The Pool Improvement Club Wishes Everyone A Happy and Healthy 2017

We hope you will enjoy the many improvements done to make the pool area more appealing. It should be noted that we welcome any suggestions for improvements in and around the pool areas.

We would like to remind everyone using the lounges and chairs to please use a large towel while relaxing in the pool area, in order to protect the straps on these items from body oils and sunscreen products which help to deteriorate the straps. We would also like to remind all pool users that tanning lotions and sunscreens are not to be taken into the pool areas. Sunscreens work best when applied about 1/2 hour before stepping into the sun.

Please inform all visitors that will be using our beautiful "Gem" of Ranch Mobile Park about this information and to understand the posted rules before using our wonderful facility. If you see anyone disrespecting the property or the rules, you have the right to respectfully correct it on site. We all share as members of the Pool club a responsibility to keep our "Gem" shining. It takes our whole community to maintain the pool.

Our Pork Roast Dinner that was held in November and helps to raise monies to maintain our "Gem" and keep the cost of our home owners fees down. It was a great success. Thanks to all the volunteers that gave freely of their time to prepare the kitchen, cook the pork and all sides, prepare the tables and serve the food, donate the prizes, sell the raffle tickets, give the dinner grace, help to direct the flow through the buffet lines and distribute the prizes to the winners and most importantly the cleanup crew doing the duty task that most people run from. God bless you all!

Right now those monies are being used to repair the straps on 30 of our chairs that were breaking down from the mighty sun and good use.

The Pool Committee is always in need of volunteers for all sorts of projects. The hired maintenance men only handle the chemical that keeps the pool sparkling and cleaning the restrooms on site. The Pool Club Members wash the deck, clean the chairs and lounges, paint what ever needs refreshed, and put up and take down the wind barriers surrounding the pool. All odds and ends that need fixing as well. Please think about giving a helping hand when and where you can. Luckily we have lots of talents in all our fellow Rangers. Thank you in advance.

Our up coming event will be the Spaghetti Dinner on January 21st. Tickets will be available starting January 4th at the Koffee Klatch from either Lou Lowery or Bernie Lake. The dinner is always held at the Club House, all you need to bring is your ticket and place setting.

Please do not forget our famous Ranch Mobile Splash Party to be held in early April. We appreciate all the residents who support our dinners.

Remember to review your weekly Ranch Mobile Bulletin to see when the next Pool Improvement Club meeting is being held in the Club House. The meetings are usually on the first Thursday of each month during the Winter months. Come to hear the news, come to see what is happening with the maintenance of our 'Gem' in Paradise and come to meet the current board. We serve coffee and doughnuts too.

On behalf of our President Lou Lowery, Vice President Chris Gregory, Treasurer Al Malenka, Secretary Joanne Lavigne and two At Large Members Chuck Davis and Sue Berton we would like to wish everyone a very HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Hi Shuffle Board Members:

We have gotten into all of our activities and have had a good time so far. We had our pancake breakfast which wasn't bad for the first one. Also, we had our Thanksgiving Dinner which was a great success. Thanks to all the people who volunteered their help. With over 200 people, we surely needed everyone. We had our Fun Day which was not as successful. We had a small group.

I will say hello to all the new people that just bought into our park. You are Ranch Mobile Park owners. There are a lot of clubs that need new members and volunteers, so let's try to keep our park active. That is how we have a good park because of everyone's help. Thank you for listening and get involved.

Sincerely,
Doris Coulombe
Secretary

Martin Luther King Jr. Day

Martin Luther King was an important civil rights activist. He was the chief spokesman for nonviolent activism and a leader in the movement to end racial segregation in the United States. His most famous address was the "I Have A Dream" speech. He was an advocate of non-violent protest and became the youngest man to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. He was assassinated in 1968.

Martin Luther King Jr. Day is an American federal holiday marking the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr. It is observed on the third Monday of January each year, which is around King's birthday, January 15. The holiday is similar to holidays set under the Uniform Monday Holiday Act.

The campaign for a federal holiday in King's honor began soon after his assassination in 1968. President Ronald Reagan signed the holiday into law in 1983, and it was first observed three years later. At first, some states resisted observing the holiday as such, giving it alternative names or combining it with other holidays. It was officially observed in all 50 states for the first time in 2000.

I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character.

Nothing in all the world is more dangerous than sincere ignorance and conscientious stupidity.

The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.

The time is always right to do what is right.

Jokes

Trio of Gifts

In January, my wife, a physician, met with an elderly patient. "So was Santa good to you?" she asked.

"Real good," he said. "I got ans SUV."

"Nice."

"Yeah ... Socks, Underwear, and Viagra."

Long Time, No See

My 45-year-old sister was attending the wedding of a childhood friend when she ran into people she hadn't seen in years. How long exactly? One of them shouted, "Kathy, you got your braces off!"

Age Based Discounts

Our favorite museum in town displays quilts from around the country. When I visited recently, I asked the woman at the front desk about a senior discount. It wasn't to be.

"Sir," she said, "this is a quilt museum. We give discounts to teenagers."

Generation Gap

Her class assignment was to interview an "old person" about his life, so my niece asked me, "What was the biggest historical event that happened during your childhood?"

"I'd have to say the moonwalk," I replied.

She looked disappointed. "That dance was important to you?"

