LIBRARY

Juno Rushdan wrote the book Nothing to Fear.

Synopsis: Heads are going to roll. Someone got into this secret government facility and killed a suspect. There is a mole here in the Gray Box! It is imperative he or she is caught immediately. All evidence points to Willow, a cryptologist. Can it really be her? She is a loner with no social skills and most term her as “odd” or “dweeb”. Gideon Stone is tasked to get close to her and find out. But something tells him if he doesn’t get her out of the building in the next few minutes she will be dead before nightfall.

This book is action packed and, of course, there is romance.

Juno Rushdan draws from real life inspiration as a former U S A F Intelligence officer. A native New Yorker, her wanderlust has taken Juno across the Globe. When she isn’t writing Juno loves spending time with her family in Virginia.

The library is located at Lot 231 and is open daily 10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. We have WiFi and air. We also have a lot more than books. There are DVDs, puzzles, CDs, books on tapes, and so much more. Come in, select something, take it home and enjoy.

Please remember to shut the door and turn off the lights when you leave.

FROM THE OFFICE

As most of you know, Joelle and I have worked by ourselves on and off since the end of April. Hopefully we will both be in the office going forward, except for 10 days in September when I will be up north. If you have a general question or concern, you can send it via email; I monitor it 7 days a week, even when I am out of town.

I was recently gone for a long weekend for my youngest Great Granddaughter's 2nd birthday and received news that she would be a "Big Sister" this March!

Hurricane guides are available in the office. The following are a few things learned after Hurricane Milton visited us last year.

1. Some people were without power for 8 weeks. The Park is not responsible for "Act of God" events; rent remains due, and it is up to each resident to make alternate living arrangements in case of an extended length of no power, damage arising to mobile/carport due to storm, etc. The park will facilitate getting your power back on; once Duke Energy has fixed any issue from their end, then we contact our electrician to come out and do the next step, which may involve permitting.....City of Largo is very slow on getting permits okayed, even during a major damage event. A licensed contractor is required. City codes are constantly changing; mobile homes need to have 100-amp service, so if you lose power and need work done by our electrician, you will be responsible for bringing your service up to date. NO homeowner or electrician, who is not park approved, will be allowed to do anything to the electric pole, breakers, etc. Duke Energy's responsibility ends at the top of the meter; Embassy owns the box, breakers, wires, (and 80% of the poles) leaving the box to go into your house. This is where the homeowner's responsibility begins, from the pole into your home. Even though Roy and I were doing everything possible to get power restored, residents started calling our electrical company directly.....Embassy is paying them, not you, so these senseless, non-stop calls only make the job take longer. The same thing goes for Duke Energy; they only need one call to generate a service call, then you need to just wait until a crew can get here. Once they arrive, stay away from them, let them do their job---working with electricity is dangerous enough without them being bothered with all the "Can't fix Stupid" questions. I have instructed our electrical company to not take calls from individual residents; Embassy is paying the bill, so they only need to answer to Roy or Myself.

2. FYI---carports are required on each mobile, and they require a permit (several residents did not get a permit and are now dealing with the City of Largo). There are a few carports still missing; they are either under contract or waiting on FEMA money. DO NOT rely on FEMA money! They may be able to help out with emergency shelters and food, but due to all the natural disasters (hurricanes, tornados, fires, etc.) they are underfunded. You must be able to show proof of ownership of your mobile, so make sure you have an up-to-date title, which means in your name, or you may not receive any help.

3. There are no “safe” structures on Embassy property, so plan accordingly. If there is an extended period of power loss and the Clubhouse has power, I will keep it open so residents can charge their devices, use any medical equipment that may be needed, or just enjoy the a/c. Please clean up after yourselves; everyone did an amazing job of cleaning the last time this happened. The pool is required to be closed if the power is out due to health concerns when the water is not being circulated.

There are several pamphlets in the office; we have one discussing what to do to cut down on mosquitoes in your yard, mosquito bites can cause several serious viruses. We also have one on wild life and things you can do to keep them out of your yard or out from under your mobile. Park rules require mobiles to have cement blocks supporting them, all the way around, and I have been sending out letters to those who don’t. One of the hardest things to deal with is when you follow the rules, but your neighbor doesn’t. Please use the complaint forms on the office door, this gives me documentation in case I have to evict someone for not following the rules.

