Dance Club Bulletin

By Beryl Olson

The dance season ended for this part of the year. It ended with the best ever Hawaiian Luau. The prime rib was fantastic. Blinky and Fritz were awesome. music I haven't heard in a very long time. They sang one song after another with no break in between. These two gentlemen are true musicians. They love what they are doing. Thank you, Mona Kirtland for choosing them.

Ticket sales were down this year. People said that it's the same old stuff; well they were wrong and they missed out.

There were 4 winners of the $25 Raffle: Roger Katterhelrich, Joanne Cook, Linda Stone and Beryl Olson.

There were 5 winners of the $25 Share the Wealth Raffle: Lisa Stoner, Mike Morra, Silvia Ohlis, Sam McGunnigle and Sam and Al Soullere. (They couldn't decide which one had the right ticket.)

I bid you fond farewell since my term has ended. Your new dance reporter will be Norma Alexander for the next two years. I enjoyed talking to you.

See you at the dances.

Pool Improvement Club - Splash Party

It certainly was a gorgeous spring day for the Splash Party this year! We had quite the crowd. Over 260 tickets sold for our Ranchers and their family and guests. Everything went smoothly and no one had to stand in the hot sun or wait too long to get served. Thank you all for coming!

My thanks to all our helpers for doing a fabulous job of tending to all the needs we had in pulling together this special event. I especially like to thank Lou Lowery and Chuck Davis our very special event Coordinators! They work as a well oiled machine!

Our ticket sellers beside my self were Bernie Lake, Misty Marston and Nancy McMichael. Thank you so much.

Our cooks were Chuck Davis, Steve Szumita, John Gregoire, Lou Chantigny, and Gary Burk. Thank you all fellows, you make a great team!

Serving the meal was Joanne Lavigne heading her crew with Carol Szumita, Pat Richards, Richard Haggith, Jessica Keyes, Sam Souliere, and Rose Paquette. Thank you for being the most pleasant servers this side of Tampa Bay!

Our ever so necessary kitchen clean up helpers were Lois and Dennis Waite, Mike Higbie and Janet Maxwell, Marcia Peterson and Jessica Keyes all doing a fantastic job of scrubbing from top to bottom! They had the kitchen, Clubhouse and Pavilion freshen up. Marcia and Misty and Jessica helped me to wash down all the tables and chairs in the pavilion early in the morning! Vickie and Ivan Thurlow did a great job of assisting at the condiment table. Not to forget Misty also worked the best thing, dessert at the Koffee Klatch window, "The Klondike's"!

Howard Moy was on hand to document the fun and Roger Noel provided the music in the Pavilion.

As you can see it takes a lot of our villagers to make a special activity happen. Thank you ALLL from the bottom of my heart! It couldn't happen without all of you! The end of our snowbird season celebration is sponsored in most part by your collection of the aluminum cans. We are currently receiving 38 cents per pound. Roy MacKenzie and I took a large load April 8th, right after the Splash Party, we had 200 pounds and received $76.00 for our cans. We will start to add it up toward our 2020 Splash Party! Again - Thank You!

I have to add a note about Misty, just as we were wrapping up all the loose ends to the clean up, Misty took a hard slip in the CH. It turns out it wasn't anything small, but a real casualty of a broken bone in her wrist and a knee injury. She is in pain and will have to see a surgeon. We are hoping and praying that she get the best attention and will be able to be back in our pool very soon! God bless her. Please keep her in your prayers.

Have a wonderful Summer where ever you go! Looking forward to all our returns! Gear up. I'll be calling you to "HELP!"

Sincerely yours,
Sue Berton,
President, Pool Improvement Club

2019 has been a wonderful year of Euchre at Ranch Mobile! We have seen great gatherings of our Ranchers and Visitors all season. It was fun setting up extra tables again and again. I can't remember ever having so much fun playing Euchre. Of course I always tell my partner, who dealt, "That's Trump!" "Ooohhh Nooo!" As I can't really go "ALONE!" I guess you can't teach an Olde Broad anything new!

Our Wine and Cheese Party was very well attended. You all brought such good things to go with the great varieties of Vino! Thank you all for coming. Sue went home "qUiTe HaPpy"! We are all like fine wine. Getting better with age!

Al and I truly enjoy being there with ALL of YOU!

Y'all have a safe journey home and a very special summer, filled with your loved ones and special friends, filling each day with lots of joys and memories.

