PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Submitted by Bob Doty

At the HOA meeting in December elections took place. The results are: Bob Doty, President; Serena Libby, Vice President; Vince Malorni, Treasurer; Jenny Combs, Vice Treasurer and Mary Ann Rodger for Secretary. Welcome to Serena Libby, our new Vice President and Jenny Combs our new Vice Treasurer! We have a great team to assist our Home owners to the best of our ability.

ELS is working on the outside water situation. Apparently, a new tank is required and is costly. We could be waiting for a while before this gets repaired.

Hoping 2017 is a great year for everyone. Please continue to check the Bulletin Board for upcoming Events.

As always, God Bless and Stay safe.
 Bob Doty

New Residents:

Hi everyone!!! If you have a new neighbor, please let Jenny Combs, lot 25, know so we can welcome them to their new neighborhood.

Welcome to our new residents and we look forward to you becoming and joining in our activities. Take a walk to the Clubhouse, there is a lot of info on upcoming events!

If anyone has a neighbor that is ill, needs sympathy or may need a card for some reason, please contact Helen DellaPenna @ 727.518.1865.

FURRY FRIENDS CORNER

Submitted by Norma Rowe

Common Pet Bathing Mistakes

Do your pets run when you say the “B” word? You may be making some mistakes when bathing them, and that's causing them to be anxious about bath time. Here are some common mistakes we make when bathing our pets.

Wrong Water Temperature - Use lukewarm water. If it's what you would use for a bath or shower, then it is too hot for your pet. Spray the water on your forearm to check the temperature.

Strong Spray - The easiest way to bathe your cat or dog is with a handheld shower head or faucet nozzle in a tub or sink. It's best not to fill up the tub or sink with water. Instead of spraying the water jet straight on to his fur, try to keep your pet calm by letting the water hit the back of your hand first. Once he is at ease, you can move your hand away.

Using the wrong shampoo - Don't automatically grab your own shampoo, even if it's an all natural solution or a mild baby shampoo. A pet's skin has a different pH balance than humans. Use a product that is specifically formulated for dogs or cats. If your pet's skin is dry, try using an oatmeal shampoo.

Soap Application - You may want to apply soap to your pet's fur and then let it “soak in” for a couple minutes, but you won't remove all the dirt and oil that way. You need to agitate the shampoo to trap the grime and wash it away. Massage the soap into your dog or cat's fur. Clean his face with a cotton ball or washcloth and be careful to avoid his eyes. Wash the outside of his ears with a tiny bit of shampoo on your fingers, a washcloth or a cotton ball. Tilt your pet's head down before rinsing (for instance, if you're washing his left ear, angle the left side of his head down) to keep water from going into the ear canal. Clean the inner ear with a cotton ball and an ear cleaning solution. You can find ear cleaning solution at Petsmart, Walmart, etc.

Drying - Make sure you have towels ready to go before the bath. When bathing a dog, have an extra towel handy to put over him in case he decides to shake. You'll want to leave using a blow dryer to the professional groomer. Most animals are scared of the noise, which may put a damper on the end of an otherwise positive bath time experience. Once your pet is fairly dry using a towel, paper towels are great to get him even dryer, especially his feet.

Bathing Too Often - Too many baths can actually strip away the natural oils in your pet's coat and cause itchy, irritated skin. It's best not to bathe them more than once a month.

Happy January everyone!

We are currently looking for someone to head up the Hospitality group to welcome our new neighbors into the community. If you would be interested, please contact me.

As always, I could use some more recipes and jokes, if I don't use yours one month, I save them for future issues of the Newsletter. You may have noticed we started 2 new columns, our "Furry Friend's Corner" expert and "Crafting Corner". If you have any articles you would like to share please let me know.

RECIPES

Submitted by various residents

BANG – BANG SHRIMP

Just like the Bang Bang shrimp at Bonefish

Ingredients:

- 1 1/2 lbs of medium shrimp, peeled and deveined
- 1 TBSP coconut oil
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 3 tsp paprika
- freshly ground black pepper to taste

Sauce

- 1/2 cup mayo
- 1/2 cup thai sweet chili sauce
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 TBSP of lime juice
- 1/8 tsp of crushed red pepper flakes

Directions:

Mix the sauce ingredients together in a bowl and set aside. Place the uncooked shrimp in a medium sized bowl and add the paprika, 3 cloves of garlic, pepper.

Heat the coconut oil on medium high heat and add the coated uncooked shrimp. Stir constantly while cooking until pink for approx. 7- 10 minutes.

Plate shrimp and use sauce for dipping. I like to heat the sauce a bit rather than serving it cold.

