Multiply Your Monthly Mania!

As you probably already know; patronizing the advertisers in this newsletter also pays YOU with our Monthly Mania Cash Give-a-Way. We pay out $400 every month to residents who submit tickets they have received from using the businesses in the newsletter. Winning is easy, just patronize any advertiser in the newsletter, then submit either the ticket or a paid receipt to us for your chance to win!

Now You Have More Chances to Win!

We are now offering unlimited entries into our Monthly Mania drawing by just SUGGESTING a business to advertise.

Here is how it works:

1. Call our office and suggest a business to advertise in the newsletter
2. We will take down your information (name, address, phone number) and enter you into the next month's drawing for over $400 in cash prizes
3. The more businesses you suggest, the more chances you have to win.
(To qualify each resident can only suggest a business once)

What businesses would you like to see advertising?

We have spots available in the following categories:

Feeding the Wildlife

Your Board of Directors

Just a reminder not to set out bird feed around your home or to feed the Alligator(s) and Turtles. The problem with bird feed is that birds often shake the feeder to get at their favorites and what goes to the ground is a real snack to rodents like Rats and Opossums (who also like living under our homes).

With the Turtles and Alligators, it's the Alligators - and since they learn quickly to see you as a food source, they become more responsive and interested than you (or dog owners) want.

Ladies Luncheon

Alice Godzich

September 10th fifteen women enjoyed a great lunch at the Golden Bear Restaurant. What a treat we had. There were bears everywhere but not to eat. The food was good. Some of the girls took half of their meal home. It was a lot of food.

P.S. I don't think Carolyn Fertig took any of the bears home with her but she sure did like them.

Life Goes On At Lake Seminole Resort In the Summertime

An informal get together was held on Labor Day at the Pool/Pavilion . Everyone in the Park was invited to join in and bring their own food that they wanted to eat for lunch. Despite the early heavy morning rain and it being an overcast day, twenty seven residents attended. We lit the grill and sausages, hamburgers, ribs, hot dogs, chicken, etc. were cooked. Some of the residents brought enough potato salad, chips, beans, chicken, chili sauce and desserts for everyone to enjoy. A good time was had even though we did not get to go swimming since the weather was not conducive for swimming. We enjoyed one another's companionship/conversations until the rains came again!

Gardening

Alice & Bobby Jarvis

Things look pretty good around the park. For those that have grounds care this summer on your flower beds and bushes, having someone care for them really makes a difference. We have had a lot of weeds and bush trimming. The new decorative blocks around the street side of the hall look really good. It's nice to replace the old boards that had deteriorated over the years.

I am sure a few gardeners will be returning soon and we have a lot of work to do mostly at the pond area.

Avoiding the dentist? It may cost you

Proper dental care is important to your overall health. Unfortunately, many of us tend to avoid visiting the dentist—often because of the cost.

A survey commissioned by Aspen Dental found that almost two out of five Americans have delayed needed dental work, or had it only partially performed, because of their financial situation. It's a figure that has jumped by almost 8 percent over the last two years, even though 80 percent say they're aware that staying away from the dentist will be more expensive in the long run.

Take one step to lose weight

Want to lose weight? Step onto a scale every day. That may seem like obvious advice, but it's supported by the results of a study reported on the Live Science website.

In the study, researchers challenged 162 people to reduce their weight by 10 percent over the course of the year. They weren't given any specific advice, but about half the participants were given scales and told to check and record their weight every morning.

Although few of the participants in either group achieved their goal of losing 10 percent of their body weight, 29 percent of those given scales succeeded in losing at least 5 percent, but only 11 percent in the scale-free group lost as much.

In addition, participants given scales managed to maintain their weight loss for a second year.

The researchers have theorized that checking weight once a day may help people pay more attention to what they eat (and how much), and reinforce positive weight-loss behaviors like skipping dessert.

Without mathematics, there's nothing you can do.
Everything around you is mathematics. Everything around you is numbers.

American Red Cross Urges Everyone to Get Ready for Emergencies Develop an Emergency Plan during National Preparedness Month

TAMPA, FL, September 2, 2014 — Disasters can strike at any time and the Tampa Bay Chapter of the American Red Cross encourages everyone to take the first step during National Preparedness Month and join America's PrepareAthon, creating a disaster plan for their household that can help keep people safe in an emergency.

"Having an emergency plan is an important step so everyone in the household knows what they should do if something happens," said Linda Carbone, CEO of Florida's West Coast Region and the Tampa Bay Chapter. "We believe people should mark National Preparedness Month by creating or updating their plan."

Here in Florida, Red Cross chapters have joined together in a landmark statewide campaign that will mobilize communities to be better prepared in the face of disaster. Prepare Florida will educate and empower hundreds of thousands of Floridians on how to take necessary action to care for themselves, their families and their neighbors during emergencies and will educate our citizens about what to expect during and after a disaster.

