Hello fellow Lake Highlanders

We held a summer Board meeting on Aug 24. Doug Stewart chaired the meeting and did a great job. Three Directors participated in the meeting via conference call.

Main topic was security and safety. The issue was whether we should hire an outside security company or take advantage of the many services offered by the Sheriff's office - at no charge! After much discussion we decided to work with the Sheriff's Office. A big THANKS to Doug and Beth for all their work on our security situation.

The Board will no longer sanction security patrols by our residents. The Park Golf Cart will be stored in the maintenance shed.

A new Mission Statement will be prepared and approved by the Board.

Our new Directory, which is being installed, will include security cameras.

Beth provided the manager's report. Many projects have been in progress this summer.

Susan Zerbe presented the financial report. Lake Highlander is in good shape. Susan and her committee are working on next year's budget. Only 34 notes left.

Fred Wimmer has resumed the role of coordinator of the Disaster Recovery Committee.

The Board has asked for volunteers to open and close our buildings each day. Steve Shultz suggested volunteers could work a month at a time. Beth will manage these volunteers.

Lake Highlander, as always, is looking very good in all areas.
Gerry Killham

Lake Highlander residents, past and present, celebrating a get together and giving thanks with a delicious dinner provided by Roy & Carol Dudley at their Hudson MA home!

We are all so grateful that we survived Hurricane Irma.

Hope the power get turned on soon.

Irma is on her way!!!

I want to let you know even though Irma came to visit without an invite she did not wear us down. Our residents made it through and most kept their sense of humor after the fact. The ingenuity came into play when we all realized that the state of Florida may be closed for remodeling. People can make a little money by selling their broken trees as assembly required and make a little profit. One resident was thankful because his coach got power washed. Another Floridian was very happy because he woke up to see the trampoline in his back yard-he did not own a trampoline. Those are just a few of the funnies that are going around that has given us a little laugh. The important thing to remember is that the park made it through, the residents are all well, the electric is back on and the pool has opened.

Thank you,
Beth

Here are some of the pictures taken. Please remember that we have notified the residents that HAVE damage. These may seem bad but all the homes are standing and are fixable.

Florida's flying fish can knock you out cold

By Jacqui Goddard in Miami

Gulf sturgeon can grow to 8ft and weigh 200lb

12:01AM BST 17 Jun 2007

Its waters are already infested by man-eating alligators and razor-toothed sharks, but now Florida residents are being warned of another peril - flying fish.

A prehistoric fish has literally leapt its way to the top of the Sunshine State's wildlife danger list after a series of incidents that have left dozens of river users injured. Officials at Florida's Fish and Wildlife Commission (FFWC) have launched a campaign to warn people that a brush with an "armour plated" sturgeon - an endangered species that dates back 225 million years and can grow to 8ft and weigh 200lb - could send them to the surgeon.

Some of the victims have been knocked overboard, rendered unconscious and even left in a coma after giant Gulf sturgeon jumped out of the Suwannee River and slapped them with their rock-hard scales. Other injuries have included a fractured spine, a collapsed lung, ruptured spleen, slit throat, broken ribs and wounds that have required plastic surgery.

One woman had to have three fingers re-attached and another amputated, and two men suffered multiple injuries after they accidentally steered their boat into a bridge in an effort to avoid a leaping sturgeon.

"These fish don't mean any harm - it's not an attack so much as a collision," explained Major Bruce Hamlin, regional commander for the FFWC's north-central region.

"At times they are jumping quite frequently and with the low water conditions, people in boats are more confined and the fish are more confined on the same pathways."

He added: "They've got a kind of armour plating that makes their bodies tough. It's as if you were riding a motorcycle at 35 mph and someone threw a 100lb concrete block in your face."

It is not clear what prompts the sturgeons' acrobatics, although their leaping season appears to run from June to August. Some scientists believe the fish use it as a form of communication, others think it is aimed at flushing the gills. Some theorise that sturgeon leap simply because they can.

Ten people were hospitalised with sturgeon-related injuries suffered on the Suwannee River, in the north-west of the state, last year. As this summer's boating season gets under way, two more have been hurt including a woman who was knocked out on her yacht last weekend by a 130lb fish.

"We fear the fish could only just be getting started," said Major Hamlin.

Among last year's victims was Dawn Poirier, 32, a beauty shop owner from Kenneth City, Florida. She was on a boat with her boyfriend when a sturgeon measuring up to 6ft rocketed out of the water, smashing into her face and ripping off the vessel's engine before toppling back and swimming away.

It took two weeks for her to recover consciousness, after which she underwent surgery to reconstruct one side of her face. "I was in a coma. I don't remember 15 days of my life," said the mother of two. "My entire life was changed because of a fish."

Mrs Poirier - who had her jaw wired shut for eight weeks, lost her memory and ran up medical bills of $130,000 (£66,000) - added: "It was like 1,000 razor blades hitting me all at once when that fish jumped. I will never go near that river again."

Bowling

Lake Highlander fun and friendly bowling league will be starting a new season this October and we would LOVE to have you join in if you have the time from 11:45 to 12:30 (or so) on Tuesdays. It's just for fun and exercise so experience is not needed, we have bowling averages from 100 and up so please consider joining. The cost is $9.00 per week ($7 for bowling and $2 for league dues). Everyone gets a cash prize at the end of the season (March) so you sorta, kinda get your money back.

