Hurricane Preparedness 2026

Cindy Taylor, Editor

Over the past few years, our park has experienced firsthand the impacts of powerful storms, including Hurricanes Ian, Helene, and Milton. These events reminded us how vulnerable coastal communities can be and how quickly conditions can change. From high winds and heavy rainfall to power outages and flooding concerns, each storm brought its own challenges. Gateway residents experienced loss of homes, interruptions to utilities and daily routines. Cleanup and recovery required time, coordination, and neighborly support and yes, there are still items to get finished.

As we approach another hurricane season, it's important to reflect on what we've learned and take proactive steps to ensure our safety, protect our homes, and support one another before, during, and after a storm.

The 2026 Atlantic hurricane season is expected to be shaped by a developing El Niño which may lead to fewer storms compared to historical averages. Despite this, hurricane preparedness remains crucial as multiple storms could still impact the United States.

The season will officially begin on June 1, 2026, and end on November 30, 2026. The National Hurricane Center (NHC) will begin issuing regular Tropical Weather Outlooks on May 15, 2026, about two weeks prior to the start of the season.

As we look ahead to the coming season, the following preparedness tips are designed to help residents stay informed, make timely decisions, and be better prepared before the next storm threatens our community. Additional Pinellas County-specific information will be shared in the June edition of News N Dos.

- Preparation Timeline: Start preparing early, as the season officially begins on June 1.
- El Niño Impact: El Niño may lower the total storm count but will not shut down the hurricane season.
- Storm Activity: The season is expected to have 13 named storms, with six expected to strengthen into hurricanes and two reaching major hurricane status.
- Risk Awareness: Understand your risk from hurricanes and begin pre-season preparations now.
- Evacuation Planning: Have at least 2-3 evacuation routes planned and know when to evacuate.

- Home Protection: Protect your home by installing storm shutters, reinforcing storm/shed doors, and clearing gutters.
- Supplies: Have essential supplies like water, non-perishable food, medications, and a battery-powered NOAA radio.
- National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) radio - It broadcasts 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, delivering continuous local weather information straight from the nearest National Weather Service office. Unlike a regular AM/FM radio, a NOAA radio:

Sends out official alerts such as watches and warnings for hurricanes, severe storms, flooding, and other hazards

NOAA Weather Radio is often described as the “Voice of the National Weather Service” and is considered one of the most reliable ways to receive urgent weather information, especially during hurricanes and other severe events.

FYI - NOAA radios can be purchased on Amazon $30-$50.

By following these guidelines and staying informed, individuals and organizations can better prepare for the potential impact of hurricanes in 2026.

residents. His friendly conversation and willingness to mingle were truly appreciated by all who attended. Events like these are always a nice reminder of how enjoyable it is to come together, catch up, and strengthen our sense of community.

In addition to good conversation and tasty treats, we also held a 50/50 drawing, adding a bit of fun and excitement to the morning. Thank you to everyone who joined us.

Ladies Day Luncheon

Michele Johnson,

On March 17th, eight ladies carpooled to Olive Garden in Pinellas Park for a delightful outing. We enjoyed a lunch-special featuring a choice from five entrées, paired with soup and salad—and an extra entrée to take home, making it an exceptional bargain! Lively conversation around books and movies along with plenty of laughter made for a thoroughly enjoyable time together.

Men's Day Luncheon

Hiram Powell

A group of seven men gathered at Three Birds Tavern on 4th Street in St. Petersburg for the March Men's Luncheon. Burgers and Shepherd's Pie were the predominant choices to eat. We enjoyed lively conversation and the outdoor patio was a nice change from the normal indoor venue. The April luncheon info will be posted on Facebook and will be the last luncheon until Fall of 2026.

The Joy of a Potluck Dinner

Gateway Activities Organization

There's something special about a potluck dinner that goes far beyond the food. Our tables are filled with casseroles, salads, desserts, and family favorites, the real ingredient that makes a potluck memorable is community. Potluck dinners bring people together in a way few events can—encouraging connection, conversation, and shared experience.