Brain drain: Control your appetite after a long day at the office

Ever notice that you can feel starving after a long day at work even though you've spent it mainly at your desk? Scientists, as reported by The New York Times, say it happens because your brain, feeling tired, starts to want more fuel to keep going—even though you haven't exactly been digging ditches for eight or nine hours. The problem is that you're consuming calories your body doesn't actually need because your brain is telling you to.

One way around this dilemma is exercise. In an experiment at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, 38 college students met to discuss what their favorite pizza was. After the discussion, they were allowed to eat as much pizza as they wanted. On another day, they were brought back and given a series of tests from college entrance and graduate-level exams. Afterward, half the students worked out on treadmills while the rest sat quietly. The entire group was again served all the pizza they wanted, but the treadmill group ate less—about 25 fewer calories than at their previous session. On the other hand, the rest of the group actually ate 100 calories more.

The study suggests that a light workout after a mentally strenuous day may curb one's appetite—good to know before you sit down to eat.

Eat lots of these foods to prevent prostate cancer

Prostate cancer is one of the most common forms of cancer in men—more than 180,000 cases are diagnosed each year. Diet can be a factor, doctors say, especially one of foods high in saturated fats found in meat and dairy products. Men may be able to reduce their risk of developing prostate cancer by eating more of these healthy foods:

- Broccoli. Benefits: Low in carbohydrates and rich in antioxidants and phytochemicals that may prevent cell changes contributing to cancer.
- Salmon. Benefits: Lots of omega-3 fatty acids that can inhibit prostate cancer.
- Brazil nuts. Benefits: Selenium; six to eight nuts contain 700 percent of a daily serving.
- Tomatoes. Benefits: Lycopene. Men who eat 10 portions of tomatoes a week may reduce their risk of prostate cancer by 18 percent.
- Walnuts. Benefits: Walnuts and walnut oil have been shown to reduce levels of the hormone IGF-1, which has been linked to prostate cancer.
- Coffee. Benefits: Antioxidants, as well as stimulating the body to metabolize sugars more efficiently. Green tea shares similar qualities.

The five-second rule may not be so safe after all

We've all heard of the five-second rule: If a piece of food drops on the floor, it's safe to eat if you grab it in five seconds or less. That may not be true, though, according to an article on the Medical News Today website.

Researchers at Rutgers University decided to test the rule. They used four types of surfaces: stainless steel, ceramic tile, wood, and carpet. They also choose four kinds of food: watermelon, bread, bread with butter, and gummy candy. Finally, they tested four different contact times: less than a second, five seconds, 30 seconds, and 300 seconds.

They cultivated bacteria similar to salmonella and spread it on the different surfaces, allowed it to dry, then dropped each food on each surface for each designated time period. The results: The bacteria was able to contaminate the food almost instantly in every case, although with different degrees of contamination. Watermelon soaked up the most bacteria because of its moisture; the gummy treats were affected the least due to their hard surface. Nonetheless, the scientists are confident that their findings disprove the five-second rule. So you're probably safer throwing out any food on the floor.

Plutonian moon's red spot explained

Jupiter is famous for its great red spot, but it's not the only red patch in the solar system. Charon, a moon of Pluto, also sports a reddish blotch near its north polar region, and scientists now know what causes it, according to the Sci-News website.

The spot, nicknamed Mordor Macula, covers an area the size of New Mexico, and is made of methane that comes from Pluto. Once the methane escapes Pluto's atmosphere, it falls to the surface of Charon's north pole and then freezes (winter temperatures in Charon's polar region can drop as low as negative 430 Fahrenheit). UV light from the sun turns the methane into heavier hydrocarbons that eventually become reddish organic materials known as tholins.

Data came from the New Horizons space probe. One of the project's scientists characterized the discovery as the realization that Pluto is a cosmic graffiti artist, spray-painting its nearest neighbor red.

Marriage in trouble? Watch for these signs

Just because you're not having fights with your spouse doesn't mean everything is fine in your marriage. It could be in trouble without you and your partner realizing it. Watch for these signs that you need to get back on track:

- Your partner isn't first on your list. When you've got big news, whom do you tell first? If it's not your spouse, you may be disconnecting from him or her. Communicating about what's important to both of you is vital in an honest, healthy relationship.
- You're focused on yourself. Strong marriages rest on mutual goals. If you forget your partner's needs while making your own plans, he or she may begin to do the same. Although you each may want some personal time, carve out time to spend with each other—talking, taking a walk, watching a movie, or something else you both enjoy.
- You compare your spouse to others. Try to avoid thoughts like, "I wish Lynda was more like Diane," or "Why doesn't he bring me flowers like Paula's husband?" Comparisons lead to dissatisfaction and resentment. Be open about what you want so your partner has a chance to fulfill your needs.
- You lead separate lives. You may not be fighting, but you're also not doing much together. Do you watch separate TV shows, go to bed at different times, eat meals without the other person? Make more of an effort to get in sync so you don't find yourself living alone without actually moving out.

