Veteran's Corner

While serving as an Army Combat Infantry soldier in Vietnam,

I take this opportunity to write about the Doctors in Vietnam that served in both military and humanitarian roles, providing crucial medical care to U.S. and allied service members as well as civilian Vietnamese. The doctors work, often performed under difficult conditions and close to the front lines, led to significant advancements in combat medicine that influenced civilian practices.

U.S. military doctors were integral to the medical support system, which eventually supported over 500,000 service members, across all branches, including the Army, Navy and Air Force, at various facilities such as station hospitals, onboard hospital ships, and in the field with Marine Corps and Army units.

Working under enemy fire, trauma surgeons treated immediate combat casualties. Flight surgeons and medical officers served with aeromedical evacuation units (Dustoff helicopters) where life-saving care was often performed in flight.

The impact on Medicine by these doctors that experienced the treatment of severe, high-velocity trauma in Vietnam accelerated medical advancements in areas like vascular surgery, aeromedical evacuation, and prehospital care, which were later adopted into civilian practice. Physicians volunteered for two-month tours of service, working in under-equipped Vietnamese civilian hospitals for a nominal daily stipend. Doctors treated common diseases like tuberculosis, malaria and cholera as well as war-related orthopedic injuries. US doctors worked alongside other international teams and the few remaining Vietnamese civilian doctors, facing a ratio of one doctor for every 50,000 civilians.

I respectfully wish to thank these unsung heroes of the Vietnam War, for their sacrifice and support.

I remain grateful,

Sergeant Anthony Suglia
Command Sergeant Major, Retired, Infantry
United States Army
A proud Vietnam Veteran

February Birthstones

The birthstone for February is amethyst, a beautiful purple variety of quartz that ranges in color from light lilac to deep violet. Historically, amethyst has symbolized royalty, peace, and tranquility, and it was believed to protect against drunkenness. The name "amethyst" comes from the Greek word "methustos," which means "intoxicated".

Meaning and symbolism: The gemstone represents deep love, humility, sincerity, happiness, and purification.

Color: Amethyst comes in shades of purple, from a pale lilac to a deep, rich violet.

Historical belief: Ancient Greeks and Romans believed that amethyst could protect them from drunkenness.

Modern usage: Today, amethyst is a popular gemstone for jewelry, valued for its color and affordability.

February Fun Facts

February, named for Roman purification rituals, is the calendar's shortest month (28/29 days) and a time for celebrations like Black History Month, Valentine's Day, and Groundhog Day; historically, it saw the addition of the month to the Roman calendar, the end of the Battle of Stalingrad, the ratification of the U.S. 15th Amendment, and birthdays of figures like Abraham Lincoln.

Name Origin:

Comes from the Latin "februum," meaning purification, linked to the Roman festival Februa.

Shortest Month:

Originally 29 days, then made 28 because even numbers were unlucky; it's the only month with fewer than 30 days.

Leap Year:

An extra day (February 29th) is added every four years to align with Earth's orbit.

February 2026 is filled with observances like Black History Month, Valentine's Day (Feb 14), Groundhog Day (Feb 2), the NFL Championship (Feb 8), and fun "national days" for things like Tater Tots, Nutella, and Carrot Cake, plus it's a month for health awareness like American Heart Month, with unique events like World Nutella Day, International Day of Women & Girls in Science, and celebrating traditions like Imbolc.

February's leap day (the 29th) exists because Earth's orbit isn't exactly 365 days, requiring an extra day every four years (mostly) to realign calendars with seasons, a system introduced by Julius Caesar and refined by Pope Gregory XIII. "Leaplings" born on Feb. 29 have unique traditions, like women proposing to men, but some cultures deem it unlucky, while a few companies skip recognizing it as a legal day.

Traditions & Facts

- Leaplings: People born on February 29 are called "leapers" or "leaplings".
- Proposals: In some traditions, February 29 is the one day women are permitted to propose marriage.
- Superstitions: Some cultures, like Italy, consider leap years unlucky ("Anno bisesto, anno funesto").
- Legal Status: Some companies don't recognize February 29 as a legal day, forcing leaplings to pick Feb 28 or Mar 1 for official dates.

Did You Know?

Due to the extra 'r' in the word February, it is considered one of the most misspelt words in the English language, along with words like 'Definitely' and 'Believe'.

Monthly

African American History Month. An annual observance to recognize and commemorate African American culture, African American History Month (or Black History Month) is celebrated annually in the United States and Canada in February, and in the United Kingdom in October.

Dog Training Education Month. Every day of the month, perform one training activity with your dog: jumping, herding, racing, etc. By the end of the month, you'll notice an improvement in your dog's temperament, and you'll share a closer bond.

National Haiku Writing Month. Write one haiku a day throughout February—the shortest month for the world's shortest genre of poetry. Don't think writing a good haiku is easy, though. As French philosopher and literary theorist Roland Barthes once observed, "Haiku has this rather fantasmagorical property: That we always suppose we ourselves can write such things easily."

Teen Dating Violence Awareness Month. A national effort to raise awareness about abuse in teen and 20-something relationships and promote programs that prevent it. One in three teens in the United States will experience physical, sexual, or emotional abuse by a partner in a relationship before they become adults. Spread awareness, and stop dating abuse before it starts.

