HOA President's UPDATES

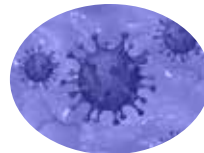

Pat Luck singer, HOA President, 518-573-0968

Greetings Residents!

We write updates for our Monthly Media early in the previous month. I am hopeful that the Covid-19 pandemic is slowing down and people are starting to see normal on the horizon.

If you are not aware of the Serendipity HOA Facebook page I encourage you to join. The HOA posts information about the park and anything ELS shares with us. I know that not everyone has computers, tablets or smart phones or access to the electronic world so this article helps. We deliver any correspondence that is time sensitive. With both clubhouses closed we will post on the shuffleboard outdoor bulletin boards by the west clubhouse/pool. I'm not sure what that might be but we want to make info available to all.

- Paving should be progressing and it will be nice to have that behind us.
- At this time we don't know when our amenities will be open again. It will happen when ELS is notified that it is safe to return to normal.
- When the mailboxes are going to be installed you will be notified and

As we journey together through the uncharted territory of COVID-19, remember these words of strength:

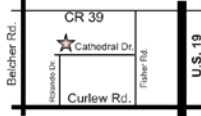

So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. Isaiah 41:10

For God has not given us a spirit of fear, but one of power, love, and sound judgment. 2 Timothy 1:7

Our prayers are with those affected by COVID-19, as well as all health care workers, first responders, and those on the frontlines. Please use "sound judgment" and follow the guidelines set for us so that you may stay safe and stay healthy.

instructed when and how to do it.

- Reminder to keep your pets on a leash and off of your neighbors lots. Please pick up after your pets.
- We met with the landscapers/lawn service. I passed along the concerns residents have and will continue to do so. If you have a concern let me know and take a picture. I will compile a list and continue to let ELS and the service know that residents are not happy.
- East Clubhouse deck/porch has been painted and looks great.
- Management office is open again. The renovations are finally complete in that area.
- There is a soda /water machine by the west clubhouse pool and one will go by the East clubhouse pool soon. The Vending company will do a trial to see if they are used enough to warrant leaving them there.
- Remember you need approval for any renovations, painting and changes to your exterior property.
- Be sure to get a visitor pass if you need to use clubhouse parking for guests or yourself during renovations. No permit required when your street is involved in the paving project.
- IMPORTANT please complete your arrival/departure form. This insures you can be contacted if needed. This is a good time to give an email address to the office if you have one. You need to clear your carport and outdoor areas of all items. Keep items in your shed, home or screen room. This is required during severe storms. It's amazing how easily items can be airborne.

As the snowbirds continue to leave we wish them safe returns home. Thanks to all who contributed materials and sewing skills to make masks for residents during the Covid-19 pandemic. Have a great Spring and stay well! Pat

From: Pat Lucksinger, HOA President:

A reminder to all residents who patronize the advertisers in the Monthly Media. Ask the advertiser for a Monthly Mania ticket when you have work completed. There was a drop box in the West Clubhouse but I'm thinking it disappeared when changes happened last year. At this time you can mail your completed ticket or a copy of a paid receipt from an advertiser to:

Good luck! Maybe you'll win a cash prize. Remember the advertisers in our Serendipity Media Book make this publication possible with the advertising they pay for. Please patronize the advertisers that make this newsletter available to our community.

Shuffleboard/Fun League

Chuck Bellinger (727-729-5039), George Wagner (716-604-6370)

Hope all is well with everyone and we get through this Covid-19 disaster we are experiencing. This will probably be the last entry for shuffle until the fall. All came to a halt so we had to cancel our banquet and Hoss collar plans. I will get the plaque engraved with the winning fun league team names in the fall also. So to all, have a nice summer, good health.

As I write this article the Shuffle Board fun league is done for this season. But as Gayle mentioned at our last meeting you are encouraged to continue to shuffle, just get a group to meet on any day. You can put a notice on the Shuffle white board if you want to get a group together.

Listed below are the new officers for the 2021 season. Many thanks to those that volunteered.

Officers and Captains for 2021-

Chuck Bellinger, President
Jan Barrett, Vice President
Terry Morlock, Secretary
Jim Lewandowski, Treasurer

Captains-

Annette Davis
Roger Caseley
Dawn Roberts
Betty Sager

Keep in mind the Fun League will start back up the first week in January 2021.

Try it you will like it. Chuck Bellinger

let's talk about

Hemorrhagic Stroke

About 13 percent of strokes happen when a blood vessel ruptures in or near the brain. This is called a hemorrhagic stroke as shown at right.

When a hemorrhagic stroke happens, blood collects in the brain tissue. This is toxic for the brain tissue causing the cells in that area to weaken and die.

A type of hemorrhagic stroke, known as a subarachnoid hemorrhage, can occur when an aneurysm (a blood-filled pouch that balloons out from an artery) on or near the surface of the brain ruptures, flooding the space between the skull and the brain with blood.

Are all hemorrhagic strokes the same?