Quick hits

Want to liven up the conversation at your next party? Try some of these one-liners:

- "I've been diagnosed with a certain type of brain disorder where I deny the existence of certain 1980s rock bands. There is no Cure."
- "My wife probably tells me I never listen to her."
- "And the award for best neckwear goes to ... well, look at that. It was a tie."
- "No matter how nice your son or daughter is, German children are kinder."
- "Thank you for my student loans. I don't think I can ever repay you."

Monthly

National Bath Safety Awareness Month. In the United States, an average of 370 people across all age groups suffer bathtub or shower-related injuries every day. Slips, falls, and hot-water burns are the prime causes of accidents in the bath and the second leading cause of accidental death and disability. Remember: Bath safety is an integral part of general home safety.

National Blood Donor Month. Some give blood because they've been asked to. Some know a family member or a friend who might need blood someday. Some simply believe it's the right thing to do. Whatever your reason, the need is constant and your donation is important to maintaining a healthy and reliable blood supply.

National Stalking Awareness Month. The National Center for Victims of Crime launched National Stalking Awareness Month (NSAM) in January 2004 to increase the public's understanding of the crime of stalking. The National Stalking Awareness Month website (www.stalkingawarenessmonth.org), launched in January 2009, provides a wealth of information about this crime and about the nationwide observance.

National Train Your Dog Month. The Association of Professional Dog Trainers began the National Train Your Dog Month campaign in 2010 to raise awareness of the importance of socialization and training, to inform the public that training your dog can be easy and fun, and to help new pet parents start off the year right with their newest family member.

Weekly

Diet Resolution Week, Jan. 1-7. This week is about focusing and altering the types of food you consume rather than just reducing the amount. Try eating at least one piece of produce every day (fruit or vegetable), eating fish at least once a month (once a week would be better), and drinking at least two glasses of water a day.

National Sugar Awareness Week, Jan. 16-20. Can you go five days without sugar? Take the challenge to find out how difficult finding foods that do not contain some form of sugar can be, as well as how this substance can affect your body, mind, emotions, and life.

No Name-Calling Week, Jan 16-20. No Name-Calling Week was inspired by the popular young adult novel The Misfits, by James Howe. The No Name-Calling Week Coalition was created by GLSEN and Simon & Schuster Children's publishing and has been adopted by schools around the U.S., growing into one of the largest bullying-prevention initiatives in the country.

Oldest fossils may have evolved during hellish times

The world's oldest fossils have been discovered in Greenland, according to The New York Times. The fossils, known as stromalites (mounds that have built up over time around single-celled microbes called cyanobacteria) were found in an outcrop of rock called the Isua supracrustal belt on the southwest coast of Greenland.

The stromalites are 220 million years older than stromalites found in western Australia, previously thought to be the world's oldest fossils at 3.48 billion years old. If they're confirmed as evidence of ancient microbial life, the fossils will push back the estimated date of the formation of life on Earth to about four billion years ago, during a period when the planet was bombarded by meteors that turned oceans into steam and the surface into lava—a time dubbed the Hadean stage of Earth's history.

Genes may control your coffee intake

The amount of coffee you drink may be based on your genetic makeup. A study by an international team of researchers, written up in the journal Scientific Reports, identified a gene that regulates the expression of other genes connected to caffeine metabolism.

The gene, PDSS2, hampers cells' ability to break caffeine down, which causes it to remain in the body longer. Thus, people with the gene will feel the effects of caffeine longer, reducing their desire for more.

The scientists examined genetic data from two groups of people in Italy, and they asked participants to record how many cups of coffee they drank each day. People with a variation in their PDSS2 gene tended to drink less coffee than those without the variant. The study was replicated in a similar study carried out in the Netherlands.

So if someone ever tells you that you're drinking too much coffee, you can blame it on your genes.

There is no adequate defense, except stupidity, against the impact of a new idea.

Pew-pew-pew! Gaming racks up high scores—and sales

Americans love their games, especially the electronic variety. The Entertainment Software Association surveyed more than 4,000 U.S. households on their gaming habits. If you’ve ever spent 12 hours slaughtering virtual zombies, these findings might be of interest:

Sixty-three percent of U.S. households in the survey have at least one frequent gamer. Forty-seven percent of gamers are between 18 and 49 years old. The average male gamer? He’s 35 years old; the average female gamer is 44. The typical frequent game purchaser is 38; 60 percent of them are men.