Weekly

Burn Awareness Week, Feb. 1-7. Observed the first full week in February, Burn Awareness Week is intended to provide an opportunity for burn, fire, and life safety educators to share the message of burn awareness and prevention in communities around the nation.

National School Counseling Week, Feb. 1-5. This year's theme, "School Counseling: Helping Students Realize Their Potential," will focus public attention on the unique contribution of school counselors and highlight the tremendous impact they can have in helping students achieve school success and plan for a career.

Children of Alcoholics Week, Feb. 8-14. A campaign led by the National Association for Children of Alcoholics (NACOA) to raise awareness of children affected by parental alcohol problems. Children of Alcoholics Week is celebrated internationally each year during the week in which Valentine's Day falls.

National Invasive Species Awareness Week, Feb. 23-27. Raise awareness and identify solutions to invasive species issues at local, state, tribal, regional, international, and national levels. Participating organizations include the Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies, the Environmental Law Institute, and the Nature Conservancy.

Meeting of minds

The famous movie actor/director Charlie Chaplin once met the world-renowned physicist Albert Einstein at a public event. According to the Storypick website, Einstein told the comedian: “What I most admire about your art is your universality. You don’t say a word, yet the world understands you.”

To which Chaplin replied, “True. But your glory is even greater. The whole world admires you, even though they don’t understand a word of what you say.”

Mistaken identity

Even Queen Elizabeth II sometimes goes unrecognized. A story from the Hello magazine website tells of a time when the queen’s car drove up to the Royal Windsor Horse Show in 1991. A guard walked up and told her, “Sorry, love, you can’t come in without a sticker.”

Unfazed, her majesty answered, “I think if you check, I will be allowed to come in.”

He did, and she was. The guard admitted later that he’d thought the queen was just “some old dear” who was lost.

Penalty box

Gordie Howe was one of the greatest hockey players of all time. One night his team, the Detroit Red Wings, was playing the Toronto Maple Leafs at Maple Leaf Gardens. Howe believed one referee was favoring the home team, so he skated over and asked, “Hey, refer, what would you do if I called you a homer?” (a sports official who makes obvious calls for the home team.)

“I’d have to give you two minutes in the penalty box,” the ref replied.

“What would you do if I only thought you were a homer?”

“I couldn’t do anything. Your thoughts are your own.”

“Good, because I think you’re a ----ing homer!”

And yes, Howe got two minutes in the penalty box.

A little praise

As a speechwriter for presidents Ronald Reagan and George H.W. Bush, Peggy Noonan introduced such phrases as “a thousand points of light” into the vernacular. But she derived her greatest personal satisfaction from a simple note of praise.

As recounted in her book, What I Saw at the Revolution (Ivy Books), four months into her job as Reagan’s speechwriter, Noonan had yet to meet the boss. Then he returned the draft of one of her speeches bearing the hand-scrawled words “Very Good.”

Noonan was overjoyed—so overjoyed that she cut out the note, taped it to her blouse, and walked the halls beaming with the pride of a schoolgirl who’d suddenly discovered she was teacher’s pet.

Handling the press

Rock star David Bowie knew how to charm reporters. According to the Digital Spy website, when a magazine ran a series on some of the journalists who’d interviewed him over the years, they discovered that he’d played the same trick on them over and over again:

Bowie would schedule a 45-minute interview. When his aide came in to show the reporter out, he’d say, “Look, I know we’re on a schedule, but we’re having such fun here, could we do an extra 15 minutes?” Every journalist felt flattered by the attention, which usually resulted in a positive review of whatever album Bowie was publicizing. Only years later did they realize that he’d scheduled them for a full hour all along.

Daydreaming can be good for you

Daydreams aren't necessarily a waste of time. We daydream for different reasons, but it can have a positive affect on your life and career. Consider these facts about daydreaming from the LiveScience website:

- Daydreaming can be controlled—up to a point. Most people daydream intentionally because they're bored or working on something simple. When tasks require more concentration, drifting off is less frequent, but still happens.
- Blinking is a clue. Wonder if someone is daydreaming while you're talking? Look closely at their eyes. Studies show that people blink more often and more rapidly when they daydream.
- Daydreaming can help with problem solving. Let your mind wander when you're working on a tough problem. Scientists have observed that the areas of the brain involved in problem solving turn more active when we daydream.

These thoughtful habits can spark your imagination

Even if you don't think of yourself as the creative type, you can always amp your imagination up with a little effort. Keep this advice in mind when you're searching for an original idea or an innovative solution:

- Meditate. Spend some time each day visualizing something pleasant and peaceful. It doesn't have to relate to anything you're working on—just picture a lake, a forest, or even a loved one. You'll relax your brain and body while creating a mental environment that attracts fresh thinking.
- Pretend. Look at ordinary objects around you and pretend they're something different. Your pen is a magic wand, for example, or a pair of scissors is a spaceship. Explore the premise, and you'll teach your mind to look at everything a little differently.
- Try something new. Break out of your routine on a regular basis. Read a book on a subject you're unfamiliar with, try a new sport, talk to someone you don't know well. Different experiences can help loosen up stiff ways of thinking about things.
- Commit some art. Try sketching a picture or writing a poem. It doesn't have to be a masterpiece. Just give yourself mind and body space to roam in a fresh direction. You may see and hear the world differently later.