If you lose something in the park (Think car keys, sunglasses, jewelry) it usually ends up in the office, so be sure to notify us if you have misplaced something.

Surviving in this heat takes a little work.....remember to change your a/c filters, even mini splits have filters. A dirty filter makes your unit work harder and causes them to use more power than necessary. I know a lot of us moved here for the sunshine and weather, but closing your window treatments keeps the heat out during the day. Keep your thermostats between 77 and 80 degrees, your body will adapt to the temperature. When it is 100+ outside, it will feel cool coming into 80 degrees!

SIMPLE SUMMER BINGO

The group attending our “Simple Summer Bingo” on Saturday, July 26th was small (11 people) but 8 of the 11 won money. That’s 72% of attendees who won. You won’t get better odds than that playing the lottery!

Even though the number of players was small, the prizes were still respectable: the Bonanza game paid $66; payouts ranged from $7 for a single bingo to the jackpot at the end of the afternoon for $30. Jessie was the lucky winner of the 50-50 drawing ($23).

We will continue having bingo on the fourth Saturday of each month running through September (possibly October) and encourage everyone to join us for the fun. This isn’t an all afternoon affair; cards are sold from 1:00 - 1:45 p.m. and bingo starts promptly at 2:00 p.m. We are done and on our way home by 4:00. So, if you’re tired of sitting at home, doing nothing day in and day out all summer, come join your friends and neighbors for an afternoon of fun at the clubhouse.

Remember! A-L-L money collected on the sale of cards is awarded as prizes each month. There will be a 50/50 drawing to defray the cost of refreshments (think cupcakes, cookies and punch) during intermission.

Flyers are posted with specific details. We’d love to see you there.

HURRICANE TIPS

(Tricks to Beat the Heat When Power is Out)

There are many, many things to think/worry about during hurricane season in Florida. I've tried to give you hints on evacuation, shelters, preparing your to-go bag, and general steps to keep you safe during a hurricane.

This article is more intended as an “after the storm“ tip. The 2024 hurricane season was rather active. Embassy Park, along with the majority of Pinellas County, suffered a lengthy power outage during Hurricane Milton. Should this happen again, here are some tips I've gleaned from various sources on how to keep yourself cool — and hydrated — in the event of another power outage.

1. Block out the heat. Start by closing blinds and curtains. Keep windows and drapes shut during the hottest part of the day to trap cooler air inside and keep the heat outside.
2. Do it yourself cooling tricks. Use damp washcloths, ice packs, or frozen water bottles on pulse points to get quick, localized relief. Another popular trick is to place a bowl of ice or frozen packs in front of a battery-operated fan to create a mini air conditioner effect.
3. Hydration. Drink water frequently — even if you don't feel thirsty. Staying hydrated helps cool your body and regulate its temperature. For an extra boost, snack on foods like watermelon, cucumbers, and leafy green vegetables as they are refreshing and packed with water.
4. Prepare for the next outage. If a power outage catches you off guard, don't let it happen twice. Build a simple emergency cooling kit; include battery-operated or rechargeable fans, cooling towels, ice packs, and plenty of extra water. Keep frozen water bottles in the freezer year-round so they'll be available, if needed. Once the ice is thawed, you can drink the water as a source of hydration.

Of course, we all hope that we will be spared from any major hurricanes this year. But should one strike, accompanied by a days-long power outage, the above tips should help you get through the long, hot days.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Some of you may remember that last year, on Labor Day, the New York Club hosted an ice cream social. The event was a success, so the New York Club is offering it again this year.

When: Monday, September 1

Where: The Clubhouse

Time: 1:00 - 2:00 p.m.

This is a 100% FREE event. However, 50/50 tickets will be sold to defray expenses.

Everyone is welcome. This is yet another opportunity for you to get out of the house and socialize with your friends and neighbors. And who can resist free ice cream?

Submitted by Joelle Byron, New York Club President

COMEDY SHOW

In the April 2025 issue of the “News and Views” I extolled the talents of the performers and support crew that put on the Embassy Comedy Show. This is an annual event sponsored by the Embassy Social Club. All the performers are Embassy residents who put themselves out there to entertain a room full of their friends and neighbors. And I am happy to say that the performances I witnessed back in March were the best I’ve seen in several years of attending the comedy show.

