Barking:

Makes excessive noises, continued or repeated howling, barking. (see below)
Pinellas County responds to barking complaints more than any other public nuisance issue. Our procedure is to alert and educate the pet owner that neighbors are disturbed by their dog(s) barking, and ask the owner to stop the disturbance.

Barking Dogs Procedure

If your neighbor has a dog that barks on a continuing basis here is a suggestion to help fix the issue.

Call: (727)582-2600 and select when prompted #4. This is the:

Pinellas County, Florida – Animal Services.

After describing the problem you will be asked for the address and mobile home number where the problem is occurring. YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED YOUR NAME!

At that time a letter will be sent to that address outlining Pinellas County noise ordinances. Wait a week and if the problem occurs again....CALL AGAIN. At that time an employee of Animal Services will visit the address and explain to the dog's owner the noise ordinances in our county.

Cave drawing of bull is earliest of its kind

Archeologists have discovered the oldest known drawing of an animal on the wall of a cave in Indonesia, according to the U.S. News & World Report website. It's some 40,000 years old, about five feet wide, and it depicts a bull-like creature in a red silhouette.

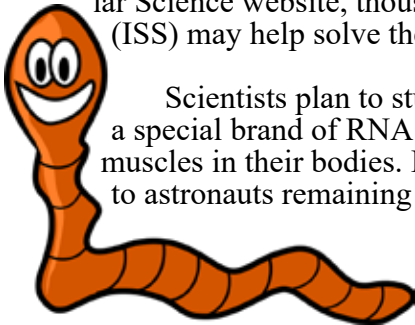

Along with similar drawings on cave walls in Borneo, the drawing sparks renewed debate about the role of art in ancient times. Similar cave paintings have been found in France and Spain, though they're just 33,500 to 37,000 years old.

Cave dwellers began sketching humans engaged in hunting activities and dancing some 14,000 years ago in both Europe and Asia. The findings raise the possibility that humans migrated from Africa to Europe and then Asia, bringing their artistic sensibilities with them.

Invasion of the space worms

Long-term space travel poses many challenges, but one of the most daunting is the loss of muscle mass in a zero-gravity environment. On a voyage to Mars, for example, space travelers could arrive on the red planet too weak to stand. Now, reports the Popular Science website, thousands of worms headed to the International Space Station (ISS) may help solve the problem.

Scientists plan to study muscle atrophy in the worms and then treat them with a special brand of RNA designed to stop the breakdown of protein and preserve the muscles in their bodies. If all goes according to plan, this could alleviate one danger to astronauts remaining in space for long periods of time.

Science is simply common sense at its best, that is, rigidly accurate in observation, and merciless to fallacy in logic.

Many Americans still worried about their finances

The stock market may be up, but many Americans are still struggling with financial security, according to a story on the USA Today website. A September 2018 Bankrate.com survey found that among people earning less than $30,000 a year, 78 percent said that their financial situation has failed to improve over the past two years, and many said it had gotten worse. On the other hand, people earning $75,000 a year or more reported feeling better about their money.

The survey found other divides as well. People 65 and older reported the least financial improvement, and millennials ages 28–37 felt the most improvement. In addition, men reported doing better in earlier years than women did.

Coffee still in demand

We sure like our coffee. The U.S. National Coffee Association's 2018 National Coffee Drinking Trends report says that the number of Americans who drank coffee in the past day is the highest it's been in six years.

According to the report, based on a study of more than 2,700 adults 18 or older, 64 percent said they drank coffee within the past day, the highest amount since 2012. This is higher than the growth from 57 percent in 2016 to 62 percent in 2017. The study also found that past-day consumption traditional coffee, defined as “regular coffee” brewed from “gourmet quality” beans, held steady over the previous years, at 16 percent. Similarly, consumption of espresso-based drinks held steady from 2017, at 24 percent.

Try these tips for healthy eating habits

If you've already slipped off your New Year's diet, it's not too late to get back on track. Just follow these tips for healthy weight loss from the Harvard Health Publishing website:

- Make a list. Keep track of what you eat and drink for at least three days. Include what you consume, where, how much, and so forth.
- Set a goal. Be specific—do you want to lose a certain number of pounds, lower your blood pressure, or something else? Identify strategies for reaching your goal in a reasonable amount of time.
- Anticipate obstacles. What might prevent you from hitting your goal? If a busy schedule might keep you from working out, plan to get up a little earlier. If an empty pantry tempts you to order take-out, spend some time looking up healthy recipes, then go to the grocery store for ingredients and make enough for a few nights of leftovers.
