be able to call a person 57 times, and hang up, and they never knew it was you?