God bless you one and all. We'll keep the light on for you
Sue and Al

No-Bake Peanut Butter Bars

Prep: 20 Minutes

Level: Easy

Serves: 20

Ingredients

- 2 cups Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips
- 1/2 cup Creamy Peanut Butter
- 2 sticks Butter, Softened, Plus More for Greasing the Pan
- 1 cup Chunky Peanut Butter
- 2 cups Powdered Sugar
- 1 box (12 ounces) Vanilla Wafers
- 1 bag (12 ounces) Semi-Sweet MINI Chocolate Chips
- 1/2 cup Chopped Peanuts

Preparation:

1. For the topping: Using a double boiler or a microwave, melt the chocolate chips and creamy peanut butter. Allow to cool for a couple of minutes while you make the bars.
2. For the bars: Grease a 9-by-13 inch pan with some butter. Using a stand or electric hand mixer, mix together the butter and chunky peanut butter until smooth. Stir in the powdered sugar a cup at a time.
3. Add the vanilla wafers to a food processor and process until they are in crumbs. Then add the crumbs and mini chocolate chips to the peanut butter mixture and mix until just combined. Spread it evenly into the butter pan and set aside.
4. Pour the topping over the base. Spread it out evenly and sprinkle over the chopped peanuts. Refrigerate for at least 1 hour, then cut into 20 bars.
5. Keep refrigerated, as the bars and chocolate will soften at room temperature.

5 Little Known Facts About Memorial Day

The Exact Origin of the Holiday is Attributed to 25 Different Places

It's unclear exactly where Memorial Day originated as a tradition, but in 1966 President Lyndon B. Johnson went ahead and declared Waterloo, N.Y., the 'birthplace' of Memorial Day.

May 30 Became the Beginning of Memorial Day in 1868

General Logan set aside May 30, 1868 "for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion."

It wasn't until a whole century later that Memorial Day became an official national holiday (1971), meaning that people were able to keep the tradition going on their own for years and years.

Southern States Celebrate Confederate Memorial Day

Several Southern states celebrate Confederate Memorial Day on different days in the spring season to remember those who fought for the Confederate State in the Civil War. Many states even close state offices when observing the tradition.

Due to the controversy over celebrating the confederacy and its flag due to the racism attached to its meaning dating back to the civil war and the fight to free the slaves, many Southern states have been forced to change their traditions accordingly.

In Georgia, for example, Confederate Memorial Day was changed to simply "State Memorial Day."

Law Requires a Moment of Observance Every Memorial Day at 3 P.M.

Congress passed a law back in 2000 requiring that all Americans pause at 3 p.m. on the day to observe the country's fallen soldiers.

But this doesn't appear to be common knowledge, or if it is, by 3 p.m. most people seem to be too deep into a hot dog-induced food coma to officially observe the moment.

A Teacher Helped the Red Poppy Become a Symbol of Remembrance

In 1915, a Georgia teacher and volunteer war worker named Moina Michael began a campaign to make the poppy a symbol of tribute to veterans and for 'keeping the faith with all who died.' The sale of poppies has supported the work of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The symbol not only stands as a symbol for Memorial Day, but also for international events of remembrance as well.

The Old Coot Is An Early Bird

By: Merlin Lessler

Old coots are time challenged. They think 10 o'clock means 10 o'clock. A younger person, anyone between the age of 18 and 50, will say, "I'll pick you up at 10 o'clock." The old coot writes it on the calendar and on a piece of sticky paper on the fridge. He's ready to go at 9:45, doesn't want to be late. He starts peeking out the window at 9:50, just in case the "young" person comes early. At 9:55 he steps out the door, thinking they will be there soon. He starts to get edgy at 9:58. "Where is he?" he says out loud, starting the "talking out loud to nobody" process.

At 10 on the dot he becomes exasperated. He stands there muttering for the next several minutes. Then he begins to wonder, "Did I get the time wrong? Do I have the wrong day?" He amps up his self-doubt for 5 minutes and then dashes inside to check the note on the fridge. Sure enough, he got the time right; he got the day right. He hustles back outside in case Mr. Late showed up while he was in the house and claim that he is the one who is late. But, not a problem, Mr. Late is nowhere to be seen.

Eventually he shows up, close to 10:30. An emotionally exhausted old coot hops into the car and responds to, "Were you waiting long?" with, "No, I just came out a few minutes ago." (Making a mental note to get even somehow.) He doesn't want to let on that he's time challenged. It's a hidden affliction, but it steps to center stage every so often. Like, when he shows up at 7 o'clock, for a 7 o'clock cocktail party. The flabbergasted host answers the door wrapped in a towel and stared at the "early" arriver, then awkwardly sees him in and excuses himself to go back and finish his shower. He sticks his head in the bedroom door and says to his wife, "Guess what? That old coot is here already!"

Meanwhile, the old coot (not me, some other guy) is snooping around downstairs, checking the food spread on the table and the reserve supply in the fridge, thumbing through the books on the shelves, the magazines on the coffee table, the stuff in the front closet and the supplies in the pantry. Later in the evening he'll check out the contents of the medicine cabinet in the bathroom. It's yet another old affliction, the "snoop" syndrome. So, if you are one of those unfortunate people that have an old coot or two in your life, beware! If you're late, you'll pay a price.