Lynn Turner, director, made it a point to ensure all skits contained never before seen or heard material. And boy, were some of them original! I’m not sure where the performers got their ideas, but I envy their creativity and sense of abandonment for the enjoyment of others.

In case you missed the one-night-only performance, here are some of my favorite pictures from the evening.

And just in case you feel like you were missing out, plans are already underway for a new Comedy Night in March 2026. Keep your eyes peeled for articles in the “News and Views” as well as flyers announcing ticket sales and dates.

Submitted by Yvette Novak, Social Club President

WHERE DID IT GO?

And, just like that, summer is over. Can you believe it?!? Outside temps are still pushing 100° every day, yet talks are already in progress for a Halloween Dance in October and a Holiday Dinner in December.

Halloween Street Dance

The Social Club Board is hosting a street dance for Halloween. We haven't worked out all the details yet, but what I can tell you is the event will be absolutely FREE. What we know so far is:

When: Friday, October 31

Where: Fourth Street, in front of the clubhouse

Time: 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Admission: FREE! However, 50/50 tickets will be sold to defray some of the cost.

Other details are being worked out as this issue goes to publication. Watch for flyers to get posted in the coming weeks.

Holiday Dinner

At the last Social Club meeting of the 2024/25 season (April 2025), the group decided to have a combined holiday meal rather than Thanksgiving dinner on Thanksgiving Day and Christmas dinner on Christmas Day. There was much discussion around the topic, but the overall sense was most individuals are either busy with family and/or visitors or are preoccupied with their own individual holiday plans. Therefore, since we do like to get together and eat at Embassy Park, the group decided to have a combined holiday meal between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Other than choosing a date:

December 7

There are no details available regarding time, menu, or ticket price and availability. I will do my best to keep you updated as details are finalized. As always, there will eventually be flyers posted telling everyone when tickets will be available and at what cost.

EMBASSY LUNCHEON

We didn't have a luncheon during the month of August because too many people were away on vacation or had other plans. Patricia and Sharie have volunteered to host the September luncheon, and they have decided to revisit the OCC Roadhouse (some of you may recognize this as the location from our July luncheon). Everyone who attended the July luncheon commented that they had either not eaten here before or that this was one of their favorite places. No one complained about the food or the prices.

So, mark your calendars. A sign-up sheet will go up shortly. You really should try to attend the September luncheon.

Where: O. C. C. Roadhouse

When: Thursday, September 11

Time: 11:30 a.m.

NOTE: Contact Patricia or Sharie if you need a ride. They will gladly arrange a carpool to ensure everyone who wishes is able to attend.

IS IT A SCAM?

Officer Keith Bowling, our Largo Police Department Community Liaison Officer, recently shared — with our Neighborhood Watch group — pamphlets and flyers regarding scams and how to avoid them. Because many scammers target the senior communities, I feel it prudent to share these hints/tips with you.

What do scammers want? Scammers are dishonest people who lie to convince you to send money. Other scammers just want your personal information like username and password for your bank account or credit card and Social Security number.

What are the signs of a scam? Scammers tell many different stories to try to get your money or information, but they usually have some things in common:

1. They contact you and say there's a problem. They might lie and say you owe the government money or pretend someone in your family has had an emergency. But there's no real problem or emergency; they just make it up to get your money or information. IRS never call
2. Scammers tell you to hurry. They don't want you to take the time to think or check out their story. Some say you'll be arrested if you don't act quickly.

3. Scammers tell you to pay, and they tell you how to pay. Scammers often say you can only pay by buying a gift card and giving them the numbers on the back, wiring money through MoneyGram or Western Union, sending cryptocurrency, or using their payment app. In case you are unaware, all of these payment methods are the same as using cash. Once you've spent the money, there's no getting it back
4. How to protect yourself from scammers. There are many ways to protect yourself when targeted by a scammer. Such as (1) don't respond to unexpected calls, emails, or texts that ask for money or personal information; (2) take your time to make a decision because anyone who pressures you to pay or give them information immediately is a scammer; (3) never pay someone who insists you can only pay with a gift card, wire transfer, cryptocurrency, or payment app.

If you feel that you have been targeted by a scammer or victimized by a scammer, you should make an immediate report to the Largo Police Department non-emergency number listed on the inside front cover of this issue, and also make a report to the Federal Trade Commission by going online to REPORTFRAUD.FTC.GOV or call 1-877-382-4357.