Keeping Up Appearances

An elderly shopper at our supermarket used a check to buy such items as cotton balls, cotton swabs, powder, and cold cream. On the memo line of the check, she had written, "Repairs."

Mound Brownies

- 1 brownie mix
- 5 cups shredded coconut
- 1 can of sweetened condensed milk
- 1 container of chocolate frosting

Mix the brownie mix and bake it in a 9x13 pan according to package directions. In a bowl, mix together the coconut and milk together.

Once you take the brownies out of the oven, spread the coconut mixture on the top.

Microwave the chocolate frosting to make it pourable and pour it over the brownies.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word - the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

The Old Coot Stifles A Scream, Not!

By: Merlin Lessler

A kid near me on the beach was making a racket the other day. Yelps and screeches flooded the waterfront. Not a two year old. A ten year old! Some kids are like that. I call them screamers. You often run into them at the beach. Every splash yields a high-pitched scream. It's worse when the tide's coming in and a new wave rolls up every few seconds. Most kids play and laugh with each wave. Not a screamer. Every wave sends a screech across the shore. This kid's mother and father were oblivious. Never a, "Stop that screaming!" or "If you scream one more time you're going to sit on the towel for ten minutes!" Nothing! No consequences. Thus, a screamer was born and nurtured.

I happened to be fishing next to this one in the surf. He was screeching, so I said, "It sounds like you're having a good time." And, then shut my mouth, I wanted to say, "Do you have to scream so loud; it bothers people. You screech is like nails dragging across a blackboard." Had I said that, he would have looked at me like I was crazy and yelled, "What's a blackboard mister?" That's because I'm in a foreign country - Modern America. It's six decades removed from the land I grew up in. Each decade moves me 1,000 miles from shore. Right about now I estimate I'm someplace in the middle of the Pacific Ocean on a remote island. Populated with old coots like myself.

I went back to my fishing, shoved a pair of noise canceling ear buds into place and listened to an electronic version of ocean waves. When you're in a foreign land, you have to adapt.

The screamer will never know what it's like to stand at a blackboard in front of the class, writing, "I will not scream in class," 50 times. He'll never experience a spank to the bottom to teach him not to bolt into traffic. He'll never be taught to unloosen a nut by turning it clockwise. There are no timepieces with hands that circle a clock face in his land.

The land where I grew up was a land of consequences. I'm not mad; I'm jealous. I spent too many hours staying in school long after the dismissal bell rang. And, too many days in the cloakroom while my classmates were enjoying recess on the playground. I wasn't alone; my friends were absent from playtime as well. Woody was sitting at attention at his desk, Buzzy was in the corner facing the wall and Cady was doing solitary in the hall. All serving a sentence for violating one rule or another. There were multiple mechanisms for behavior modification. Solitary confinement was quite effective, as was missing out on recess. They both worked miracle.

What's my point? I'm not sure. I just get irked when a screamer is allowed to run free while I had to do the time. But heck, that's what it's like to be a visitor in a foreign land.

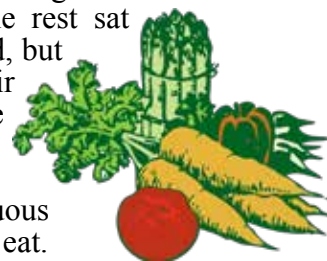

Brain drain: Control your appetite after a long day at the office

Ever notice that you can feel starving after a long day at work even though you've spent it mainly at your desk? Scientists, as reported by The New York Times, say it happens because your brain, feeling tired, starts to want more fuel to keep going—even though you haven't exactly been digging ditches for eight or nine hours. The problem is that you're consuming calories your body doesn't actually need because your brain is telling you to.

One way around this dilemma is exercise. In an experiment at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, 38 college students met to discuss what their favorite pizza was. After the discussion, they were allowed to eat as much pizza as they wanted. On another day, they were brought back and given a series of tests from college entrance and graduate-level exams. Afterward, half the students worked out on treadmills while the rest sat quietly. The entire group was again served all the pizza they wanted, but the treadmill group ate less—about 25 fewer calories than at their previous session. On the other hand, the rest of the group actually ate 100 calories more.

The study suggests that a light workout after a mentally strenuous day may curb one's appetite—good to know before you sit down to eat.

Eat lots of these foods to prevent prostate cancer

Prostate cancer is one of the most common forms of cancer in men—more than 180,000 cases are diagnosed each year. Diet can be a factor, doctors say, especially one of foods high in saturated fats found in meat and dairy products. Men may be able to reduce their risk of developing prostate cancer by eating more of these healthy foods:

- Broccoli. Benefits: Low in carbohydrates and rich in antioxidants and phytochemicals that may prevent cell changes contributing to cancer.
- Salmon. Benefits: Lots of omega-3 fatty acids that can inhibit prostate cancer.
- Brazil nuts. Benefits: Selenium; six to eight nuts contain 700 percent of a daily serving.
- Tomatoes. Benefits: Lycopene. Men who eat 10 portions of tomatoes a week may reduce their risk of prostate cancer by 18 percent.
- Walnuts. Benefits: Walnuts and walnut oil have been shown to reduce levels of the hormone IGF-1, which has been linked to prostate cancer.
- Coffee. Benefits: Antioxidants, as well as stimulating the body to metabolize sugars more efficiently. Green tea shares similar qualities.