Mother's Day Jokes

Grandma on the Plane

For two solid hours, the lady sitting next to a man on an airplane had told him about her grandchildren. She had even produced a plastic-foldout photo album of all nine of the children.

She finally realized that she had dominated the entire conversation on her grandchildren.

"Oh, I've done all the talking, and I'm so sorry. I know you certainly have something to say. Please, tell me ... what do you think of my grandchildren?"

We have new Babies

For weeks a six-year-old lad kept telling his first-grade teacher about the baby brother or sister that was expected at his house.

One day the mother allowed the boy to feel the movements of the unborn child. The six-year-old was obviously impressed, but made no comment. Furthermore, he stopped telling his teacher about the impending event.

The teacher finally sat the boy on her lap and said, "Tommy, whatever has become of that baby brother or sister you were expecting at home?"

Tommy burst into tears and confessed, "I think Mommy ate it!"

Rest Place for Sibling

When Bobby had a new sister, he became envious of the attention she was getting. One day while his mother was nursing the baby, Bobby was getting unyielding about being on mom's lap. Mom wasn't able to deal with both children at that time and told Bobby to go wait for her. He then asked his mom: "Mommy, can you please put Cindy back in your tummy now?"

My Teacher is Thankful

Son: "Mom, teacher was asking me today, if I have any brothers or sisters who will be coming to school."

Mom: That's nice of her to take such an interest in you. So what did she say when you told her that you're the only child, my dear?"

Son: She just said, "Thank goodness!"

17 Offbeat Holidays You Can Celebrate in May

1. May 1: Loyalty Day

A lovely relic of our best years in the U.S. - the McCarthy Era. As communism gained popularity worldwide during the 1920s, the holiday of Labor Day, or May Day, on May 1st became closely tied to it. To combat the threat of the proletariat, it was proposed May 1st could also be a holiday for Americans to reaffirm their commitment to their homeland. Congress made it official in 1958, and former President Eisenhower made it formal by decreeing May 1st, 1959 an official holiday. It has since been honored annually by every subsequent President.

2. May 2: Scurvy Awareness Day

The preferred disease of pirates has its own international holiday, and an entire website to boot! Steer your ships over to Limestrong for citrusy cocktails, curvy-not-scurvy pin-ups, and drop some (citric) acid into your bloodstream!

3. May 3: Hug Your Cat Day

Not to be confused with Hug Somebody Else's Cat Day. (Some celebrate Hug Your Cat Day on June 4th. Feel free to celebrate both.)

4. May 4: Star Wars Day

May the fourth be with you. (And don't forget to pick up some Star Wars goodies to celebrate properly.)

5. May 5: Cinco de Mayo

For many in the US, the 5th of May in Spanish justifies a 5th shot of tequila. Cinco de Mayo actually holds its roots in the Mexican state of Puebla. It commemorates the Mexican army defeating the better-equipped French army occupying their land at the time. As far as the addition of excessive drinking as part of the holiday, all signs point to America as the culprit.

6. May 6: National Nurses Day

National Nurses Day kicks off National Nurses Week which concludes on the O.G. nurse Florence Nightingale's birthday. According to the reliable sources at Hallmark, there are currently 3.1 million registered nurses in the United States. Hallmark also alleges to be the first card company to invent, err publish, National Nurses Day cards (in 1992). They now offer more than 20 different options, for males and females. At least they practice equality with their fake holidays, we'll drink to that!

7. May 9: National Lost Sock Memorial Day

Today we honor the past, and we let go. It's time to admit that one red argyle sock has gone to washing machine heaven. Time to turn the partner it left behind into a rag or a sock puppet, and buy a new pair. It's what it would have wanted.

8. May 10: Clean Up Your Room Day

Also known as every child's least favorite day of the year, right behind East Your Brussels Sprouts Day and Do Your Homework Week. For the adults, this is a seasonal invitation to finally tackle that whole spring-cleaning thing - and torture your kids just a little.

9. May 11: National Twilight Zone Day

"There is a fifth dimension beyond that which is known to man. It is a dimension as vast as space and as timeless as infinity. It is the middle ground between light and shadow, between science and superstition, and on the eleventh of May, plan on confronting the pit of your fears and the summit of your knowledge." Today you must honor your parallel realities and dive deep into the dimension of imagination, known as the Twilight Zone.

10. May 13: Frog Jumping Day

One of Mark Twain's first short stories introduced the image of the "jumping frog" into the collective consciousness of America. How this ties to this specific date is unclear, but do you really need a clear reason to jump around like a frog?

11. May 14: National Dance Like a Chicken Day

Call up your local oom pah band, because today we Vogeltanz until we drop. Gather all the Arrested Development fanatics you know and start a round of your worst chicken impersonations. Or introduce your own interpretation of how the flightless bird might tango. All of the above suffice as celebrations, as long as your moves are fowl.

