Line Dancing

Cathy Wackerman

Line Dancing begins Saturday, January 5 at 10 am in the Hall. Come out and join us. No experience is necessary.

Lawn Mowing - Wednesday, January 9

Matthews Lawn Service is scheduled to mow on Wednesday, January 9.

Pancake Breakfast - Saturday, January 12

Your Pancake committee Bill and Cathy Wackerman; Dan Jackson; and Bob Osgood The Social Club at Lake Seminole Resort has been a part of the social fabric of our park since the Park's founding. The Social Committee supports many of the activities that take place through the year and have done so year after year. Some of the major events that the social club totally supports are the FREE Pizza Day, FREE Ice Cream social and the FREE Pool Party.

The funds to pay for these gatherings, in part, come from events such as the Pancake Breakfast on Saturday, January 12. Please keep this in mind when a ticket seller knocks on your door in early January. Greet him or her with a smile and $5.00 for a ticket. You will be served unlimited light and fluffy pancakes, golden sausage, feathery scrambled eggs and coffee to die for! Your friends will be joining you and the service is fit for a king.

Please note that a list of positions and people who have filled those positions this past March is posted in the hall. Some people will be removing their names and new people will be required to fill these spots. Please take a moment to check the list and volunteer to help all the other volunteers to make this Pancake Breakfast even better than last March.

Finger Food & Games Day - Wednesday, January 16

Vera Papp

Finger food & game day will be Wednesday, January 16 in the club house at 12 noon. It's a fun time to spend with your friends, playing a game of your choice or just come and enjoy a delicious lunch. The sign-up sheet will be on the back wall in the hall. Please come and bring a finger food to share.

We welcome you to join us and encourage you to discover your inner swashbuckler and dress up if you dare! Lots of prizes including one for best costume! Tickets are $5 and will go on sale at Monday morning coffee early in January. Hosted by Mario and Connie Zammit and crew.

Thanks to Mike Wallace and his crew for setting up all the tables and chairs and also for bringing in all the Christmas and Flea Market items from the sheds and putting up our large sign on Seminole Blvd. Thanks to all of Santa's helpers who filled the tables on Friday and to all the Super Sellers that worked at the sale on Saturday. Thanks to everyone's efforts, we beat last year's record by more than $120. Our total sales were $943.90. All of you deserve a second helping at our free Pizza party and Ice Cream Social. HA! HA! Gardening

Alice & Bobby Jarvis

What a wonderful time we had Tuesday morning, Nov. 27, with 17 of our LSR neighbors working together to plant and decorate for Christmas. Can you believe that 138 poinsettias were planted? Those hard workers were Janet Moss; Vicky & Marty Williams; Mary Jo Luzius; Dee Harlingen; Ken Brown; Shari & Kenny Poteet; Bud Kloth; Jim & Gloria Monchilov; Barb Touchette; Bobby and me.

Joann Davis is a WOW for sure, as she cleaned the plants around the laundry fence. I did not work on it all summer, so it was very overgrown. Dan Jackson helped Bobby with the clean-up of a bush he trimmed. Fred & Roberta Oystrick have been trimming a lot around the canal area, cleaning up the bushes and shrubs. We all made this community look so beautiful. A big thanks to all!

P.S. We always need help on Tuesday mornings. Try it you will like it.

Security

Please remember to contact the Sherriff's office to cancel your property checks when you return or rent your residence, 727-582-6200.

Ancient children adapted to climbing trees - based on foot fossil find

Kids love to climb trees, and they've apparently been doing it for a long time—some 3.3 million years, according to studies of the remains of a 3-year-old discovered in Ethiopia.

The CNN website reports that the child, nicknamed Selam (which means “peace” in the Ethiopian Amharic language) was found with a remarkably well-preserved foot—the most complete foot fossil yet discovered, say scientists.

Analyzing the fossil’s skeletal structure, scientists noted that the base of Selam’s big toe would have made her a great climber. Although she could walk upright, she probably spent most of her time in the trees. A study of her shoulder blades also showed a resemblance to those of an ape, adapted for tree climbing.

Trees provided escape from predators like jackals and saber-toothed cats before the discovery of tools and fire, researchers say, noting that data on chimps show that climbing to an average height of 46 feet makes them feel safe.

Ancient sword discovered in lake by young woman

It’s not exactly the fabled sword in the stone, but it’s almost as astonishing: An 8-year-old girl discovered an ancient sword while swimming in a lake in Sweden last summer.

According to The New York Times, the girl, Saga Vanecek, encountered what she thought at first was a stick. When she pulled it up, though, she realized it was a sword, covered with rust and black-brown with age.

The family turned the 33-inch-long sword over to a museum, which determined that it dated from the fifth or sixth century—before the time of the Vikings. Exceptionally well-preserved, it included a cover made from leather and wood.

The discovery was kept secret for a time while archeologists and divers used metal detectors to make a thorough search of the lake. Now that the find has been made public, the sword will be displayed in about a year as specialists perform conservation work on the artifact.