There are two kinds of hemorrhagic stroke. In both, a blood vessel ruptures, disrupting blood flow to part of the brain.

Intracerebral hemorrhages (most common type of hemorrhagic stroke):

- Occur when a blood vessel bleeds or ruptures into the tissue deep within the brain.
- Are most often caused by chronically high blood pressure or aging blood vessels.
- Are sometimes caused by an arteriovenous malformation (AVM). An AVM is a cluster of abnormally formed blood vessels. Any one of these vessels can rupture, also causing bleeding into the brain.

Subarachnoid hemorrhages:

- Occur when an aneurysm (a blood-filled pouch that balloons out from an artery) on or near the surface of the brain ruptures and bleeds into the space between the brain and the skull.

- Are often caused by high blood pressure.

In addition to high blood pressure, factors that increase the risk of hemorrhagic strokes include:

- cigarette smoking
- use of oral contraceptives (particularly those with high estrogen content)
- excessive alcohol intake
- use of illegal drugs

How are hemorrhagic strokes diagnosed?

When someone has shown symptoms of a stroke or a TIA (transient ischemic attack), a doctor will gather information and make a diagnosis. He or she will review the events that have occurred and will:

- get a medical history
- do a physical and neurological examination
- have certain laboratory (blood) tests done
- get a CT or MRI scan of the brain
- study the results of other diagnostic tests that might be needed

Diagnostic tests examine how the brain looks, works and gets its blood supply. They can outline the injured brain area. Diagnostic tests fall into three categories.

- Imaging tests give a picture of the brain similar to X-rays.
- Electrical tests record the electrical impulses of the brain (also called an EEG).
- Blood flow tests show any problem that may cause changes in blood flow to the brain.

How are hemorrhagic strokes treated?

Because hemorrhages may be life-threatening, hospital care is required. Medication is used to control high blood pressure. Other medicine may be given to reduce the brain swelling that follows a stroke.

Surgery may be needed depending on the cause and type of the hemorrhage. Surgery is often recommended to either place a metal clip at the base of an aneurysm or to remove the abnormal vessels that make up an AVM.

Some procedures are less invasive and use of a catheter that goes in through a major artery in the leg or arm. The catheter is guided to the aneurysm or AVM where it places a device, such as a coil, to prevent rupture.

The Plague Doctor Safety Suit

researched by Dennis Buehrle, park resident

Turn on the news and just about everything they discuss is about the Coronavirus-19 virus. Number of respirators needed, individuals tested, infected and sadly the number that have succumbed to the virus seems to be the subject 24/1. Try to turn to the BBC news broadcasting channel and you will see the same subject discussed from a world perspective.

While not the worst pandemic mankind has experienced it is among the worst WE have experienced. You see health care workers in surgical garb, even Hazmat suites testing people for the virus. Have you ever wondered how the use of a Hazmat suite started?

The first Hazmat suite can be said to have been the "Plague suit" or the bird costume. Contrary to some of the information surrounding the bird costume, there is some logic behind the unusual design. The plague doctor costume was designed by the French physician

Charles de Lorne in 1619. (FYI, the middle ages is considered to be between approx. 453 C.E. to roughly the 13th to 15 th century.) That is not to say that earlier doctors did not use costumes but Charles de Lorne standardized the bird-beaked design. While a strange design, he was not considered a quack. He was a highly respected physician who served as the chief physician to King Henri IV, King Louis XIII, and King Louis XIV. He lived to the age of about 94 years old, quite remarkable for the time.

Let us look at this strange design. The costume was mostly used in France and Italy, and some parts of Austria and Germany. The costume was designed in accordance with the most widely supported theory of disease among medical experts at the time. The theory was that disease was caused by "miasmatic," infectious odors or vapors in the air. These vapors were produced by sickness and decaying organic matter. It was thought that improved sanitation and hygiene could prevent or reduce its transmission. The costume protected the doctor from the infectious odors or vapors emitted by the patient.

The plague doctor costume has basically the same idea behind it as the modern hazmat suit, to protect the person from hazardous substances. The costume covered the entire body in leather, leaving no skin exposed. The beak, often made of metal, was filled with herbs and spices, or a sponge filled with vinegar to filter or purify the air. The boots, leggings, overcoat, gloves, and hood, all made of leather, were coated in wax to inhibit undesired substances from penetrating. Goggles protected the person's eyes.

Some versions of the costume included a wide-brimmed hat over the hood and mask. It was meant to indicate that the person was a doctor. He also carried a wooden rod or staff. They used them so they could examine the patient without having to touch them or get near them. It is said they could even use them to check a patient's pulse. They also used them to keep people seeking help at a respectable distance from them, a form of social distancing.

While the costume did not give doctors the protection of hazmat suits used today; it did protect them to some extent. The plague doctor's costume should not be thought of as a stupid medieval costume to scare diseases away but an early, flawed, version of the modern hazmat suit. Both were designed to keep the person from being exposed to harmful substances within their working environment. Both designed using the current technology and medical knowledge of their time.