To our returning bowlers-can't wait to see you and thank you for making our little league so much fun.

For anyone interested please contact either myself (Gloria MacMillan) or Cathy Quast and we will get you "squared away" and placed on a team.

Enjoy the rest of your summer!

This was sent by Bob Greer!!!

Yesterday my daughter e-mailed me again, asking why I didn't do something useful with my time.

"Like, me sitting around the pool and drinking wine is not a good thing?" I asked.

My "doing-something-useful" seems to be her favorite topic of conversation.

She was "only thinking of me", she said and suggested that I go down to the Senior Center and join something

I did this and when I got home last night, I decided to play a prank on her.

I e-mailed her and told her that I had joined a Parachute Club.

She replied, "Mother, are you nuts? You are 78 years old and now you're going to start jumping out of airplanes?"

I told her that I even got a Membership Card and e-mailed a copy to her.

She immediately telephoned me and yelled, "Good grief, Mom, where are your glasses?!

This is a Membership to a Prostitute Club, not a Parachute Club."

I calmly replied, "Oh my, I think I'm in real trouble then, because I signed up for five jumps a week!!"

The line went quiet and her friend picked up the phone and said that my daughter had fainted.

Life as a Senior Citizen is not getting any easier, but sometimes it can be real fun.

Just because you're "Young" doesn't mean that you can outsmart an "old Geezer"

Remember: Don't make old people mad. We don't like being old in the first place, so it doesn't take much to tick us off.

Al Szynski keep "em coming!!!

New Business Name

ESPECIALLY FOR THE REYNOLDS YANK.

A couple who lived in the South were moving to Connecticut to set up their business of raising Yorkshire Terriers under a new name.

Being new to the area they wanted to come up with a catchy name for their new adventure in the area.

So they settled on the name "New Yank Yorkies".

Woman Driver

A Woman. gets pulled over for speeding...

Woman: Is there a problem, Officer?

Traffic Cop: Yes ma'am, I'm afraid you were speeding.

Woman: Oh, I see.

Traffic Cop: Can I see your license please?

Woman: Well, I would give it to you but I don't have one.

Traffic Cop: Don't have one?

Woman: No. I lost it 4 years ago for drunk driving.

Traffic Cop: I see...Can I see your vehicle registration papers please.

Woman: I can't do that.

Traffic Cop: Why not?

Woman: I stole this car.

Traffic Cop: Stole it?

Woman: Yes, and I killed and hacked up the owner.

Traffic Cop: You what!?

Woman: His body parts are in plastic bags in the trunk if you want to see

The traffic cop looks at the woman and slowly backs away to his car while calling for back up. Within minutes 5 police cars circle the car. A senior officer slowly approaches the car, claspings his half drawn gun.

Officer 2: Ma'am, could you step out of your vehicle please!

The woman steps out of her vehicle.

woman: Is there a problem sir?

Officer 2: My colleague here tells me that you have stolen this car and murdered the owner.

Woman: Murdered the owner? Are you serious?!

Officer 2: Yes, could you please open the trunk of your car, please..

The woman opens the trunk, revealing nothing but an empty trunk.

Officer 2: Is this your car, ma'am?

Woman: Yes, here are the registration papers.

The traffic cop is quite stunned.

Officer 2: My colleague claims that you do not have a driving license. The woman digs into her handbag and pulls out a clutch purse and hands it to the officer.

The officer examines the license quizzically.

Officer 2: Thank you ma'am, but I am puzzled, as I was told by my officer here that you didn't have a license, that you stole this car, and that you murdered and hacked up the owner!

Woman: Bet the lying bugger told you I was speeding, too.

Don't Mess With Woman

If you want to brighten someone's day, pass this on to someone you know.

Three activities to ward off Alzheimer's

Alzheimer's disease may not have a cure, but experts believe some practices can help delay memory loss. Here's what you can do:

- Cognitive training. Crossword puzzles and other games can help, but try some different techniques. Do simple arithmetic in your head instead of relying on a calculator. Develop a new method for remembering what's on your shopping list. Train your brain to remember things in new ways and you'll keep it sharper.
- Control your blood pressure. Reducing high blood pressure with medication and weight loss not only cuts your risk of heart disease, but it can also ease stress on the delicate blood vessels in your brain—stress that can exacerbate memory loss and dementia.
- Exercise. Moderate aerobic exercise has many health benefits, including heading off symptoms associated with Alzheimer's. Try exercising for 30 minutes five days a week, or 50 minutes three times a week. You'll feel better and extend your cognitive health.

Scientists search for life on the toughest planets

We think of life as viable only on planets orbiting stars like our sun, but scientists now speculate that it could evolve on worlds circling very different types of stars.

Stars called M dwarfs are the most common stars in our galaxy. Their harsh flares and gravitational grip on their innermost planets could interfere with the formation of liquid water, which is necessary for life. However, astronomers have spotted approximately 200 planets circling M dwarfs, and dozens are in the so-called habitable zone where liquid water could exist and temperatures aren't too extreme for the development of life.

Scientists are studying these strange new worlds in hopes of detecting conditions that might lead to life—although it will probably be very different from any life found on Earth.