There are three stages in scientific discovery. First, people deny that it is true, then they deny that it is important; finally they credit the wrong person.

Monthly

Financial Wellness Month. Are you saving enough for retirement? Are you saving at all? Will you owe the IRS money this year toward your 2018 taxes? What are your financial goals for 2019? These are just a few of the questions to ask yourself while you review your spending habits and determine your preparedness for any "rainy days" ahead.

Get a Balanced Life Month. It's the start of a new year. Use this new beginning as time to review, reconsider, streamline—and maybe even eliminate—the unnecessary commitments, responsibilities, and activities that fill your days.

Get Organized Month. It's cold outside, and more than likely you're spending more time indoors fretting that there's nothing to do. Here's an idea: Don't wait for spring to purge your work and living spaces of unnecessary clutter and unused or unwanted items. There's no better time than the present to restore a sense of order to your life.

Learn to Ski and Snowboard Month. If saying "yes" to new adventures tops your to-do list this year, why not start things off right by developing your ski legs? Go online to learntoskiandsnowboard.org to find information on destinations, deals, and other considerations.

A New Year's resolution for fiscal fitness

Most New Year's resolutions revolve around getting fit. Although that frequently means losing weight, one area you want to fatten up is your money supply. Here are some simple resolutions for adding some healthy heft to your overall financial profile:

- Pay down your mortgage. You can save more than $63,000 on a 30-year, $200,000 mortgage by paying just $100 more a month.
- Save 10 percent. Put aside 10 percent of your income for long-term investments and retirement savings before paying any bills.
- Track your expenses. Record every dollar you spend, for at least one week. You'll get a clearer idea of where the money goes and what you can cut back on.
- Energize your house. Look for ways to make your house more energy efficient. You'll save on heating and cooling costs and help the environment.
- Stay home. Resist the temptation to eat out. Cook more meals at home. Instead of going to the movies, stream a video, read a book, or play a game with your whole family.
- Don't rely on credit cards. Credit card debt can eat up your savings and your future. Start reducing your debt, and don't buy anything on credit if you don't have the money to pay the bill off promptly.

Save money at the grocery store

You have to eat—there's no getting around it for long. You don't have to sink all your money into your next trip to the grocery store, though. The Reader's Digest website shares these tips for saving money on groceries:

- Know your store's coupon policies. Many stores offer their own printable coupons on their websites. Some allow you to use that coupon with a manufacturer's coupon (that's called "stacking"). Ask your store what it allows and what's off-limits.
- Join loyalty programs. You can get discounts and money back on your purchases through your store's loyalty program. Sign up and check all the rules so you get maximum value from it.
- Look for final markdowns and clearances. Many grocery stores place clearance items in a designated area, or use special stickers to help shoppers identify them. Find out what your store does, and keep an eye open for food you can use.
- Be careful with multiples. They can trick you into spending more than you want. For example, if a sign on a bag of chips says "Two for $5," and a single bag of chips is $3.29, you're getting a good deal (if you want chips). On the other hand, a sign that promises "10 for $10" for ramen noodles when they're individually priced at $1 apiece isn't offering any savings. Do the math, and be choosy.

Many folks think they aren't good at earning money, when what they don't know is how to use it.

Wasted days

A man was diagnosed with a rare but fatal illness and was told he had one year left. Because he believed he had nothing to live for, he refused treatment, quit his job, withdrew from the company of family and friends, and began to drink heavily and adopt other self-destructive behaviors.

Two years later the man realized he'd outlived his initial diagnosis. He made an appointment with a new doctor, who ordered lab work and a battery of tests. The results were shocking: He'd been misdiagnosed.

As he sat in the doctor's office trying to make sense of the news he'd received, his thoughts turned to how he'd been infected with hopelessness and wasted his days over the past few years. He knew he could never reclaim that time, but he vowed to live a more purposeful life starting that day.

He stopped drinking and took an active role in maintaining his health. He returned to work and spent time with family and friends. He even made the effort to do things that he'd always dreamed about.

His advice to those who might be sick or troubled or simply down on their luck is to make every day count for something meaningful and good. Life is too precious for wasted days.

It's all about the journey

Inspirational author and minister Steve Goodier often shares a version of this story to remind us to enjoy the journey as we set out to explore our horizons.

Armed with shovels, two young boys were hard at work, digging a hole in the corner of their backyard. Their older siblings came over to find out what they were doing.

"We're explorers!" one of the youngsters shouted. "We're digging a hole to the center of the earth."

Their older siblings began to laugh. One said, "I hate to tell you this, kiddo, but you won't make it."

"You'd need a lot more than those shovels if you really wanted to go deep into the earth," the other sibling added.

"It doesn't matter," one of the younger boys replied. "We may not get far, but we sure did find some treasures."

In his outstretched palms were a live worm, a shiny rock, an old skeleton key, and a nickel.