MAKE A PLAN: Everyone in the household should help put the emergency plan together so they know what they should do if something occurs. Because everyone may not be together at home when a disaster happens, the plan should include ways to contact one another and two places to meet – one near the home in case of a sudden emergency like a fire, and one outside the neighborhood in case circumstances prevent people from returning home. The plan should also identify an emergency contact person from outside the area in case local telephone lines are overloaded or out of service.

Any emergency plan should also include decisions about where to go if ordered to evacuate and what route to take to get there. It's a good idea to include alternate routes in case roads are closed. Don't forget family pets. Make sure to include plans for them such as pet-friendly hotels and animal shelters along the evacuation route.

HOME FIRES: The most common threat people face across the country is a fire in their home. National Preparedness Month is a good time to develop a fire escape plan and practice it with everyone in the household. When developing the plan, walk through the home and look at all exits and possible escape routes, including windows. List two ways to get out of every room in case fire blocks one of the paths. Pick a place to meet outside, a safe distance away and – no matter the circumstances – stay out of the home until fire officials say it is okay to go back inside. All households should practice their plan at least twice a year.

People should also install smoke alarms on every level of their home, inside bedrooms and outside sleeping areas. They should test the alarms monthly, replace the batteries at least once a year and replace them every ten years.

Avoiding Seasonal Illness

Fall brings about cooler weather. Riding on the coat tails of seasonal changes are some nasty germs that can cause mild to severe colds and flu in people of all ages. Seniors are especially at risk.

The flu vaccination is highly recommended for seniors to prevent contracting that virus. Even after vaccination some people may get the flu, though symptoms are not as severe as they can be without the vaccine. While there is no vaccination for the common cold, there are ways to decrease your chances of catching colds as well as the flu by educating yourself on prevention methods and practicing due diligence when putting your knowledge to work.

The most important factor in preventing and battling bacteria and viruses is to wash your hands frequently. The Centers for Disease Control advises washing hands for 20 seconds longer than you normally do, with warm, soapy water.

It is also important to maintain a healthy immune system. A diet containing whole grains, fresh fruits and vegetables is key. Physicians may recommend vitamin supplements to keep the immune system healthy. Foods that help boost your immune system contain high levels of vitamin C, which produces antibodies that fight infection. Include choices such as red, yellow, and green peppers, pineapples, oranges and kiwis in your daily diet.

Sleep is critical to maintain vital immune systems. Experts recommend 7-8 hours of sleep per night for optimum results. Indulge in daily naps to give your body the quality time it needs to rejuvenate.

Fluid consumption keeps the mucous membranes in your nose and lungs hydrated, which deters germs from becoming active in those places. Vitamin A can help maintain moisture of the mucous membranes in your nose and mouth, as they are often the first line of defense against infection.

Putting these methods into practice in your daily life can help you maintain overall good health and hopefully limit your susceptibility to seasonal illnesses.

Love, honor, and make your payment

One important factor that can unbalance a marriage or romantic relationship is debt. A survey conducted by Harris Poll for NerdWallet determined that 35 percent of adults have brought at least some credit card debt into their romantic relationships—more than student loans, car payments, medical loans, and mortgage debt.

More men than women bring it, with 42 percent of adult men coming into relationships with credit card debt, as opposed to 29 percent of women. Whoever's behind it, though, such debt can have costs beyond interest payments: 25 percent of couples with at least one partner dealing with credit card debt reported that it had a negative impact on their relationship.

Be alert to the signs of Alzheimer's disease

More than 5 million people live with Alzheimer's disease in the U.S. It's an affliction that can't be diagnosed with a blood test or a brain scan, so doctors and patients depend on behavioral clues to determine whether someone is suffering from it. An early diagnosis can help with treatment and care, so pay attention to these warning signs from the Alzheimer's Association:

- Changes in memory that disrupt daily activities
- Difficulty solving problems or making plans
- Problems performing familiar tasks at work or at home
- Confusion over places and times
- Problems processing visual images and spatial relationships
- Growing difficulties with writing and speaking
- Losing items/getting lost outside

If you or a loved one begins exhibiting a number of these symptoms, consult with your doctor. Although Alzheimer's has no cure, many treatments can delay its onset and provide a meaningful quality of life for years.

October Is...

Adopt A Dog Month. Millions of animals are waiting for someone to give them a safe, loving home. Be a hero and consider adopting a rescue animal or a dog from your local shelter. You'll be saving a life and adding joy to yours.

Eye Injury Prevention Month. Protecting your eyes from injury is one of the most basic things you can do to keep your vision healthy throughout your life. The American Academy of Ophthalmology reminds everyone to wear protective eyewear when performing home repairs or maintenance, and while playing sports.

National Bullying Prevention Month. A campaign to unite communities nationwide in educating and raising awareness of bullying prevention. National Bullying Prevention Month is recognized across the United States, with organizations like Facebook, Disney, CNN, Yahoo Kids, and other partners supporting the effort through media outreach and dissemination.

National Cyber Security Awareness Month. National Cyber Security Awareness Month is designed to engage and educate public and private sector partners with events and initiatives aimed at raising awareness about cyber security and increasing the resiliency of the nation in the event of a cyber incident.