They’re spending a lot, too. Gamers spent $23.5 billion on gaming in 2015, $16.5 billion on gaming content alone.

We’re living longer (at least some of us are)

Life expectancy has increased by five years since the year 2000, according to the World Health Organization, but like many things, it’s not evenly distributed. Here’s a look at the average life expectancy at birth in the top and bottom five nations:

Highest		Lowest
• Japan	83.7	• Cote d’Ivoire	53.3
• Switzerland	83.4	• Chad	53.1
• Singapore	83.1	• Cent. African Republic	52.5
• Australia	82.8	• Angola	52.4
• Spain	82.8	• Sierra Leone	50.1

Women in Japan can expect to live the longest—86.8 years. For men, the highest life expectancy is in Switzerland, where the average male lives to 81.3 years.

Punctuation is powerful

Maria Feodorovna, the wife of Tsar Alexander III of Russia, was known for her charitable works. According to one story, she once saved a condemned man from exile in Siberia by moving a single comma in the warrant signed by her husband.

The original document read: “Pardon impossible, to be sent to Siberia.” The Empress moved the comma so the warrant read: “Pardon, impossible to be sent to Siberia.” The man was saved and released.

Entice children and grandchildren to go on walks

Taking a walk is one of the simplest forms of exercise you can imagine. It’s also a fun way to spend time with your family, especially your children. Try these tips for getting them out of the house and on the trail:

- Make it an adventure. Don’t just say, “Let’s go for a walk.” Spark your child’s interest with something like, “Let’s look for leaves to collect,” or “Let’s find some animal footprints.” This makes the walk sound like more of an activity and less like a chore.
- Think ahead. Before setting off, think about where you want to go. Will it be safe for your child? You don’t want to wear children out, let them get too muddy, or force them to dodge cars and other obstacles. Plan a short walk at first. If children are still enthusiastic, you can always lengthen it.
- Walk at your child’s pace. Don’t make it a race (unless your child actually wants to run one). Match your speed to your child’s. Encourage kids to stop and look at things—bugs, rocks, trees, etc. Be willing to go off and explore in a different direction if your child wants.
- Take your pet. Most children love animals. If you don’t have a dog of your own, ask your neighbors if they’d like you to take their dog for a walk. Children will get a chance to run and play, making the walk more energetic and enjoyable.
- Dress appropriately. Make sure you and your children have the right shoes and other clothes. Sunscreen and hats are a must for bright days. Dress in layers so you can add or remove clothing depending on the temperature. If the weather is wet, wear boots.

"...I am so happy with my new windows...I'd like to commend your work crew. Earbie and Larry were fantastic! I couldn't believe the clean-up EVERYDAY! The whole job took just a week even with all the rain delays. I would and WILL highly recommend your company to my friends and neighbors. Of course I won't need to say a word – the house is doing all the talking! Thank you so much for my beautiful new house."

Carol Zapiecki, Clearwater, FL

"Just a short note to express my appreciation for the work done on my mobile home. The crews that worked here...were gentlemen at all times, efficient, knowledgeable and prompt. You can be sure if I run into anybody who needs your type of work, I will surely recommend your company. It has been a very satisfying experience!"

Use limitations to your advantage

Sometimes our limitations and constraints force us to find creative solutions. Here are two examples:

- Django Reinhardt. This jazz musician had two fingers fused together due to an accident as a child. Undaunted, he learned to play the guitar with his remaining fingers and became internationally famous—so much so that Black Sabbath guitarist Tony Iommi copied Django’s technique when he lost the tips of his right hand’s middle and ring fingers in an accident at a sheet metal factory.
- Sir Richard Branson. The British businessman has turned his dyslexia into an advantage. He says it’s forced him get better at hiring and delegating, and prevents him from micro-managing employees’ tasks because sometimes he literally can’t take over.

Making the bed

South African leader Nelson Mandela was known for many things, not the least of which was his humility even after he became famous around the world. Mandela always made his own bed, no matter where he traveled. One time he was visiting Shanghai, where he stayed in a very fancy hotel. Chinese hospitality requires that you allow the maid to clean your room. Doing it yourself can be regarded as an insult.

An aide tried to explain this to Mandela. In response, the leader asked for his maids to be sent up to his room. The aide talked to the hotel manager, and soon Mandela was speaking to the staff. He explained that he always made his own bed wherever he was, and the maids agreed.

“He never really cared about what great big people think of him,” the aide wrote later, “but he did care about what small people thought of him.”

No magic

An elderly gentleman was being treated by his doctor. “You’re in pretty good shape for a man your age,” she said. “But I’m only a doctor, not a magician. I can’t make you any younger.”

“I know that,” the man said. “All I want is to go on getting older.”
