CAN RECYLING

Doris Myers

Did you know your aluminum cans means money for our REC Association??? If you put them in your blue recycling bin; you are giving away this money.

Please remember to bring your rinsed and drained aluminum cans to 3-I. Rinse them and remove tabs, if possible. Turn them in separately. Tabs are given to Ronald McDonald House.

Drop of at 3-I., even through the summer months. Thank you.

August KFC Dinner

REC Association

KFC Saturday August dinner will be Saturday, August 22, 1915. Tickets to be sold but price TBA. Happy Hour at 5:00 P with dinner served about 5:30 P, when chicken arrives. Tickets will be sold at KK on Wednesday mornings. Sign-up for appetizer and pie donations will be posted.

2016 BAZAAR REMINDER:

It's never too early to remind yourself of our Annual Bazaar being held this January , 2016. Time to cleanse your jewelry box, Ladies?? Go through your cupboards?? Consider article for our Chinese auction??

Think ahead when you're doing your cleaning out.

EXERCISE TO STAY FIT

Jeannie Bovee

Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:30 in our very own pool participants meet for exercise. Classes began again in July, weather permitting.

There are Noodles and Water Weights to use for doing a variety of exercises to increase your strength and cardio system. All residents and their guests are welcome to participate.

Get well:

After hearing of Floyd Zahniser ((18-I) hospitalization in South Carolina, our card was sent. We hope he's continuing to improve.

Sympathy:

Sympathy card and memorial donation was sent to Bea Reed's (1M) daughters after her passing away from complications of stroke. Bea and her late husband spent many winters enjoying Pointe West. Bea continued returning after his passing. May they both now rest in peace together.

Ed and Cyndy Rodgers (2-K) received our sympathy after hearing of his older brother, Francis X. in New York. They traveled to attend services earlier this month.

Please don't forget to send word of residents who are ill or grieving for a loved one. All it takes is a call or send an email. Thanks.

We have many friends in need of prayers for various serious medical conditions. Continue

Veterans' Projects

Gil Himes, Ed Palka

Ed Palka (11-N) collects any MANUFACTURERS' COUPONS. These are usually in Sunday's St. Petersburg Times, Largo Leader and various magazines. All coupons are taken to Largo Elks Lodge #2159 for distribution to our troops stationed in Germany. They are honored six months AFTER their expiration date. Any coupons for baby products or something a new mother might need are sent to Ramstein Hospital, Landstuhl. Drop off the sheets, clipped or unclipped. Over the past two years coupons valued at more than two million dollars have been sent. There's a blue plastic bin in car port at 11-N. American and Canadian flags needing proper disposal may also be left. Ed will see proper procedure is followed. Unneeded hearing aids and eye glasses may also be donated. All will find a useful home.

Gil Himes (15-I) collects articles for our veterans at Bay Pines Hospital in St. Petersburg. Lap robes, hard candy, toiletries, gently used books, magazines, playing cards, dominos and other types of games are welcome. New packs of socks and t-shirts are also needed in sizes L, XL, and 2X. Going on vacation? Collect the hotel small bottles of products for use. Drop off items anytime at his coach. Don't forget our veterans during the summer.

Thank you all for your donations.

August Is...

American Artist Appreciation Month. From Maxine Albro (1903-1966) to Karl Zerbe (1903-1972) and everyone else in between, celebrate American art in all its forms and the people who create it.

Get Ready for Kindergarten Month. This is the time of year when young children (and their parents) prepare for that all-important first day of school. Relieve their jitters by talking about what to expect, visiting the school and the teachers, and getting excited about the upcoming school year.

National Immunization Awareness Month. National Immunization Awareness Month (NIAM) highlights the importance of immunization—not just for kids, but for everyone. Activities focus on encouraging all people to protect their health by being immunized against infectious diseases.

National Spinal Muscular Atrophy Awareness Month. Spinal muscular atrophy (SMA) is a genetic disease affecting the part of the nervous system that controls voluntary muscle movement. An SMA diagnosis doesn't mean an end to your hopes and dreams. Changes and challenges lay ahead, but also opportunity, fulfillment, and hope for a future free of spinal muscular atrophy.

Celebrate Weekly

Clown Week, Aug. 1-7. Everyone loves a clown. Celebrations during this week take on a variety of forms, such as putting on shows in malls, child care centers, hospitals and nursing homes or educational events about clowns and fundraisers for numerous charitable causes.

International Assistance Dog Week, Aug. 2-8. Created to recognize all the devoted, hardworking assistance dogs helping individuals mitigate their disability related limitations.

Elvis Week, Aug. 8-16. Held every year in Graceland, Tennessee, Elvis Week celebrates the life and legacy of Elvis Presley, “the King of Rock and Roll,” with special events, live music, concerts, movies, and more.

National Safe At Home Week, Aug. 23-29. The National Safety Council estimates that 245 people die of unintentional injuries in and near their home every day. The purpose of National Safe At Home Week is to raise awareness of safety practices to prevent injury and death in and around your home.