12. May 17: National Pack Rat Day

There's a fine line between holding on to nostalgia, and being a serious contender for an episode of Hoarders. But just for a day, you are permitted to openly cherish the growing stack of Signals catalogs piling up in your basement sans any judgment of concerned family and friends. Who knows? Maybe your Beanie Babies will become collectibles again, and the joke will be on us.

13. May 22: National Buy a Musical Instrument Day

Treat yourself to that baby grand you've always wanted. Don't know how to play guitar? No problem! On this day in May, buy now, learn later!

14. May 23: Lucky Penny Day

Keep your eyes glued to the ground, because the cards are stacked in your favor that today is your lucky one! Just make sure you see the face of Abraham Lincoln staring back at you, before you pick the penny up.

15. May 26: Sally Ride Day

As the first American woman in space, Dr. Sally Ride rightfully earned a full day dedicated to her honor. Remember when space was a thing?

16. May 29: End of Middle Ages Day

Barkeep, we'll have a pint of your finest grog! Today in 1453, the official Middle Ages ended - allegedly. The conclusion of one era ushered in the renaissance, and other subsequent influential periods in European history. You gave us Arthurian lore, you gave us a plague of Bubonic proportions, and you gave us Game of Thrones. For that - mostly the last part - we thank you.

17. May 30: My Bucket's Got a Hole in It Day

Somewhat inspired by a folk song of the same name, My Bucket's Got a Hole in it Day, or MBGHD, does not dictate any formal observational traditions. We suggest putting a positive spin on a crisis, and taking the day to reflect on how things could be worse. Unless, of course, you're a bucket.

12 Disney World Trivia Facts and Unusual Weird Secrets

One of the best parts of a Disney World vacation is discovering all the weird and unusual trivia found there ...

1. No gum is sold in Disney parks. If you're a chewer, better bring your own along.
2. It's NOT a Small World After all of Disney World encompasses over 50 square miles.
3. Hidden Mickey's can be found everywhere. A hidden Mickey is the 3 circle silhouette of the head and ears of Mickey Mouse disguised and subtly hidden in decor, rock formations, table settings and designs of all sorts. Thousands of hidden Mickey's have been recorded and more included with each park update.
4. Disney World has only closed three times since it first opened in 1971. Hurricane Floyd closed the park in 1999. The terrorist attacks of 911 in 2001 closed the park as well as a

NEW MANUFACTURER
 Come in and see the New "Star Cars"! After 2 years of researching into new cart manufacturers. They have a 14 year proven track record in manufacturing and customer service. Come in and see more!

BOB NEEDS OUR HELP!

Our delivery driver, Bob Davis (whom many of you know and have liked over the years), had a SERIOUS FALL while trimming a tree for a needy person on Sunday, August 5th.

He broke bones in his neck plus other injuries. He has NO insurance and he is the sole provider for his family. ANY donation you may be able to help with will be GREATLY APPRECIATED!!!

Credit card donations gratefully accepted over the phone. For more info call 727-548-8460.

THANK YOU SO MUCH for anything you may be able to do!

2002 power failure. When the park closed on 9/11, it took less than 30 minutes to evacuate and close the parks.

5. Guests in Walt Disney World are never more than 30 steps away from a trash can.
6. Visit the hat shop on Main Street in the Magic Kingdom and you'll see an old pay phone on the wall. Pick up the receiver and you can eavesdrop on an interesting conversation.
7. There are no bathrooms located in the Magic Kingdom's Liberty Square, in keeping with the time period of that area.
8. In the Magic Kingdom Train Station, look closely for articles left by other "guests," including Mary Poppins and other characters from Disney films.
9. An imagineer named George was killed during the building of Pirates of the Caribbean. It is said his ghost haunts the ride to this day. Workers say "goodnight George" before they shut down the ride each night as a superstition to prevent attraction break downs the next day.
10. Epcot's American Pavilion is home to an American flag taken from the rubble of 9/11/2001.
11. Underneath Disney World are miles of underground tunnels called utilidors that house the massive costume departments, cast member break rooms, garbage chutes and more.
12. The 48 square miles of Florida swampland now home to Walt Disney World was originally purchased by Walt for $5 million dollars.

Monthly Mania: It Pays (Up to $100) To Patronize the Advertisers in Your Newsletter

THOUSANDS manufactured home residents have won over $147,600 since our contest began. It's simple to play ... when you patronize a current advertiser, ask for a Monthly Mania ticket (or a reasonable facsimile) and fill it out completely. Put the ticket in our Monthly Mania drop box in your community or mail your paid receipt to us at Monthly Media • 220 Bahama St. • Venice, FL 34285. That's all you do. At the end of the month the Publishers will pick up the tickets and hold a drawing. If your ticket is drawn, we mail you a check.