One of the greatest joys of a potluck is the variety it offers. Each dish tells a story, whether it's a treasured family recipe passed down through generations or a new creation someone is eager to share. From comfort foods to international flavors, the variety reflects the diversity and creativity of us here at Gateway. No two potlucks are ever the same, and that sense of surprise is part of the fun.

Potluck dinners also create a welcoming, inclusive evening. Everyone contributes what they can, there's no pressure to impress—just a shared effort to create something enjoyable together.

Another benefit of a potluck is “it is simple”. We share the responsibility of providing food, no one person carries the burden, making it easier to host and attend.

Most importantly, potluck dinners remind us that food is a powerful connector. Sitting down to eat together slows us down and encourages meaningful interaction, something we all benefit from with our busy lives. Whether the event is large or small, a potluck has a way of making people feel at home. In the end, a potluck dinner isn't just about filling plates—it's about filling us with joy. It's a simple tradition that brings us together, one shared dish at a time.

Garage Sale

Bonnie Sisco

Saturday, March 7, Gateway hosted a successful park-wide yard sale, with approximately 25

Garage sales throughout the community. Hiram Powell, Matt Soehnlén and Mike Tarbet sold hot dogs, chips, cookies, and drinks at the laundromat and completely sold out. A banner was also purchased and placed on the fence at the front entrance to attract passersby. We’re already looking forward to next year and doing it all again!

POOL COURTESY – KEEPING OUR COMMUNITY POOL SAFE, CLEAN & ENJOYABLE

Matt Soehnlén, HOA President

Because our community pool is one of Gateway’s most popular places to gather—a place to cool off, relax, socialize, and enjoy the sunshine, these Pool Rules are being posted in our newsletter throughout the summer.

To keep the pool area pleasant and welcoming for everyone, we kindly ask all residents and guests to follow the guidelines provided below. Practicing good pool courtesy ensures the space remains safe, clean, and enjoyable for the entire community.

Be Considerate of Others

The pool is a shared space, so being mindful of fellow swimmers goes a long way. Please keep voices, music, and conversations at a respectful volume.

We ask all residents and guests to refrain from using profanity in shared spaces—both indoors and outdoors.

Pool chairs and furniture are for everyone’s use. Please avoid reserving chairs with towels for long periods and take care when repositioning or returning them – do not drag them, dragging damages the painted pool deck. We have new pool umbrellas. If you open the umbrellas, please close the umbrellas when you leave the pool, this added step will lengthen the life of the umbrellas. If you move furniture, kindly put it back before leaving the area. Thank you!

SAFETY IS A PRIORITY

Cindy Taylor, Editor

We know using sunscreen is a good thing – right? Just in case there is any question I found information supporting the use of sunscreen.

Is Sunscreen Safe?

As sunshine and outdoor activities increase, so do questions about sunscreen safety. According to dermatologists and major health organizations, using sunscreen as directed is both safe and essential for protecting your skin.

Ultraviolet (UV) rays from the sun damage skin cells and are the leading cause of skin cancer. Regular sunscreen use has been shown to reduce the risk of melanoma and other skin cancers and help prevent premature aging such as wrinkles and sunspots.

Both mineral sunscreens (zinc oxide or titanium dioxide) and chemical sunscreens are regulated by the FDA and approved for use. While some ingredients can be absorbed in small amounts, medical experts agree there is no evidence of harm when products are used as directed—and the dangers of unprotected sun exposure far outweigh any theoretical risks.

For best protection, choose a broad spectrum sunscreen with SPF 30 or higher, reapply every two hours, and combine sunscreen with hats, sunglasses, and shade when possible.

Protecting your skin today helps safeguard your health tomorrow.

Florida Sun Safety Tip

Living in Florida means sun exposure is stronger and more constant year round. Dermatologists note that UV rays are intensified by reflection off water, white sand, sidewalks, and pool decks, which can lead to faster sunburn—especially at the beach or on the water, where cooling breezes can mask skin damage.

Gateway residents let's take extra care during peak sun hours, typically 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and protect our skin and health!

Gateway let's do "Safety as a Priority".