Week to Week

Emergency Nurses Week, Oct. 11-17. Sponsored by the Emergency Nurses Association, which represents the approximately 180,000 emergency nurses in the U.S. who save lives and render aid on a 24/7 basis.

Earth Science Week, Oct. 11-17. An international event to help the public gain a better understanding and appreciation for the Earth sciences and to encourage stewardship of the Earth.

Nuclear Science Week, Oct. 19-23. A national celebration to focus local, regional, and national attention on all aspects of nuclear science. The 2015 theme: "Get to Know Nuclear."

Respiratory Care Week, Oct. 25-31. An annual event that recognizes the respiratory care profession and promotes awareness of lung health issues and practices.

Follow correct procedures whenever you lift a load

Lifting heavy items incorrectly can injure your back and other parts of your body. Whenever you have a heavy object to move, follow these basic rules for staying safe:

- Bend at the knees.
- Keep your head up.
- Keep your back straight.
- Lift with your legs, not your arms or back.
- Keep the object close to your body.
- Don't twist your back as you walk.
- Maintain stable footing.
- Ask for help if the load is too heavy for you to move on your own.

Strengthen your peer relationships

Getting along with your manager is important to success in any workplace, but so is a good relationship with your co-workers. You need everyone's support to get ahead. Forge strong connections by looking at these factors:

- Expectations. Clarify what you expect from your colleagues in the way of information, assistance, and results. Get to know each other's goals so you can provide the right kind of support.
- Mutual trust. Can you count on each other to follow through on commitments—or at least warn that problems are approaching? This is possible only if you both take responsibility for cooperation and communication.
- Sociability. Can you do more than merely tolerate each other? Go beyond common courtesy and show a genuine interest in other people's lives outside the job. Relationships grow through getting to know each other on a personal basis instead of just talking about work.
- Communication. This is the acid test of any working relationship: Can you tell each other what's on your mind? This isn't simply a matter of airing complaints. Delivering praise or thanks to a co-worker may feel awkward, but it's the heart of a good relationship. Be honest with the people around you, and listen to their words in the same spirit.

Thought-controlled robots offer freedom and mobility

Humans can now control robots remotely with their thoughts, thanks to a team of scientists who have developed technology to help people with disabilities regain some independence in their lives.

The robots are equipped with wheels and a video camera. The scientists tested them with a group of 19 subjects, nine with disabilities and 10 without. Each subject wore a helmet studded with electrodes that analyzed brain signals for several weeks. Then they were told to direct the movements of a robot in Switzerland via the Internet. After less than 10 days of training, all of the nine participants with disabilities were able to control the robot easily, as did those with no disability.

In addition, the robot is able to avoid obstacles on its own without direction from its human controller, allowing people to take a break when they become tired. Such robots could become part of the daily life of people with mobility issues, giving them the opportunity to interact with others outside their homes.

Solar panel promises hope for clean fuel

A new type of solar panel could allow us to split water into hydrogen and oxygen atoms and create a clean hydrogen fuel, according to the NBC News website.

The panel, developed by scientists in Switzerland, looks like the common solar panels found on rooftops. Sunlight passes through a layer of water, and the non-toxic chemical tungsten diselenide works as a catalyst to break the water into its separate hydrogen and oxygen atoms. The scientists hope to commercialize the process to create a cheap source of hydrogen fuel, but a practical version won't be available for at least 10 years.

Spiders On The Move: Land, Air, And Water

If you're afraid of spiders, this may not be good news: Scientists have discovered that some spiders can actually walk or sail across water, allowing them to travel great distances and colonize new areas of the world.

Spiders have long been known to travel by “ballooning”—climbing to the top of a plant or tree and shooting out a strand of web that catches the breeze, pulling them through the air. But what happens when they land on water? Some species of spiders have water-resistant legs that prevent them from sinking beneath the surface. With specialized “dance” routines, the spiders are able to make their way across the water. In addition, they're able to lift their legs to catch the wind, sliding on the surface as if sailing. Some spiders are also able to lift their abdomens like sails and take advantage of air currents to transport themselves.

All this helps spiders move about, allowing them to take their place as predators keeping insect populations in check. How far they can actually travel is still unclear, as is the question of whether salt water affects their mobility. Scientists are continuing to study the spiders to find out if they can literally sail across the ocean.

Black Holes: The Truth Is Out There (Just Hidden)

The universe is full of supermassive black holes, according to findings from NASA's Nuclear Spectroscopic Telescope Array (NuSTAR). But they're not always easy to locate because they're typically found at the center of galaxies, and hidden by clouds of dust and gas.

Astronomers found several of them recently them by analyzing high-energy X-rays at nine locations throughout the universe. The NuSTAR confirmed the existence of five black holes and determined that they're much more active than previously was known, consuming huge amounts of interstellar material and emitting large doses of radiation.

The NuSTAR's readings confirm theories of the presence of black holes throughout the cosmos and help to explain why many of them are obscured from view.

We can judge our progress by the courage of our questions and the depth of our answers, our willingness to embrace what is true rather than what feels good.