Little-known facts about books and language

The world of books, reading, and words is full of surprises. Take a look at some of these stories about writers and other creative people (from the BuzzFeed website):

- Green Eggs & Ham. This Dr. Seuss classic was written on a bet. Publisher Bennett Cerf wagered $50 that Ted Geisel couldn't write a children's book using fewer than 50 different words. Geisel won.
- Thomas Jefferson. The third U.S. president (and writer of the Declaration of Independence) invented more than 100 "American" words to distinguish U.S. writing from British usage—including the word "anglophobia."
- Gone with the Wind. Margaret Mitchell began work on her first (and only) novel after recovering from an auto accident. During her convalescence, she read so many books from the local library that her husband got tired of going back and forth—so she suggested she try writing a book of her own.
- Amazon. The first book sold on the now dominant website was Fluid Concepts and Creative Analogies, by Douglas Hofstadter. Its subject: whether machines could be taught to think like people.

Stay optimistic to get ahead

Successful people are optimistic. They're realistic, and they see the challenges, but they don't lose their confidence. Here are some of the characteristics of "intelligent optimists" that anyone can master:

- Don't deny problems. Don't try to pretend difficulties don't exist. Learn to live with obstacles while looking for ways to overcome them.
- Accept reality. Recognize that you can't solve every problem. Don't get too wrapped up in trying to fix things you can't influence that you ignore what's possible.
- Don't bury negative thoughts. Everyone has them—"This will never work," or "Why am I wasting my time?" Instead of trying to repress them, ask what they're telling you, and work on getting past the problems that create negative thinking.
- Look for different solutions. Many solutions start as attempts to solve a different problem. Searching the background can provide clues to resolving the current difficulty.

All for the best

A king was friends with a wise doctor. They spent many hours hunting together, talking about the world as they walked through the kingdom. The king was intrigued by the doctor's insistence that events always worked out for the best. He was never convinced, but they remained close friends.

Then one day they went out hunting. The doctor's rifle went off by accident, and the bullet hit the king in the hand. The doctor had to amputate two fingers, and the king was so angry that he had his friend thrown into a dungeon.

Several months later, the king went on a safari in the deep jungle. Bored, he went off by himself and was promptly captured by a band of savages who carried them back to their village.

The king realized that these people planned to eat them, and all his promises of riches and rewards if they freed him were ignored. But when they came to prepare him for their feast, they noticed that his hand lacked two fingers.

Their traditions demanded that they not harm anyone with an amputated limb. They freed the king, and he returned to camp unharmed.

When he got back to his castle, the king immediately freed the doctor. He told his friend the story, and added, "If not for you cutting off my fingers, I might have been killed."

The doctor was happy that the king. "You see, that proves my point about things happening for the best."

"But what about you?" the king asked. "You spent all those months in a dungeon. How did that work out for the best?"

The doctor smiled. "If I hadn't been in the dungeon, I might have been out hunting with you."

Go fly a kite

The mayor of a small town was walking through the park one day when she spotted a little boy flying an enormous and beautiful kite high in the sky. Intrigued, she walked up and asked who was responsible for the keeping the kite in the air.

"I am," the boy said. "I made this kite all by myself, and I got it up into the air on my own."

Then they both heard a whisper in the air. "I am the wind," the voice said. "I keep the kite in the air by holding it aloft with my breath."

A third voice, high-pitched and vibrant, joined in. "I am the kite's tail," said this voice. "I keep the kite stable as it flies through the air. Without me it would crash to the Earth!"

Moral: Cooperation and teamwork are essential to every endeavor.

The right diet may guard against dementia

Could the right diet lower your risk of developing Alzheimer's disease? Maybe, according to an article on the MedicineNet website—although the results aren't conclusive yet. A study of adults who closely followed a combination of two well-known diet plans, the Mediterranean diet and the DASH diet, found that subjects had a 53 percent lower risk of being diagnosed with Alzheimer's. Other subjects who stuck to the diet only moderately well saw their risk drop approximately 35 percent.

The combination diet plan, known as the MIND diet, emphasizes healthy grains, vegetables, beans, poultry, and fish, along with a limited amount of red meat, butter, and sweets. Researchers have noted that other factors, like smoking history, regular exercise, and challenging activities like Sudoku or crossword puzzles, have also contributed to diet followers' results.

On the other hand, both the Mediterranean and DASH diets are believed to be effective at preventing heart disease, making them a healthy choice for other reasons.

Take proper precautions against electric shock

A mild electrical shock can hurt; a major jolt can cause serious injury. Whenever you're working with live power, be careful to avoid problems by following the proper procedures:

- Turn off live circuits. Always unplug equipment or turn off circuit breakers when dealing with electrical power. Don't skip this step even when dealing with low-voltage appliances.
- Keep power off. When you turn off a circuit breaker, post a note warning co-workers not to turn it back on. Better yet, lock the circuit box so no one can accidentally send power back to a "dead" line.
- Use protective equipment. Gloves, facemasks, helmets, and other gear are important for your safety. Check the documentation to find out what you need, and ask your supervisor what he or she requires. Report and replace any defective equipment before getting to work.
- Check electrical cords. Examine cords for sign of wear and damage. If you see any exposed wire, or evidence that someone has tried to repair the cord with duct tape or electrical tape, replace it immediately. The cost is minimal, especially compared against the need for safety.
